'Radio Mirror' Balloon Bounces Human's Voice

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va., (UPI) — The Civilian Space Agency rocketed a 100-foot "radio-mirror" balloon into space Saturday over the Atlantic Coast and reported success in bouncing a human voice transmission off the sphere's aluminized surface.

The National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) said the inflated space balloon, visible to ground viewers for hundreds of miles along the Atlantic seaboard, travelled eastward about 540 miles over the Atlantic Ocean. It eventually fell discarded into the ocean.

NASA said a taped voice transmission sent by Bell Telephone Laboratories, Holmdel, N. J., was reported received by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology communications facility at Round Hill, Mass.

FIRST

"This is the first time," NASA said, "a voice transmission has been reflected off a sphere" such as this test vehicle.

The launching at NASA's Atlantic Coast test center here was cited as a prelude to eventually launching into orbit a passive communications satellite that holds huge commercial potentialities as a method of reflecting radio and television broadcasts.

The 130-pound balloon—a thick plastic bag impregnated with aluminum—was folded into a 26-inch container before being ejected and inflated in space.

It was visible far north as Montreal as it hung in the clear evening sky, reflecting the rays of the setting sun, already below the horizon at sea level. Dr. Robert A. Dicke, director of the Air Force Office of Scientific Research, called to report a "star-like glowing object," or a white light trailed by rocket smoke.

First Formal Board Contest Entry Made

The first formal announcement of candidacy in the spring City School Board election was issued yesterday by auto dealer J. H. "Slim" Scoggin Jr.

Scoggin's announcement came as a survey revealed that 10 persons, including three of the present five members, are seeking or considering running for board posts in the Democratic primary which will be held in May.

Date of the election will be set by the City Democratic Committee in the near future.

INDICATED

Two members of the present board, Mrs. Anna Gray Nee and E. J. Jones, have indicated they will not seek re-election. Both will have completed eight years, or two terms, at the conclusion of this session.

Known to be seeking re-election are Tom H. Scott, president of the board, Grayson Guthrie, and Billy Gannaway.

Declared as "definitely running" are Frank C. Breese, 400 Forsythe Ave., local insurance executive; Harry Greenwood, 410 Georgia Street, service station owner and operator; Bobby C. Pappas, 3408 Loop Road, restaurant owner and operator; and W. E. Whetstone, telephone company executive.

W.M. Woman Found Dead In Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — A 23-year-old West Monroe woman, Miss Charlene Dean, of Arkansas Road, was found dead in the bathroom of a motel here about 6 p.m. yesterday, and officials held an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Catahoula Parish Coroner, Dr. Charlie Fred Passman, ruled last night that death was due to a pulmonary embolism, which he described as a type of blood clot in the pulmonary artery.

Sheriff's officials said after investigation of the motel room that there was no indication of escaping gas, although the heater was turned on very high and the room was excessively hot.

FOUND

The body was found by Roscoe Vallance, about 45, a Monroe man who had earlier registered the victim at the motel about 1:30 p.m. before continuing on to Harrisonburg. He returned to the room and found the body about

Head-On Car Crash Fatal To Area Man

Clyde Lowrey Of Winnsboro Mishap Victim

A Winnsboro man, Clyde H. Lowrey, 69, was killed shortly after noon yesterday in a head-on car crash near Clinton, which also seriously injured the driver of the other auto involved.

Lowrey was supervisor of the USDA cotton classing office at Winnsboro which served northeast Louisiana. He was en route to New Orleans, where he planned to take a train for a conference of area supervisors in Jacksonville, Fla.

OTHER DRIVER

The other driver involved, identified by Baton Rouge police as Warren C. Hall, 53, P. O. Box 31, Slaughter, was rushed to nearby Clinton Infirmary with serious injuries.

According to investigating officers, the wreck occurred about 12:30 p.m. as Lowrey's auto, heading south in a north-bound lane, crashed head-on into Hall's northbound auto. Both cars were extensively damaged.

Lowrey's body was slated to be brought to the Young's Funeral Home in Winnsboro today for funeral arrangements, which were not complete last night.

A native of Bridgeport, Texas, Lowrey was transferred to the Winnsboro USDA branch from New Orleans seven years ago. He was well-known in the tri-state area for his work in the cotton.

JES' Ramblin'

Nominated

Four Monroe area cowboys have been nominated for queen of the annual military ball at Northeast next month. They are listed as follows: Sandra Edwards and Kathy Talton both of Monroe; Linda Lavender, West Monroe; and Carol Shipp, Bosco.

Each couple at the dance will vote for a single queen, that is one of the four listed. The admission ticket will be used to list the selection to be placed later in a deposit box.

Votes will be counted early in the party and the coronation will take place. The other three members will be members of the "royal court."

TO MARDI GRAS FETE

Flambeaux Lend Traditional Touch

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — It looks like the French Quarter is burning down, but it's only the flambeaux.

Behind these flambeaux — as many as 200 flickering torches that light the way for the lavish night parades of Mardi Gras — lies a sordid tale of labor-management strife.

It seems that one year the flambeaux carriers became so incensed over not getting a raise that they piled up all their flambeaux poles — 75 of them — and made one big flambeaux of them, upsetting their carnival krewe no end.

This year two of the krewe — the organizations that put on the parades — went on using electric spotlights powered by mobile gen-

Heart Sunday Funds Drive Slated Today

Today, designated Heart Sunday, will see volunteer workers throughout Ouachita parish collecting funds to fight heart and blood diseases, the nation's biggest health enemy.

The local volunteers will be among some 1,500,000 others throughout the nation who will be working in the heart fund drive, according to Mrs. George T. Walker, 1960 Heart Sunday chairman for the parish.

COLLECTIONS

She stated that collections will be made today from 1 to 3 p.m. throughout the area. Each volunteer will carry an official identification form printed on a 1960 Heart Sunday kit wrapper.

The drive, climaxing the 1960 Heart Fund campaign, is sponsored by the Louisiana Heart Association, which is an affiliate of the American Heart Association.

"Each contribution to the drive helps the Heart Association's assault on the nation's leading cause of death," Mrs. Walker said yesterday, urging local residents to cooperate with volunteer workers by contributing to the campaign.

Among volunteers serving under Mrs. Walker are 31 chairmen, each of whom is in charge of a district within the parish and is responsible for briefing and equipping workers.

Serving in the Monroe area are Mrs. Lucille Wilkins, Miss Marie Dell Horuff, Mrs. O. N. McCel, Mrs. H. C. Mayo, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Fryday, Mrs. Lois Mockabee, Mrs. M. J. Horton, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. W. L. Franks, Mrs. Marie C. McDuffie, Miss Mary Messina, Mrs. James R. Smith, Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mr. H. W. Tolson, Miss Velma Glass, Mrs.

ON DISARMAMENT

Allied Officials Near Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied officials were reported near-agreement Saturday on a new three-stage disarmament plan for negotiation with the Soviet Union. But France may block a final Western accord.

Diplomats said the heavy involvement of French military forces in Algeria and France's determination to develop atomic weapons make it difficult for President Charles de Gaulle to accept now disarmament proposals that are agreeable to his allies.

The tentative Western plan is designed to halt the arms race and achieve cutbacks in both conventional and nuclear weapons while preserving at each stage the balance of deterrents between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Each of the superpowers depends on its capacity for mass destruction to prevent the other from attacking. Under the Western proposal this defensive reliance on deterrent strength would be preserved until an international police force some day took over the job of maintaining peace.

The United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy will open negotiations with the Soviet and four other Communist countries at Geneva March 15.

Western disarmament experts have been meeting here for more than a month to develop proposals for the session. Early next week they hope to know whether these proposals will go into a single Western plan or whether they will have to come up with a Western position statement and let each country propose whatever plan it wishes in line with the generally agreed policy.

A third possibility is that the Western powers may confront the Soviet Union with a single plan but one or another of them may write in reservations with respect to specific provisions.

Manfred Lorenz, 30, father of two, was shot and killed in an armed pursuit of the holdup man and two alleged accomplices, both also captured.

Another bar patron, John E. Grey, 27, was shot in the abdomen in the same pursuit. He is in Saratoga General Hospital reported in serious condition.

The trio's escape car couldn't get out of heavy snow at a curb, police said, and the three fled on foot.

Mrs. Braden and her husband, Eugene, 37, a Chrysler Corp. factory worker, were having coffee before retiring after he had come home from his late-shift job.

There was a sudden knock on the door and Smith, gun in hand, entered.

The Bradens engaged Smith in casual conversation as he lolled on a couch, his gun in his belt. They got his confidence. Mrs. Braden prepared him bacon and eggs. He began to doze.

At last she told him "I don't like that gun around. I've got two boys sleeping in that room over there."

He handed over the gun to her. She pretended to put it in a dresser but tucked it under her girdle.

Finally, Mrs. Braden played her trump. She told Smith she had to go to the store to get milk for the boys' breakfast. It was then about 7 a.m.

Smith agreed.

Mrs. Braden hurried a block and a half to an outside telephone

80 Persons Arrested In Racial Melee

Violence Erupts In South Over Counter Service

By The Associated Press

A young Negro woman was hit with a miniature baseball bat and more than 80 persons arrested Saturday as violence erupted in the South where Negroes are pressing for equal service at lunch counters.

In Washington, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) charged efforts are being made to spark Southern race riots in hopes of winning support for passage of pending civil rights legislation.

Student demonstrations and picketing occurred in several Southern cities and at Madison, Wis.

Montgomery, Ala., was the scene of the racial incident involving the Negro woman, Christine Stovall, about 22.

STUCK

Police said she was struck on the head by one of about 25 white men who gathered in the downtown area carrying miniature baseball bats in papersacks. The blow drew blood but she was not knocked unconscious.

About a dozen whites and Negroes scuffled briefly after the incident. They disappeared in the gathering crowd before police arrived, however, and no arrests were made.

At Nashville, Tenn., police broke up a series of "sit-ins" by Negroes in downtown stores and arrested 75 persons. Two fights were reported and auto traffic was detained around one block of Fifth Ave. for a time while demonstrators milled about.

Lunch counters at three variety stores, a drug store and a department store were closed. Police said all those arrested would be charged with disorderly conduct.

Search Widens For Youthful Missing Mother

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., (UPI) — A mounted posse and helicopter joined in a search Saturday for a pretty teenage mother who mysteriously disappeared from her home three days ago, leaving her infant daughter crying and hungry.

Investigators said no trace of Mrs. Beverly Jean Cochran, 19, has been turned up since she left her suburban home Wednesday afternoon. Her husband James, a 23-year-old salesman, found the house empty except for their 13-month-old daughter when he came in from work.

"It's a strange case," said Sheriff's Deputy R. W. Richardson. "We've been questioning several people the past two days, but no one has any idea what may have happened to her."

He said a description of the missing woman had been transmitted to police throughout Florida and in other states, but so far with no results.

MASQUERADE PROHIBITED

Police Campaign Halted By Old Law

CAMDEN, N.J., (AP) — It's illegal now to make passes at cops who aren't lasses.

Camden lawmen faced that bleak outlook with dismay Saturday.

Until Friday they were going great guns in a drive to rid the city of masquers and all others given to pestering unescorted women on the streets.

The Police Department's campaign, conceived a couple of months ago, was especially effective thanks to a masquerade. Cops dolled up in women's clothes and went strolling. To a man, they were accosted, often rudely indeed. Then came the big surprise when the accoster found out his intended prey was no lady.

The deception was balked Fri-

Miss Brown Delhi Beauty Test Winner

DELHI (Special) — Sharon Rene Brown of Waterproof, won over 11 other contestants to reign over the Delhi Livestock Show last night as a capacity crowd turned out on the first night of activities in the popular annual northeast Louisiana festival.

First runner up in the "Miss Livestock Show" contest was Mary Ann McKee, of Columbia, and Vikki Jan Nielsen, of Bastrop, capped second runner up.

The personality-packed winner read a dramatic selection, "The Sparrows Fall," as her talent in the contest. The vital statistic rundown was 36-23-36 for Miss Brown.

RUNNER-UP

The first runner-up performed a baton twirling routine for the judges, with the second runner up presenting a modern dance.

The three top winners were selected after a tense evening of closed judging session following each part of the contest. They were selected from a list of five finalists which also included two other beauties: Thelma Rhea Levee, from Tallulah, and Margie McElwee, of Delhi.

Measurements for the first runner-up were 34-21-34, almost the same as the second runner-up's 34-22-34 measurements.

The beauties were judged on beauty, talent, poise, personality, and other "womanly traits." The winner, Miss Brown, was twice given awards during the evening, being named Miss Congeniality by the other contestants. This title is bestowed on one of the contestants before the other judging begins. It is based

British Naval Papers Stolen

NEWARK, N.J., (AP) — The captain of a British freighter berthed here told police Saturday that top-secret British naval intelligence documents to be opened only in case of war were stolen from his vessel.

The FBI and U.S. Naval Intelligence were notified at once.

Loss of the papers is so grave that the entire British naval code may have to be changed, detectives were told by Capt. F. M. Williamson, master of the Whar-anui.

Says Chaos Linked To Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said Saturday efforts are being made to spark race riots in the South in hopes of winning support for passage of civil rights legislation.

He also called one part of the administration's civil rights measure "a salute-to-Nixon section—an effort to promote the vice president of the United States."

Russell ripped into the legislation after Sen. Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) held the floor for more than three hours in the first full-dress move by civil rights advocates to present their case since the debate started two weeks ago.

The Saturday session brought fourth the liveliest debate yet.

Russell, quarterback for Dixie senators opposed to the legislation, said direction for recent Negro demonstrations at lunch counters and other traditionally segregated public services in the South came from New York City.

Russell shouted that a group known as the Congress of Racial Equality advocated mass efforts by young Negroes to get into segregated places.

EFFORTS

"They fostered, planned and incited these incidents that could lead to a great tragedy in some cities," Russell told the Senate.

"It demonstrates to me that they were anxious to start a race riot of terrible proportions."

"This is no time to be going down there and trying to promote a race riot. Gentlemen, you are playing with powder and I hope the match won't catch fire to set off a disaster."

Senate leaders have fixed Monday for the start of round-the-clock sessions to try to break the filibuster tactics which Russell and other Southern Democrats have been waging against the ad-

State Official Enjoined From NAACP Action

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A three-judge federal court Saturday enjoined the state attorney general from enforcing state law requiring the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to file membership lists.

In the temporary injunction, the court repeated its opinion, given earlier this month, that such state laws are invalid.

In that opinion the judges agreed that to enforce the 1924 act, passed to curb the Ku Klux Klan, would be to violate the First Amendment's freedom of speech and assembly clauses and the 14th Amendment's due process clause. A 1953 statute also was held unconstitutional.

This statute required the Louisiana chapter of an organization which also has affiliates in other states to attest that officers of the affiliates are not connected with groups cited by Congress as Communists, Communist-front or subversive.

Saturday's injunction prohibited the attorney general or any other agent of the state from proceeding with a case in Caddo Parish against the NAACP under provisions of the state statutes.

The federal court also retained jurisdiction for the purpose of enforcing the temporary injunction.

DESPITE DIFFICULTIES

Hand Maintains Creative Touch

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

"Some people might call it a handicap—but it's not to me," said silver-haired Mrs. C. H. Frier.

She looked at her right hand. Every bone in it was shattered in a yard accident nine years ago, leaving it apparently "useless."

But that hand, which once created a dress for a Metropolitan opera singer, stitched a wedding gown in the last three weeks.

When Miss Relda Knox walked down the aisle of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Monroe at 4 p.m. Saturday, she wore the gown—handmade of bridal satin and tulle lace.

Before her wedding to Nicholas J. Ciraulo, the bride-to-be brought out the gown for a Morning World photographer at her aunt's home, at 613 Victoria.

"BEAUTIFUL"

"It's so beautiful, I can't help but look at it, there's not any other dress like it," smiled the pretty bride-to-be.

Back in December, the scene was tearful for the Utilities Commission secretary.

"The wedding gown I ordered from a downtown store came in, and it wasn't what I wanted at all. I went over to the office and sat there and cried," she recalled.

"She was all time and downhearted," said Mrs. Frier, whose husband is assistant manager at the commission.

Formerly a top-notch professional dressmaker in Oklahoma City, Mrs. Frier offered to make the gown.

"Leave it up to Mrs. Frier," advised commission secretary Mrs. Ethel Horne. "She'll know exactly how to make it."

Relda was so happy when she came home that evening, she cried and said, "Morning, I just can't believe it's happened to me," revealed Mrs. Mary Knox. "I really think it's the prettiest wedding gown I've ever seen," she added.

LIKE HEIRLOOM

The gown is strikingly beautiful. It looks like an heirloom from the turn of the century, with high neck, lace yoke, full skirt.

satin skirt, long, lace-edged sleeves and a bustle bow. The yoke is encrusted with seed pearls, stitched one by one onto the tulle lace.

Twelve yards of satin went into the gown, stitched by a plucky hand that can't lift, close, or straighten out completely.

"I stitched with a little short needle—I used to have a long millinery needle," admitted Mrs. Frier. "But that's not important, don't say much about me, it's Relda and her wedding that I care about."

Before her accident in 1951, Mrs. Frier made many a wedding gown, but this is the first since then. She has done sewing for friends, but not as a "professional" any more.

"I was watering the yard, walked backwards, tripped over a lawnmower and landed on my hand. The doctor said I didn't have any business being out in the yard," she laughs.

The breaks stopped circulation, and it looked like her entire arm might have to be amputated.

Six weeks at the warm baths in Hot Springs, Ark., and electrical treatment restored circulation. She learned how to move her fingers partially.

"I used my hand every possible way—and it's wonderful the way it's responded. It beats having my arm taken off at the shoulder," she quipped.

She now sews for friends, but

Noted By Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI)—Ancient manuscripts and other material that may have a bearing on the famous Dead Sea Scrolls have just been brought to light in the Soviet Union, according to Professor Abraham I. Katsh of New York University.

Katsh, who is chairman of NYU's department of Hebrew studies, said he came across the material during a more than month-long tour of library archives in some 10 Soviet cities stretching from Siberia and central Asia to the Baltic coast.

"The material must be carefully studied. But there is a possibility some of it will help establish the dates of the Dead Sea Scrolls," he said.

The scrolls are generally considered to be the first existing examples of Hebrew writing. But the date of their origin is in doubt.

says this wedding dress is "the last" she will make.

Early in the 1940's, her dress-making abilities were so well known that the late German opera singer Schumann-Heink had her design a chiffon gown.

"The entire bodice was encrusted with seed pearls, opalescent beads and rhinestones sewed on by hand, and the skirt was three layers of chiffon."

"When she saw it, she said 'It just looks like sweet peas.'"

"She intended to wear it when she sang in Oklahoma City. That day she received word that her little grandson in Cincinnati might not live, so she said, 'I'll wear the oldest thing I have.'"

She did, and sang, and her grandson died that night. But the chiffon gown was not associated with the bitter memory, so the opera star wore it at a later performance.

Events leading to Relda's wedding gown began in 1948, when Mr. and Mrs. Frier were married.

In 1957, after he retired from an Oklahoma oil and gas company, he was hired by the Monroe Utilities Commission.

That brought the grandmotherly lady to Monroe.

As she looked over the finished product earlier this week, she offered last-minute instructions: "If I were you, I'd put it on a wooden hanger. I think that will take out the wrinkles."

Relda looked at the gown, then revealed that she already has been asked to "loan" it.

"My bridesmaid said that if she ever gets married, she would like to wear it."

But the gown, made by a lady who "never had any desire to have a big church wedding myself," is far too beautiful to part with.

"Are you going to let anyone else wear it," Relda was asked. "No, I just couldn't," she admitted softly.

MRS. NANCY TURNLEY JENA (Special)—Mrs. Nancy Rebecca Turnley, 63, died late Friday at a Jena hospital following a short illness.

Funeral services were set for 2 p.m. Sunday at the Trout Methodist Church, with the Rev. A. G. Taylor officiating. Interment will follow in Belah Cemetery under the direction of Kinner and Stevens Funeral Home.

LSU SUMMER PROGRAM

Gulf Laboratory To Teach Research

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Basic principles of oceanography will be taught high school students this summer at Louisiana State University's Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Forty students from Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama will learn first hand about ocean studies at the laboratory in Ocean Springs, Miss.

The students will come to the laboratory eight at a time for two-week periods. The total program will last 10 weeks beginning June 6.

A grant of $8,530 was made to the Louisiana Academy of Science by the National Science Foundation to support the program, designed to provide practical scientific experiences for academically talented secondary students.

Dr. Harry J. Bennett, professor of zoology at LSU and director of the program, said the students will learn fundamentals of oceanography through daily lectures, field trips and laboratory exercises. Particular emphasis will be placed on biological oceanography. Special seminars will be conducted for the participants. They will be permitted to listen in on lectures for more advanced students.

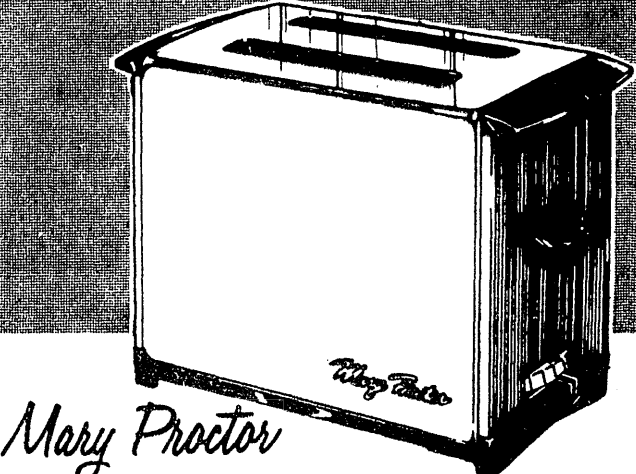

Each participant will be encouraged to make an extensive collection of marine organisms for his own high school museum. The seminars, to be held two nights a week, will be led by members of the LSU staff, advanced graduate students and visiting scientists.

Three of the field trips will be devoted to collecting specimens and to studying marine environment and organisms in their natural habitats at sea. The fourth trip will be made to industries utilizing oceanic resources.

The grant will partially defray travel fees, board, room and other expenses. Both boys and girls are eligible.

Opera star Geraldine Farrar also was writer of lyrics for many classical songs.

GRUELING TOUR

Ike's Health Good, Triumph Seems Great

BARILOCHE, Argentina (AP)—President Eisenhower is again standing up amazingly well under the grueling physical punishment of a swift-paced tour abroad.

And he seems to be scoring a great personal triumph on this visit to South America, just as he did when he traveled to 11 nations of Europe, Asia and Africa last December.

In the case of both tours—particularly this one now at only the half-way mark—it remains to be seen whether Eisenhower will achieve his goal of a major contribution to world peace through personal diplomacy. But there would be no doubt about it, if a man's popularity were the only issue.

A high point of the Eisenhower acclaim on this 16,600-mile tour into Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay came Friday in the great tribute paid the American President in Buenos Aires.

Argentines, generally regarded as much less demonstrative than some of their Latin American neighbors, gave the President a tumultuous welcome which far outstripped the receptions he got earlier in the week in Brazil. And he got rousing welcomes in three cities in that country—Brasilia, Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo.

In those cities a total of perhaps a million people turned out to greet the President. In Buenos Aires U. S. Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman estimated that between 750,000 and one million jammed the city's streets as he rode in willing heat in an open car.

Buenos Aires police easily handled a scant turnout of spectators at the start of the six-mile parade, but had their hands full keeping the motorcade moving through packed, cheering crowds in the downtown area.

In Buenos Aires President Eisenhower for the first time encountered diversionsary demonstrations of any size of significance.

Two political elements were involved—backers of Argentina's deposed dictator Juan D. Peron and a left-wing Socialist splinter group.

The left-wing Socialists decried Eisenhower's visit and burned American flags. The Peronists, who lean toward nationalism, chanted Peron's name in demonstrations that were regarded as aimed not at Eisenhower or the United States but at the Argentine administration of President Arturo Frondizi. Police moved in and arrested some of both groups.

Eisenhower's tour, which started last Tuesday in Brazil, will take him next week into Chile and Uruguay. He will relax at golf Friday and Saturday in Puerto Rico and arrive back in Washington a week from Sunday.

At the midway point, the same question that kept popping up all during the December tour is being asked everywhere he goes: "How does he stand it?"

This tour is perhaps a bit less rugged than the last. For one thing, he is visiting only four nations and he will be in South America 10 days as compared with 19 days in Europe, Asia and Africa.

But Eisenhower once again is putting in 15 to 18-hour days and appears to thrive on the activity.

In Buenos Aires Friday, for example, he was out of bed before 7 a.m. and didn't start back for a state dinner until midnight. He had a couple of brief breathers during the day, but all in all it was a mighty busy time for the 69-year-old chief of state.

For 60 minutes without a break he was on his feet in an open car on the drive from the U.S. Embassy residence to Government House. The heat was intense under a blazing sun.

After a brief rest Eisenhower rode through another huge crowd, addressed the Argentine Congress, and then—with the crowds still surging—traveled back to the embassy residence. He got in an hour's rest and then turned up looking fresh—and unburned—at an embassy reception.

A bit later he was off to the Frondizi state dinner. At midnight, when his aides already had been drooping for some time, Eisenhower still had some spring in his step.

Airmen Jump Land Safely

LIBERTY, S. C. (UPI)—A four man Air Force reserve crew bailed out of a stricken C119 Saturday just before the "flying Boxcar" clipped treetops and missed houses less than 15 feet in crashing 100 yards from the Liberty High School.

The plane crashed into a vacant lot covered with trees and tangled undergrowth inside the limits of this textile town of 3,500. All four of the crewmembers parachuted to safety without injury.

The plane developed engine trouble eight minutes after taking off from Donaldson Air Force Base near Greenville, S. C., on a training flight. The crash scene was 18 miles west of Greenville and the bailout was at relatively low altitude.

IN MISSISSIPPI

Explosive Issues Taking Spotlight

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Two explosive issues—local option liquor and church property bills—are expected to take the spotlight in the ninth week of the Mississippi Legislature.

The local option issue is ready for floor action in the Senate and House. The question hasn't been this close to floor action in both houses since the 1908 Legislature outlawed whisky.

Bills authorize local option whisky have been approved by the temperance committees in each house. The Senate group voted 4-2, the House 8-2.

Rep. Jerry O'Keefe of Harrison County, House temperance committee chairman, said either bill would result in close enforcement of prohibition laws in those counties that stay dry and better control in counties that are wet.

The battle over two church property bills continues. Church forces throughout the state are taking stands on the question. The first bill provided that a local Protestant church could seize title to its property if 65 percent of the congregation petitioned chancery court charging the denomination had changed social policy.

A second bill—designed to get around class legislation objections—allows two-thirds of a local congregation to see new trustees for the property if it was hostile to anyone exercising any degree of voice in its management.

The second bill also affects charitable and educational organizations and institutions.

Methodist, Baptist, Catholic and Episcopal leaders have attacked the bills. The backers say they were necessary to protect against racial integration.

In other action, the House voted unanimously to reorganize the State Seafood Commission and give it broader powers in regulating the gulf coast industry.

The bill was described as a compromise between the present seafood commission and a bill introduced early in the session.

Under the approved bill, the commission would be reorganized into the Mississippi marine conservation commission consisting of three members from each of the three coast counties, serving staggered 4-year terms, and a marine biologist.

Upon Gov. Ross Barnett's request, the House reversed itself and voted to authorize a one million dollar home for the new state industrial and technological research center. This action came immediately after Barnett signed the income tax reduction bill before a joint session.

Doctor Tells Opinion In Van Rie Case

BOSTON (AP) — Willem Van Rie's defense offered medical testimony Saturday that he did not beat Lynn Kauffman senseless in her shipboard cabin last Sept. 18. Once again, the possibility of her suicide was put before an all-male jury trying the Dutch radio operator for his life.

Dr. Milton Halpern, chief medical examiner of New York, testified for the defense that in his opinion the vivacious 23-year-old American divorcee was not injured in a beating, but in a 40-foot fall into the waters of Boston Harbor after which she drowned. He declared: "Her injuries were not due to an assault. These injuries are most reasonably interpreted, as having resulted during a fall of this person into water."

ASKED

On Cross - examination, Asst. Dist. Atty. John F. McAuliffe asked: "You did not exclude the deceased's being thrown into the water did you?"

"I did not mean to imply that I knew how the fall took place," replied the stocky pathologist whose massive head is crowned with cropped gray hair.

The state claims the boyish 21-year-old Van Rie beat his shipboard mistress unconscious in a lovers' quarrel aboard the Dutch freighter Utrecht, then cast her overboard to drown. He is being tried on a first degree murder charge.

Defense Atty. Walter Powers Jr. again managed to leave with the jury the implication she could have taken her own life in a plunge from the deck of the Utrecht. The petite beauty was a passenger enroute home on a 41-day voyage from Singapore.

The state has offered its own medical testimony earlier from Boston medical examiner Michael Luongo. He said Miss Kauffman's multiple body and head injuries were consistent with her having been beaten, kicked, and battered about her ship's cabin. He testified such injuries could not have been caused by a single fall into water.

Dr. Halpern differed. He has had a hand in more than 30,000 autopsies on victims of New York City violence. In addition, he is an accepted authority in the field of legal medicine and has testified from many a witness stand.

Dr. Luongo, a younger man, has considerable standing in the same field, although less experienced. Both men are recognized pathologists—doctors who specialize in the causes of death and the forms death takes.

Powers asked Dr. Halpern: "Have you an opinion as to whether the injuries sustained were caused by an assault?"

"In my opinion," Dr. Halpern replied, "her injuries were not due to an assault by a fist or a foot or by punching, kicking or mauling."

The opinion if accepted by the jury, would rule out any assault on the girl by Van Rie. The state claims he feared Lynn might be pregnant and that their shipboard philandering might be exposed. Van Rie left a wife in Holland when he went to sea on the Utrecht last May.

Powers tried to get Dr. Halpern's opinion on whether Miss Kauffman might have committed suicide. Superior Court Judge Frank J. Murray blocked this line of questioning. So Powers settled for Dr. Halpern's opinion that the victim fell into the water.

McAuliffe, in cross-examination, referred to wounds on both sides of Miss Kauffman's head and asked:

Q. Are they consistent with a fall?

A. They certainly could be.

Q. They're also consistent with the victim being struck on one side of the head and the opposite side of the head hitting against a fixed object? aren't they?

A. That's a possibility.

Q. It's quite possible isn't it?

A. No, it's a possibility.

Editor Proposes Test Abolition

RUSTON (Special) — Abolition of final examinations for students is proposed in an editorial in the Tech Talk of Louisiana Tech by the editor, Claude F. Bachand, Southbridge, Mass.

Neither final tests nor anything else of a scholastic nature, however, are cause for alarm for Editor Bachand. In three semesters at Tech, he has made A grades in all his subjects except one English course in which he received a B.

"LIKE TAXES" — "Final examinations are just like taxes," the student writer says. "Nobody seems to like them but everyone accepts them as one of the necessary evils of life. We think final exams are not necessary, we think they are impractical and we don't like them."

The editorial continues in part as follows:

"After four months of relatively normal living, the college student must suddenly throw caution to the winds, establish himself as a night owl (without the benefit of the late, late, late show) and in about two weeks re-memorize details which it has taken him a whole semester to learn."

"Of course, since both the student and the teacher knew all along that the final exam was going to tower head and shoulders over everything else presented throughout the semester, they have placed less emphasis on daily assignments and quizzes throughout the year. Because of this the student has not learned the material as thoroughly as he might have had he realized that each lesson was of proportional importance gradewise."

FINALS — "Finals, in most cases, do not reflect accurately the amount of work a student has put into a course, nor how much he has derived from it."

"In the first place, overwork and tension will affect the students' work, especially his first few semesters. Or a student may happen to be scheduled for three tests in one day — this would have been too much even for Einstein."

"In addition, the teachers are overburdened with work at a time when they should be concentrating on grading themes, research papers and the like, and figuring out the student's grade for the semester. The chance for mistake or improper grading is increased all around. And the student seldom gets a chance to see his final examination papers to verify their correctness."

"If a student happens to fall sick with even a small cold or slight headache around the time for finals, his semester's work will probably suffer and he may even fail because of this."

"By cutting out finals, the schools could increase, not decrease, their standards of education. Instead of the usual two or three weeks spent on final examinations by the student in reviewing and testing he could be learning new things. And the instructor could slow down the regular assignments and teach the course in greater detail the first time around."

"There must be many good points in final examinations or they would not be as popular as they are among educators. We just can't see them!"

Tech Tour Plans Set By McGinty

RUSTON (Special) — Plans for Louisiana Tech's tenth annual educational tour Aug. 7-27 have been announced by Dr. G. W. McGinty, head of the department of social science and a professor of history.

Traveling by air - conditioned chartered bus, 39 students will spend 21 days visiting historical points in the western part of the United States and Mexico.

Some of the points of the tour will be the Will Rogers Memorial, the Badlands, Mt. Rushmore, Yellowstone National Park, Utah Copper Mines, Salt Flats, Reno and Las Vegas, Nev., Lake Tahoe, Squaw Valley, Sutter's Mill, Redwood Forest, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, Meteorite Crater, Petrified Forest, Gallup, N. Mex., and Carlsbad Caverns.

STOPS — Overnight stops will be made in Cody, Wyo., and Hollywood, Calif. The students also will make a tour of Will Rogers' home and see some of the movie stars' homes in Hollywood, Berkeley and San Fernando Valley, Calif.

The trip back will include a swim in the Great Salt Lake and sightseeing in Old Mexico.

Students who are high school graduates and above are eligible for the tour. Enrollees may earn six semester hours of credit, either undergraduate or graduate.

A $50 deposit is necessary to reserve space on the bus. Students should send the fee to J. W. Evans, Tech auditor. The total cost of $255 includes transportation, lodging, all admissions, tips to bellboys, and a special insurance policy. While en route the students will pay for food and laundry.

Farm Heads Set Hearings On Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House farm leaders plan to open hearings next week in a search for agreement on complete overhaul of the federal farm program.

House Agriculture Committee aides said Saturday the committee will not have any single bill before it for specific consideration. But they said there was likely to be considerable discussion of a new general farm bill proposed recently by 16 House Democrats, including several high ranking Agriculture Committee members.

The Democratic bill was designed as an across-the-board answer to the Eisenhower policy of discouraging farm surpluses by lowering price supports.

The new proposal would offer farmers their choice of a wide range of production and marketing control devices. It would authorize limited direct production payments to farmers in some cases. But it would forbid all provisions allowing the government to accumulate surpluses in "stabilization" plans drawn up under authority of the proposed new law.

The wide-ranging Democratic proposal was considered certain to draw administration fire on several counts. President Eisenhower is firmly on record against direct production payments on surplus crops, for instance.

Regardless of administration opposition, and the possibility of a presidential veto, many farm Democrats believe the party must try to get a general bill through this year to show the voters the Democrats are not in

Hounds Search For Escapee-- Now Dog Stolen

AIKEN, S. C. (AP) — Aiken County officers first started searching for a convict. Now they are searching for a convict and a bloodhound.

The other four bloodhounds used in the search have been found — where convict Larry Cooper left them, tied to trees in a swamp.

The 18-year-old Cooper, who escaped from a prison camp Thursday, "caught the bloodhounds as fast as they caught up with him," said Deputy Sheriff W. H. Boylston. The escapee took the bells from the necks of the dogs — which had been brought from the state penitentiary in Columbia for the search — and threw them away.

The state brought in an airplane to assist in the search for Cooper, who was serving time for housebreaking and grand larceny, and the missing dog, a 75-pound black-and-tan animal.

agreement with the Eisenhower policy.

Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), Vice-Chairman of the Agriculture Committee, said there is a "very good chance" the Democrats will push an omnibus bill through the House.

Eisenhower "pretty well challenged us to do it" in his recent farm policy message to Congress, Poage said.

House Agriculture Committee hearings on the whole scope of federal farm price supports and controls were to open Monday, with testimony from top officials of the National Farmers Union

Tech Faculty Members On Meet Program

RUSTON (Special) — Fifteen members of the Louisiana Tech faculty will have parts on programs of the 22nd annual meeting of the Louisiana College Conference to be held at Loyola University in New Orleans March 4-5.

Dr. J. B. Wilson, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at Tech, who is one of the liaison officers of the conference, will speak at an education section meeting on "Arts and Sciences and Professional Educators Working Hand-in-Hand for a Better Program of Education." Dean Wilson also is a member of the committee of surveys.

Dr. Mary Frances Fletcher, professor of English, is a member of the conference executive committee and Robert C. Snyder, associate professor of English, is a member of the nominating committee.

Other Tech personnel on programs of departmental groups are:

Agriculture — C. G. Hobgood, head of the department of agronomy and horticulture, panel discussion on "The Effect of Expanding Enrollment on College Curricula in Agriculture."

Secretarial Science — Dr. Irol W. Balesky, professor of secretarial science, discussion of secretarial college curricula.

Business Administration — Dr. J. Leslie Bayless, associate professor of marketing and management, discussion of enrollment expansion in business administration curricula.

Deans Section — Ben T. Bogard, dean of the School of Engineering, discussion of "Survey of Current Practices in Remedial Work."

English — Dr. Rudolph Fichter, associate professor of English, departmental vice-president.

Natural Science — Dr. Roland Abegg, head of the department of zoology, sectional vice-president; Dr. Charles H. Smith, head of the department of chemistry, and Paul Bonner, assistant professor of physics, who will serve on a panel discussion of the effect of enrollment expansion in science.

Personnel and Guidance — Miss Hazel Shively, professor of guidance, secretary of the section.

Social Science — Dr. Phillip A. Walker, associate professor of

W. Monroe Girl, Injury Victim, Said Improved

Eight-year old Alice Kay Traylor, West Monroe third grader, was reported in "very good" condition last night by nurses in Highland Sanitarium in Shreveport, who said she possibly may be returned home today.

The youth was rushed by plane to the Shreveport sanitarium Friday after physicians feared a possible brain hemorrhage from a lick on the left temple when a heavy metal door slammed against her in the Mitchell Elementary school basement.

Examinations showed no internal injuries, and physicians said she was apparently out of danger. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Traylor, 122 Riverbend Drive, West Monroe.

history, who will speak on "The Effect of Expanding Enrollment on the Offering of Advanced Courses in Social Science."

Speech — Dr. Paul Pennington, head of the speech department, program chairman; Arthur Stone, associate professor of speech, will discuss "Large Drama Class."

Courtney Set To Speak At Jaycee Meet

Kent Courtney, candidate for Governor in the April general election as the States Rights Party nominee, will be the guest speaker for the Monday noon luncheon of the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Green Room of the Penn Hotel.

He will speak on "America Needs A New Political Party," according to Jaycee program chairman Bill Lueg. Courtney is a New Orleans publisher and editor. He publishes two papers, the Independent American and the Solid South.

Publicity chairman Jimmy Terry emphasizes that as in the past the Jaycees are endorsing no candidate, but have extended invitations to all the gubernatorial candidates to speak to the club. The programs are designed to aid the local Jaycees in learning more about state politics and government, and to become more familiar with the candidates themselves.

Courtney in October was named national chairman of the Independent American State parties at a nationwide rally in Chicago. Appearing with Courtney will be Vaughan Phelps, Monroe businessman and candidate for Lieutenant Governor with the States Rights Party. Also appearing will be Dr. Medford Evans, Secretary of the States Rights Party in Louisiana, and a former writer for the television program, "Public Forum."

Courtney said that his speech

Plane Is Forced Down In Area

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — A U.S. Army plane was reported to have been forced down in a pasture near here Friday afternoon. There were believed to be about 11 people aboard the aircraft when it was forced to land because of undetermined trouble.

The report said a helicopter was dispatched to the scene by the Army to pick up the passengers.

STINKY TRICK

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — Patrolman Clarence Conitz tried the soft sell first in dealing with a skunk reported to be chasing children in a yard here.

He tried to get the animal to run into a box.

"I thought it was someone's pet," Conitz explained.

But it wasn't. The uniform he was wearing will be out of service for awhile. But Conitz won the encounter. He shot the skunk.

would "show how the interference of the Federal Government in the affairs of the State of Louisiana has reached such alarming proportions that a new political solution is needed at both State and National levels. I shall indicate," he said "that the Democrat and Republican parties at the national level are engaged in a bipartisan conspiracy to deny the people a choice at the ballot box."

First Formal Board Contest Entry Made

post, are Wayne Wood, oil and gas operator, and Ben Marshall, bank official.

Scogin, who resides at 2301 Marie Place, is president of Brown-Rivers — Scogin, local Ford Agency.

He is affiliated with many civic and business groups. He is a member of the Parkway Baptist Church, North Monroe Lions Club, College Boosters Club, Northeast State College, member board of directors of United Givers of Ouachita Parish, of the board of Public Appeals and Solicitations and Review Council, and Sales Executive Club of Monroe and in West Monroe.

Other affiliations include that as chairman of New Car Dealers Association. He has been chairman of Sports Committee of Monroe Chamber of Commerce and on the Board of the Salvation Army.

He was president of the Neville-Bard Boosters Club when it was organized 10 years ago, and is currently serving in that capacity. He is married to the former Katherine Strong, who is active in the Parent-Teacher Association work. The couple have three children, John III, now residing at Segre, Texas; Mary Lynn, a junior at Louisiana Tech, Ruston, and Mignon, a sophomore at Neville High School and a member of the band there.

STATEMENT

Scogin issued the following statement in announcing his candidacy:

"I am keenly aware, as most of our citizens are, that our educational system faces some critical problems in the immediate and years ahead. These problems

Fisk University, Nashville, told a reporter, "That's a promise."

"We did not take all the seats," said Diane Nash, another Fisk student. "We did not want people to think we were trying to take over. But it is a moral issue. We want to be treated equally."

Between 300 and 400 Negro students at Tuskegee Institute marched two abreast on the sidewalk around the square in Tuskegee, Ala., carrying placards appealing for voting rights and civil rights in general. Tuskegee is 40 miles east of Montgomery.

The demonstration was orderly except for one scuffle between a Negro student and a white mechanic. They were separated quickly. Both were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and $50 bond apiece.

Five Negro youths were arrested in downtown Chattanooga, Tenn., by police alerted to head off racial demonstrations. Four were charged with loitering and a fifth with carrying a loaded cane.

Thirteen white students, seven of them seniors, were expelled from Notre Dame High School for going into downtown Chattanooga. The principal, the Rev. J. Driscoll, said none of the expelled youths took part in any demonstration. He said they simply violated his order not to go into the downtown area.

Three white youths grabbed a placard from a Negro picket in Shelby, N.C., broke the sign in two and struck the picket several times with the broken staff. The youths then kicked the Negro. Police quickly broke up the scuffle but no arrests were made.

About 30 University of Wisconsin students picketed two downtown town variety stores at Madison, Wis. The demonstration was orderly and business went on as usual in both stores.

A leader of the group, Richard Wands of Fargo, N.D., said the picketing was inspired by Southern sit-down demonstrations started by Negro students about three weeks ago in Greensboro, N.C.

In Washington, Russell told the Senate he believed a group known as the Congress of Racial Equality in New York advocated mass efforts by young Negroes to get into traditionally segregated places in the South.

"They fostered, planned and incited these incidents that could lead to a great tragedy in some cities," Georgia's senior senator said. "It demonstrates to me that they were anxious to start a race riot of terrible proportions."

"This is no time to be going down there and trying to promote a race riot," Russell said. "Gentlemen, you are playing with powder and I hope the match won't catch fire to set off a disaster."

Senate leaders have set Monday as the day for the start of round-the-clock sessions to try to break filibuster tactics some Southern Democrats have been waging against the administration bill to help guarantee Negro voting rights.

Meanwhile, in Montgomery, Negroes hinted at an economic retaliation against downtown merchants.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, president of the Montgomery Improvement Association, and a state of terror prevailed on downtown streets. The Negro minister urged his people to stay away from the downtown business district as long as it existed.

Abernathy said he wasn't advocating a boycott, but agreed that Negroes would be unable to patronize downtown stores if they stayed away from the business district.

Ike Arrives In Resort To Relax Some

BARILOCHE, Argentina (UPI) — A carefully-guarded President Eisenhower arrived in this resort high in the breathtaking Andes Saturday for a weekend break in his strenuous "Good Partner" tour and his first chance to relax.

Aside from a "Declaration of Bariloché" to be issued jointly with host President Arturo Frondizi, Eisenhower had 48 hours of loafing and golf, if he cared to play it, on one of the toughest courses in the world.

The airliner bringing the President to the remote mountain resort landed at 4:19 p.m. (2:19 p.m. EST).

Talks with Frondizi, the signing of the declaration and a black-tie dinner for 60 persons at Llan Llan Hotel Saturday night were the only functions scheduled.

WARMER WEATHER is forecast Sunday for the Gulf coastal region into the southern Plains and parts of the middle Mississippi Valley. Little temperature change is expected elsewhere. Some heavy snow is forecast for the central

Plains. Rain is expected in southern Plains, middle Mississippi Valley and Gulf coastal region into Tennessee. Snow flurries are probable in New England. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Says Chaos Linked To Rights Bill

ministration bill to help guarantee Negro voting rights.

If that fails, an attempt may be made to use the Senate's cloture rule which permits further debate to be choked off by the votes of a two-thirds majority.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said in a statement he is prepared to do this and added, "I am sure we have the power to invoke cloture and shut off debate."

However, Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) said in a speech at Rochester, N.Y., that failure of the Senate last year to provide for debate limitation by majority vote "may be decisive in the present civil rights battle."

Calling the requirement for a two-thirds majority "unreasonably severe," Proxmire said all 12 attempts to put the rule into effect since 1927 have failed.

Russell charged that a campaign is being conducted throughout the nation, timed to coincide with Senate consideration of the civil rights bill, "to slander and discredit the people of the South."

Javis had told the Senate earlier that he and other civil rights advocates "are not being blinded by zeal and passion."

upon personality, friendliness, and general congeniality among the girls themselves, and is therefore highly regarded as an honor among the contestants.

Five judges who made the final decisions for the evening were Mrs. Jack Taylor, Arcadia; Mrs. Jerry Butler, Arcadia; Dr. McIntyre, Bridges, Minden; Bob Carter, Baton Rouge, and J. J. Pullen, Vicksburg, Miss.

Auditors for the event were Billy Hargiss and Joe Raburn, both of Monroe.

The capacity crowd that attended the event found the pace a lively one as Master of Ceremonies Max Feltz of Baton Rouge enlivened a light atmosphere throughout the evening's judging.

Besides the parade of beauty, the evening's crowd was also treated to several performances by visiting entertainers from the area.

Sonny Dozier, Delhi vocalist sang "From This Moment On," as the first break from the judging; an organ solo by Ann Waites, who was the Miss Livestock Show last year, was presented following the talent division; and two other performances featuring Dianne Williamson of Ruston, Miss. Lincoln Parish, Vince Tamburo of Delhi, and Dozier, were given before the final announcement of winners.

Background and feature music for the evening was presented by Monroe organist Bob Oldenburg.

The event was sponsored by the Delhi Junior Chamber of Commerce. The stock show will continue through March 4.

cial. "They practically kill each other to do it but when they get the right to do it they'd go on strike—it's amazing."

The going rate for a flambeaux lugger, or stickman, is $5.50 a parade.

"This year they tried to force the parade routes," an official said. "They tried to tell us where to start and where to stop and what route to take."

"Some of them disappear from the parade and then come back to get paid."

The flambeaux make an eerie light for the parades, with sometimes as many as 250 torches — one stickman per torch — light up the narrow French Quarter streets.

The torches smoke copiously, and when the parade stops to toast a favorite bar or something the general appearance is that of a major conflagration, which isn't always desirable.

"People are always getting burned," a spokesman said. "There's always a brand new coat burned, and one year a float was burned up. We got insurance to cover it, but the rates are terrible."

But most of the krewes, and most of the viewers, feel that flambeaux are indispensable, and an integral part of this is the manner in which they are borne.

The stickmen weave and wobble and dance, particularly if they happen to be within hearing distance of the jazz marching bands — another fading New Orleans custom — that accompany the parades occasionally.

The stickmen themselves undergo some tribulations. Several have complained of being set upon by roving hoodlums this year. Others get burned. Several have been hospitalized.

But, so far, a strike has been averted.

3:30, and notified the motel owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson, who in turn called the sheriff's department.

The body was found, according to sheriff deputies, sitting upright on the lavatory in the bathroom, with only undergarments on. The head was tilted back against a window sill behind the lavatory.

Sheriff Jordan, along with deputies Watson Higgins, Max Good, and Coroner Passman, had the body taken to a Jonesville Funeral Home for the autopsy.

Johnson, owner of the R & J Motel where the body was found, said a careful investigation was made of the room, but no indication was found of leaking or escaping gas.

Sheriff deputies said Vallence, who found the body, had gone on to Harrisonburg to leave his children from a previous marriage at the home of a married daughter before returning to the motel. He had registered the woman at the motel between 1:30 and 2 p.m., the owner said.

The body was slated to be taken to the Southern Funeral Home in Winnfield following the autopsy. Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night.

he knew of no such law when he had the brain wave of costuming policemen as women to catch masher.

The 1906 law was dredged up by an attorney for Angel Rivera, 21, arrested as a masher Feb. 1 by policeman Donald McGlency, one of the best at the business of posing as a woman.

Rivera had been sent to jail for six months for disorderly conduct. He was appealing the sentence before Judge Benjamin Dzick.

Judge Dzick vacated the sentence, imposed another of 30 days and suspended that. Rivera was freed.

Judge Dzick also vacated a six-month sentence imposed in Municipal Court on another accused masher, arrested in January after a wild eight-block automobile chase.

Rivera's lawyer, Benjamin Asbell, called the police impersonations "nothing more than theatrics, a spectacular stunt."

Lt. Melley said he felt it was legitimate strategy, and certainly effective. He added that he got permission from Mayor Alfred Pierce before going ahead.

POSES SHYLY

Princess Thrilled With Modest Ring

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret, smiling shyly but proudly, flashed a modest new ruby-and-diamond engagement ring for all the world to see Saturday as she posed for the cameras arm-in-arm with her photographer fiancé, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

The couple held hands at Windsor amid indications their wedding probably would take place in April or June. There was speculation that an American honeymoon could follow for the princess, and the longshot from Pimlico Road who won her heart.

For her honeymoon, Margaret could have her pick of any of the commonwealth nations that would be honored to have her. But some thought she just might convince the Queen that this would be the right time for her long-desired trip to the United States.

The Princess and her common-law fiancé emerged for the official picture-taking rites from the royal lodge at Windsor where they are spending the week-end with Queen Mother Elizabeth.

On Monday, Armstrong-Jones will move to his Bohemian basement apartment at No. 20 Pimlico Road to a suite in Buckingham Palace.

The engaged couple stood together somewhat shyly on the grounds of the royal lodge, holding hands while the photographer got his equipment ready.

The 29-year-old Princess wore a two-piece costume of pale blue. Armstrong-Jones, who will be 30 next month, wore a lounge suit.

Despite his long experience behind the camera as a society photographer, he was somewhat stiff and self-conscious before the lens. He relaxed only when he was asked to pose arm-in-arm with the Princess for a walking shot.

The smiling Princess held her new engagement ring in such a fashion as to make sure the camera would capture it.

Margaret, whose personal jewel collection contains many fine gems, seemed very proud of her ring, although by the standards of the wealthy Windsors it is a modest jewel. It is a ruby set in gold and surrounded by small diamonds in the shape of a flower.

The ex-society photographer and the sister of Queen Elizabeth came to the posing session from a long discussion of plans for their wedding with the Queen Mother and Prince Philip.

The educated guess was that the Princess would be an April or June bride. It was not yet decided whether the story-book wedding should be part of a day of pageantry centering around Westminster Abbey or whether a quieter ceremony would take place in a lesser church.

Traditionally royal engagements are not long ones. This pointed to a wedding before midsummer.

But there can be no question of a ceremony during Lent, in accordance with Church of England custom. That leaves the period after Easter, which falls on April 17.

However, Queen Mother Elizabeth is scheduled to go to Africa in May to open the new Kariba Dam. It was believed that Margaret, extremely family conscious, would not marry without her mother present.

Experts, therefore, rated late April, before the Queen Mother's departure, or early June after her return, as possible marriage dates.

Margaret and Armstrong-Jones will make their first public appearance together on Tuesday night, at a gala ballet performance at the royal opera house, Covent Garden.

Breakfast Habits Are Pinpointed

PARIS (AP) — French chefs rule supreme at lunch and dinner but the Americans and English are kings at the breakfast table, a Paris expert said reported to his countrymen Saturday.

Dr. Andre Soubiran, writing in the weekly magazine L'Espresso de France, advised Frenchmen to give up their frugal habits at the breakfast table.

The way he described it, the average Frenchman starts the day by gulping a cup of scorching hot coffee. A real gourmet adds a hot roll. That's all.

Then, the Frenchman catches up with a lunch that would floor an Anglo-Saxon, the doctor said. While the lunch might be a gastronomic delight, it has the effect over the years of giving Frenchmen that widespread complaint, "a crisis of the liver."

Such habits are dangerous to health in the fast paced 20th Century society, Dr. Soubiran said.

"Yes," the doctor added, "it is in England and in America that one knows how to prepare a man or a woman for a day's work with an appropriate first meal."

He recommended that Frenchmen make the acquaintance of a kippered herring at breakfast, or maybe even pancakes with syrup or ham and eggs. If this is too much for traditional Frenchmen, he advocated a soft boiled egg.

Then, he said, Frenchmen would be less inclined toward those copious lunches that result, among other things, in a sharp increase in afternoon motor accidents when overloaded drivers make their way back to work. Frenchmen must not despair at these necessary changes, the doctor said.

"There will always remain dinner, at which you can take your revenge against the 20th Century and remind yourself that France remains the nation of gourmets."

Disclosure Given By Air Officer

SHANNON AIRPORT, Ireland (AP) — An airport official told an inquest jury Friday night he desperately tried to avert the crash of an Italian airliner that plunged into a nearby graveyard with the loss of 29 lives.

The disclosure came a few hours after one of the 23 survivors said in a TV interview he saw a fire in a port engine just before the big DC-7C airliner dived to destruction.

Jim Rockett, airport control officer, told the 12-man jury that the New York-bound plane appeared to take off normally early Friday after a stopover on a flight from Rome.

"After about a mile, I estimated the plane's height at 300 feet," Rockett said. "Then it took a sudden, sharp turn to the left, losing about 50 feet. I considered that abnormal."

"Immediately I advised the pilot that he was too low. There was no reply. And then the plane plunged and crashed."

Shannon experts estimated the plane should have been at about 1,000 feet when Rockett saw it at 300 feet. There was no technical testimony as to why the plane was so low or what might have caused the crash. The inquest as adjourned until identification of victims is completed.

A survivor, Mario Pavese of Genoa, said from a wheelchair in a TV interview he saw a fire break out in a port engine, which seemed to cut out just before the plane crashed.

Eighteen of the 23 survivors, nearly all Italians, were in critical condition in hospitals at Limerick and Ennis. Among them was Rocco Colagio, listed as from North Tonawanda, N. Y.

Confusion still surrounded the identities of most of the dead. Many were mangled in the plane's fiery crash. Most of the dead were Americans or Italians.

One of the identified dead was Giulia Creel, a bride of four months whose husband is U.S. Army Lt. James Creel Jr. of New York City.

An American husband and wife, Franco and Nicoletta Como from New York City, were among the mourners. Airline officials said they had offered employment in the United States to an Italian family named Scaffari.

Two of the family died in the crash.

Sen. Morton Sees Stall For Rights

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.) predicted Saturday that showdown protests against segregated eating facilities would stall action on civil rights legislation now before the Senate.

The Republican National Chair, D-Tex., had brought the bill to the floor, he may not be supporting the administration measure.

Morton said the only hope he could see for speeding civil rights legislation through Congress was for the Senate to pass a bill delayed, he said, he felt the legislation would survive heavy attack.

Official Says Apalachin Wall Pierced

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal narcotics official said Saturday a two-year wall of silence surrounding the notorious Apalachin underworld gathering has been pierced at last.

The meeting dealt primarily by Southern senators without major changes.

"It was certainly unfortunate that the showdown strikes came at this particular time," said Morton, here to address the state GOP convention. "The effect will probably be a further thinning of the numbers in Congress."

He said he expected Congress to pass a bill that would ensure Negroes of voting rights and make provisions against bombings of churches and schools.

Asked if he thought there might be a limit to Senate debate on the issue, Morton said he doubted that civil rights backers could muster the necessary two-thirds vote.

He added that, although Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson had brought the bill to the floor, he may not be supporting the administration measure.

Morton said the only hope he could see for speeding civil rights legislation through Congress was for the Senate to pass a bill delayed, he said, he felt the legislation would survive heavy attack.

with enforcing "an edict for all members to cease and desist from trafficking in narcotics," the official said.

He added that the 60-odd delegates also discussed "the Mafia taking over gambling in Nevada and the Cuban gambling operation." The Mafia is an international underworld society spawned many years ago in Sicily. It reputedly rules a vast world vice empire.

The official, Charles Siragusa, a field supervisor for the Federal Narcotics Bureau and himself of Sicilian descent, said young elements in the crime syndicate ignored the edict to lay off narcotics "because of the fantastic profits made in the insidious racket."

He told a meeting of law enforcement officers that reprisals for those who disobeyed the order were "subsequently manifested by the murders of a few top ranking gangsters who chose to violate the edict of their criminal bosses."

Many of those who attended the upstate Apalachin meeting, at the plush private estate of the late Joseph L. Barbara Sr., have been jailed for giving evasive answers about what authorities termed the real reason for it.

Almost to a man they claimed that they had merely dropped by to see a sick friend — Barbara. He died later of a heart condition.

Siragusa said agents of his bureau wrested the secrets of the Nov. 14, 1957, parley through penetration of underworld groups and, in some cases, conversations with those actually present.

"The agenda of the Apalachin meeting will never become fully known to law enforcement officers," he added. He did not specify why he thought so.

There has long been speculation that the conclave was concerned with a battle for power among some of the nation's underworld rulers. Siragusa said that actually was one of the purposes.

He described this as "the dispute for power between Vito Genovese and the Frank Costello factions," but gave no details.

Genovese has been described by the federal government as "king of the rackets" and U.S. chief of the "Black Hand" Mafia crime empire.

Costello long has been regarded as another overlord of American rackets. He figured prominently in the spectacular hearings televised across the country a few years ago by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee.

Costello now is serving time for income tax evasion and a move to strip him of his citizenship was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals here earlier this month. Genovese also is in prison.

State X-Ray Technicians Hold Meeting

Dr. Charles M. Lebrano was the principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Northeast Louisiana X-ray Technicians, held at the Conway Memorial Hospital here. He presented his address on proper training, ethics, and patient relationship to the technicians.

Dr. Lebrano also pointed out the importance of having proper trained men in all fields of the work.

Refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Virginia McElmore, and Miss Betty Hatten to the members present.

BRISTOW, Okla. (UPI) — Willie Garfield was convicted of grand larceny and sent to the state penitentiary for stealing pecans from a Bristow mill.

Mickey Case Is Awaiting Jury Ruling

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Did one of 29 grand jury witnesses reveal new evidence being tested in the Margaret McMillan killing investigation?

That question may never be answered to anyone outside the secrecy of the 12-man East Baton Rouge Parish (county) grand jury and a few select law officers.

Or it may be brought out later in open court if the grand jurors decide to send the dean of the Louisiana State University graduate school to trial on a charge of murder.

Dr. George H. Mickey, 50-year-old father of two grown children, faces a charge he murdered the unmarried woman professor he had known several years.

Mickey is awaiting the grand jury's decision in jail — spending much of his time on a research project.

Dr. McMillan, 38, found beaten to death Jan. 10, taught at the LSU New Orleans campus. She was a biologist, as is Dr. Mickey.

Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot said tests are being run by the state police crime laboratory here. He and grand jury foreman Sidney Lacy Jr. declined to give any details before the grand jury started a five-day recess.

The district attorney said Ray Herd, head of the crime lab, will be the first witness after the grand jury returns to work at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. Herd will report on the tests.

The report either could be on unfinished work begun earlier by the crime scientists under Herd. Or it could concern leads developed while the grand jurors questioned more than a score of people close to both Mickey and the slain woman.

Nine officers including Sheriff Bryan Clemmons, top detectives and Herd gave testimony and evidence to the grand jury.

Most other witnesses were professors, students and secretaries at LSU in New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Mickey's 19-year-old son, Don Dave, a pre-medical student at LSU, also testified.

Young Mickey became so shaken during questioning that he had to be taken outside to be calmed down. His father's attorney, Robert L. Kleinpeter, stayed in close touch with the boy although he could not go into the secret session of the jurors.

Officers have let out little official information that could give a hint what the evidence under study could be.

Herd has figured prominently in gathering evidence in the McMillan case, as in other cases over the state where a crime scientist is needed.

The state police criminologist and chemist found human blood on Dr. Mickey's automobile.

The state says the flecks of blood and a poor alibi forced the case into grand jury study in the first place.

BUT DANGER NOT OVER Hemophiliac Brothers Survive Worst Years

By MRS. JIMMIE KENTON
Special Correspondent

Bobby Paillette was 17 years old on February 8. He is looking forward to graduating from Mangham High School in May. His hopes are high now, because his brother, Charles, will be 21 years old on August 1. Charles graduated from Mangham High School in 1938; from a Monroe business college in 1939 and is now employed as a bookkeeper in Winnsboro.

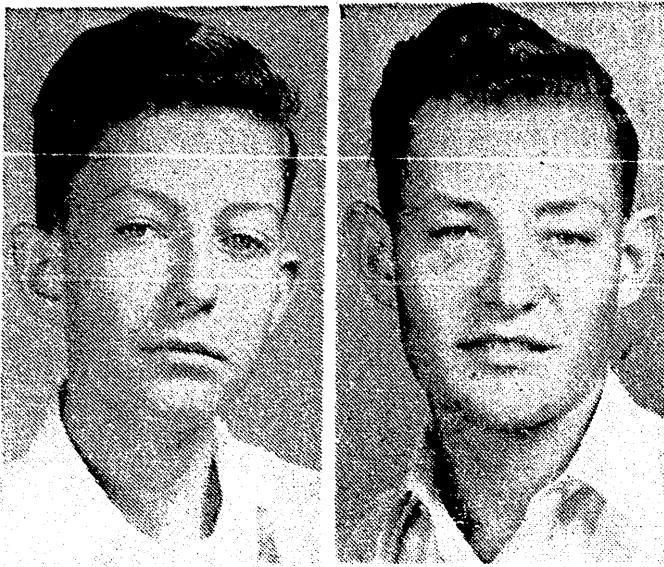

With thousands of boys graduating from high schools each spring, why is the story of these two boys unusual? Both are victims of hemophilia.

CHANCES SLIGHT
The Science Digest recently reported that 85 per cent of all hemophiliacs die during childhood and early adolescence.

Hemophilia is a congenital condition in which clotting of the blood is abnormally delayed. Even a slight cut or bruise can cause severe and prolonged hemorrhage. At present it is incurable and the only known therapy is the transfusion of whole blood or plasma.

The first indication of trouble came to the family of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Paillette of R. F. D. 2, Rayville, when their son, George Thomas, was two years old. They noticed a bruise on his arm, which began to swell rapidly.

"Sunny," as he was called, was BOBBY AND CHARLES Paillette, of Richland Parish, both victims of the dread blood disease hemophilia, have passed the most dangerous stage of their malady and have now begun to think about useful careers. Both have lived through their youth with the constant fear hanging over their head of bleeding to death from any one of a number of small accidents considered normal in most homes. Bobby, left, is a senior at Mangham High School. His brother Charles, now 20, graduated from Mangham High and is now employed in Winnsboro.

carried to their doctor and in his was five years and three months old.

That was not the end, Mr. and Mrs. Paillette had learned that both Charles and Bobby were also hemophiliacs. However, word had come that there was a doctor in Fort Bragg, Calif., who might help, so the family moved out of every 10,000 white males.

Sometimes it will lie dormant for many generations. The sons of a victim are not hemophiliacs, and they do not pass it on. However, all of his daughters are carriers of the sinister gene and may therefore transmit the condition to their sons.

The odds are heavy against a hemophiliac living to reach maturity.

The family was stunned by the diagnosis. There was no known history of hemophilia in the family. Searching family records, they learned that a little brother of Mrs. Paillette's mother, had died of a "bleeding disease."

Mr. and Mrs. Paillette were unable to accept the fact that their child was doomed. Frantically they began to search for a cure.

HOPE FOUND
Finally friends in California wrote that they had heard of a doctor in Santa, Calif., who was successfully treating the condition.

The Paillettes sold what they had, took their children and set out for California. They arrived there in February.

When they consulted the doctor, he sadly told them that their quest was in vain. He verified the Louisiana physician's diagnosis and told them that he would do all that he could, but it might be no use.

On June 8, "Sunny" developed symptoms of appendicitis. Surgery was used as a last resort. On June 9, he was dead. He School age approached. Could they bear to allow the boys to face the danger?

SCHOOL?

Life for their children was the most important thing in the world to Mr. and Mrs. Paillette, but they realized that should their boys be among the blessed 15 per cent who lived to reach manhood, life alone would be inadequate for Bobby and Charles. They must have an education and vocational or professional training, especially suited to their needs.

They decided to risk it. Off to school went the boys, loving everyday of it. They did a normal share of teasing the girls and tormenting the teachers, and made good grades.

Repeated internal bleeding into the joint cavities had caused them to be painfully crippled at times. They attended school on crutches. When they were unable to attend, they kept up with their school work at home.

In high school they took part in extra activities, asking no special favors because of their condition. Both Bobby and Charles were active in FFA work. Charles served as treasurer of the organization. Bobby played in the band and Charles was in the high school chorus. When his senior class named favorites, Charles was chosen "Wittiest."

Then Bobby had a no-nonsense tooth which needed extracting. While this is important enough to the average person, it can be especially serious to the hemophiliac. The danger lies in the possibility of prolonged bleeding after an extraction. Although extraction of teeth has been done, it is a dangerous procedure and is recommended only as a last resort. When such a condition does arise, the patient must be admitted to a hospital where surgery can be done under the advice and supervision of a hematologist.

Seven pints of blood were needed for Bobby. The Paillettes again solicited the friends who had been so generous with their help and their blood. This time they got the promise of only two pints. Extraction could not be done.

The tooth was treated. Eventually it broke off and the gums healed over the place. The fact that the Paillettes could not get enough blood did not mean that they did not have friends. They had many who had helped them in every way possible. It was simply that Bobby has the rare type, AB negative blood, and there were not enough people who understood the magnitude of the trouble.

'IN OUR TIME'
Few people know that there are eleven adults and thirty-four children from the states of Louisiana and Mississippi who are registered with the New Orleans chapter of the National Hemophiliac Foundation. Many people are not aware that there is such an organization, which has for its motto: "A Cure In Our Time."

According to Jennie Rickoll, who serves on the board of directors of the New Orleans chapter, the group is endeavoring to secure enough funds to hold a clinic in New Orleans one day each month.

The following program is being vigorously supported by the foundation:

Research in new and improved methods of therapy; expansion of orthopedic services to all who need them; assistance in education, vocational guidance and social adjustment; and the registration of all hemophiliacs.

Any person would probably share his blood if he realized that in his own veins was flowing life for the hemophiliac—blood, dark, thick and rich with all the complex protein fractions that make for coagulation. The hemophiliac needs blood direct from a healthy person. Red Cross bank blood will not do. Stored blood loses its clot-producing factors, unless medical researchers transform it into fresh frozen plasma or anti-hemophilic globulin.

Often, after even the slightest injury, and sometimes for no apparent reason at all, the capillaries within the knee or ankle begin to seep blood into the narrow spaces of the joints. As the pressure of the confined fluid on the nerve trunks increase it soon causes unbearable pain.

PAIN CONSTANT
All of their lives Bobby and Charles have known the endless pounding, squeezing pain, which medical authorities agree is one of the most excruciating pains known to mankind. When you seemingly drown in your own perspiration; when your teeth ache from incessant clenching; when your tongue floats in your mouth and bombs explode back of your eyeballs; when darkness and light fuse into one hue of grey—time stands still. If narcotics are used too frequently, the symptoms of recurrent bleeding may be masked.

The boys won the hearts of the doctors and nurses at Riverside Sanitarium in Monroe, where they spent so much time. Dr. A. D. Tisdale administered everything known to medical science, with love and compassion in his heart for the brave little boys.

Mrs. Tisdale, with her quiet strength, was always at hand to do what she could for the family.

Once, after a desperate battle had been fought for Bobby's life—when he had bled until his tongue swelled out of his mouth—the bleeding had at last been stopped. But treatment had to be continued. The slightest degree of motion might dislodge clots and cause small blood vessels to tear which might lead to more bleeding.

Bobby was exhausted, sick, and wanted to go home. He decided that he would have no more of it.

Dr. Tisdale cajoled and threatened. In desperation he turned from the bed to look out the window. There he saw his own small son, Dent, playing with his pet goat on the hospital grounds.

With a humble heart, he turned back to the little boy and pleaded.

"Bobby, please just let me do this so you will be well and you can go out and play with Dent and his goat."

"D— that goat," sobbed Bobby. "I want to go home."

In contrast to the nightmare of weeks of illness, were all of the joys of boyhood.

The Paillettes were thankful for every new day, and determined that their sons should have a normal home life. Since they had little hope of a long life for their boys, they tried to make every day a good day.

They attended church and Sunday School. There was much love, laughter, good natured teasing and a warm comradeship among them.

Mrs. Paillette has been blessed with an effervescent spirit. She encircles the family with her warmth and cheerfulness.

The father is a calm, soft-spoken fellow, who adds his dry wit to the family fun.

Their daughter, Jackie, is a rare combination of the two. In spite of the sword hanging over their heads, theirs is a happy home. Two high-spirited boys were not content to spend their well days quietly. They fished, swam, and played ball—sometimes going to the hospital as a result. They could not resist a hoe, and especially did they love a hammer and nails.

Just last year Bobby and Charles took their mother to the woods and showed her a tree house which they had constructed in secret.

Her knees trembled as she saw, there in the top of a tall tree, the work of her young sons. Surely the Good Lord had held tight to their hands as they worked with saw and hammer! The tree house was built years ago. They had spent many happy hours playing there.

Bobby and Charles are perhaps closer than most brothers, but as children they settled their differences with their fists before they were to be separated. Once, in a doctor's office, when both were on crutches, they decided, with a few swift licks, who would go out the door first.

The boys are not cured. Christmas of 1959 found both Bobby and Charles in the hospital. Charles stayed two weeks; Bobby stayed

Monroyan In Leading Role At College

NATCHITOCHES (Special)

Bill Ramin, a senior speech student at Northwestern State College, will be featured in one of the two leading roles in "Bell, Book and Candle," a three-act comedy by John Van Druten, to be presented by the College Theatre on March 2 through 4.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ramin, Sr., of 807 Downey Lane in Monroe. He will take the role of Shepherd Henderson in the play.

Ramin is president of the Davis Players, a college theatrical group, and formerly served as treasurer of that organization. He was named best actor at NSC this year. In addition, he is an honor student and president of Alpha Psi Omega.

Performances for the three-day run have been set for 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

SMALLEST

Dr. Edna West, professor of speech and director for the play, stated that a five-member cast will be the smallest ever to appear in an NSC production.

Joining Ramin in the lead will be Miss Patsy Gladden of Shreveport as Gillian Holroyd. Other members of the cast are Jayne Hazell of Natchitoches, Miss Holroyd; Kevin Lynch, of New York, Nicky Holroyd, and Al four weeks. But they have survived the most dangerous period of their lives—childhood and the adolescent years.

Their trial by fire—or by blood—has given them a deep sense of life's enduring values, which some people never find. They have learned that out of weakness can come strength; that man sometimes conquers.

Charles is a tall, slim, quiet young man, with a dignity of manner which commands your respect. There is always a twinkle in his eyes for his brother Bobby, who is still a bundle of mischief.

Bobby has set his sights on the law profession. No doubt when he hangs out his sign, his courtroom antics are going to make Perry Mason seem as dull as ancient history. He has his mother's persistence. "Today is good... tomorrow will be better."

The next time your child slices her finger and you stop the bleeding with a band aid, give some thought to hemophiliacs everywhere and say a special prayer for the National Hemophiliac Foundation, that it may realize its goal: "A Cure In Our Time."

Byrnes of Jennings, Sidney Redlitch.

The plot of the play, which was a Broadway hit and successful movie, deals with a modern witch's attempts to cast a spell on an unattached publisher. The play is one of Van Druten's greatest comedy successes and enjoyed a long run on Broadway with Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer in the starring roles.

Donald Cain, instructor of speech, will serve as technical director.

Cricket Farmers

By JANICE CLARK
Special Correspondent

CROSSETT, Ark. — That little cricket chirping outside your window, when multiplied by 200,000, means big business for a couple in south Crossett who have set up a cricket farm just a few yards from their back door.

Like everything else that looks simple to the uninitiated, crickets are very complicated to raise by the hundreds of thousands, and there are many slips between the first 1,000 "breeders" and the peak "crop" of from 50,000 to 200,000 bits of lively fish bait.

FIRST

Joe and Edna West saw their first cricket farm about four years ago when they were visiting their son in Georgia. They came home, set up a home-made series of boxes and feeding trays, and ordered 1,000 of the popular Australian strain of grey crickets from the Georgia farm.

It wasn't long before they realized they would either have to give up raising crickets, or go into raising them in a big way. With their two years of hobby cricket - raising, they had some idea of what they were letting themselves in for, but even so, the couple decided to be cricket farmers on a large scale. Now they are getting ready for the peak fishing season, and will have around 200,000 crickets "ripe" for the spring market. That is a lot of chirping on the earth: in fact, the Wests' "brooder house" sounds like a house full of baby chicks. The chirping is so constant and strong when multiplied by thousands and thousands.

Their major investment consists in a 20' x 40' building, which houses 40 eight-foot bins. These sheet-metal bins have been made to order, and meticulously sealed at all corners.

If there is the least opening, thousands of crickets will promptly find it and escape. A hinged screen top on each bin permits easy access to all parts of the long box.

The raising process starts when the Wests put a nest in a bin of brooder crickets. The nest is an ordinary cake tin filled with a moist mixture of peat moss and sand. No female cricket will lay her eggs unless there is a properly prepared "nest." If West wants to cut down on the number of crickets he will raise during an off season, he simply withholds the nest. The female will live out her four to four and one-half months of life without reproducing. However, the nest is covered with crickets within minutes after it is put in a bin of adults. The brooder crickets deposit thousands of eggs in the nest, and when the Wests decide a nest is about full, they remove it to an empty bin. Crickets are cannibalistic, and the adults would devour the babies if they were allowed to hatch out in the brooder bin. Each nest hatches out from 7,000 to 8,000 babes in the new bin.

TINY

Newly hatched crickets are white, and about the size of a flea, growing to maturity in about two months. When a nest hatches out in the huge bin, they look rather lost for two or three weeks. However, they grow rapidly, and as they begin to cover the floor of their bin, wide-shaved excelsior is spread about to give them an airy multi-floored home. More excelsior is added as they grow — otherwise they would heap up and smother one another.

A four-inch band of slick white enamel is painted around the inside edge of each bin, which keeps the lively bream bait from hopping out of their dormitory. The burrs on their feet can't cling to the slick enamel, so they tumble back as they try to escape.

With one nest to each eight-foot bin, and with the peak bream season on its way in, the Wests will have all 40 sheet-metal bins filled with chirping, hopping, breeding, eating crickets within a few weeks.

The "eating" bit is quite an item, too. The crickets, along with three great bins West has outdoors of red "wiggler" worms, consume as much as 75 pounds of laying mash a week. They are fed the laying mash rather than baby chick growing food, because the latter contains antibiotics, which would kill the crickets. Their food is placed in paper picnic plates in each bin and is replaced at least every two days.

Natchez Pilgrimage Underway Old South Blossoms

By DALLAS ROPER
State Editor

NATCHEZ, Miss. — Once each year the Old South blossoms forth again with all the splendor of the Confederacy. And Natchez "blossoms" welcome visitors to this beautiful city to enjoy the spectacle.

Natchez's annual pilgrimage began Saturday and will continue through the month of March until the 30th, and visitors are expected to pour in from all over Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and a multitude of far-away states to relive the antebellum life of the days before the War Between the States.

HOMES OPEN

During the pilgrimage, the homes of Natchez will be thrown open to the public for viewing. The lavishly furnished and well-preserved Southern homes will ring with the delighted sighs of those who have never experienced their beauty and will receive the appreciative commendation of those who are seeing them again.

The pilgrimage includes a tour of the homes — six tours to be exact, which include five homes in each tour — the Confederate Pageant, produced four nights each week during the season, and stirring Negro spiritual singing on the other three nights of the week.

The historic value of the pilgrimage is great. The homes are some of the finest in the country in respect to preserving the portion of American history dealing with the South and its traditions.

One of the foremost of these homes is Stanton Hall which is the official headquarters for the pilgrimage. This famous old home, described as "the most palatial of Natchez's antebellum homes," is the property of the Pilgrimage Garden Club. It is open to the public daily during the months surrounding the pilgrimage. However, during the month of March it will be open only on designated tours.

MONUMENTS

Stanton Hall stands as a magnificent and imposing monument to that romantic era in the history of the Old South when cotton was king. It has been restored and furnished throughout with antiques. It was built in 1851.

Other notable homes included in the six tours are Holly Hedges, Arlington, The Burn, Arlie, Rosalie, The Parsonage, Mistletoe, Mount Repose, Lansdowne, The Elms, Hawthorne, Longwood, Gloucester, Connelly's Tavern, Monmouth, Montaigne, D'Evereux, Cherokee, Bontura, Twin Oaks, Linden, Melrose, Elmscourt, Elgin, The Briers, Richmond, Hope Farm, Dunleith and Green Leaves.

Recently when Natchez's "Miss America," Lynda Meade, returned home, part of the ceremonies was filmed at Dunleith for broadcast on the Dave Garraway "Today" show.

HOOP SKIRTS

Hostesses wearing hoop-skirts and all the regalia of the Old South will be on hand to greet visitors on the tours at each of the homes.

One of the outstanding highlights of the pilgrimage — one that is proclaimed a "must" by previous visitors — is the Confederate Pageant presented at 8:30 on the evenings of Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday during the pilgrimage in the city auditorium.

The brilliant performance depicts scenes of the Old South and is designed to transport the audience to the "days of long ago." The "spectacular" recreates highlights of Natchez history. Royalty reigning during the run of the pageant will be Miss Lynn Ketchings, queen, and Edmond Lee Green as king.

Miss Mary Gatewood Lambert is the reigning queen of the Pilgrimage Garden Club and her king is Bernard Pendleton Wood. Both royal couples will be presented on the night of March 14.

CLIMAX

Young people take part in the pageant almost from babyhood. This event is described by those close to the entire pilgrimage as "the climax of the entire season."

An example of this participation is Mrs. Basil Ballard. When she was a small child she was a page, or train bearer for the queen. Later she took part in many facets of the tableaux, including the court. This year her five-year-old daughter, Dix, will be a page.

On the alternate nights when the pageant is not being performed, Negro spirituals will be sung at 8:15 at the Beulah Baptist Church.

Another aspect of the pilgrimage which always leaves guests aghast at its beauty is the dazzling array of flowers that bloom during the event. Normal weather conditions bring out the floral beauty of the city in the typical splendor of the South.

ACTIVITY

The city of Natchez has been a beehive of activity all during February as the citizenry prepared for the annual onslaught of tourists. Home owners have made all the necessary preparations for the tours. The pageant committee has worked diligently in preparing costumes, sets and getting together casts for the tableaux.

The costs of the pilgrimage are nominal, especially when one considers all that is to be gained from the adventure. The tours and the pageant both have slight fees, but none are prohibitive.

The Natchez pilgrimage, for those who enjoy history — or just sheer beauty — is an event that cannot be outdone anywhere. As one said recently who had attended the pilgrimage three times, "Heavens, the time for the pilgrimage is here already. I must get my reservations soon. I can't afford to miss it." This is the feeling of those who know what is in store for them. The others look forward to their trip to Natchez with eager anticipation.

Middleton Stays On

Those who seek the best for Louisiana State University should be gratified that General Troy H. Middleton for the second time has agreed to stay on as President after notifying the Board of Supervisors of his intention to retire.

In 1958 General Middleton told the board that he wished to retire on June 30, 1959, "if not sooner." The Board persuaded him to remain indefinitely. Recently, having reached 70 -- the age of compulsory retirement -- the general stated that he wished to retire as of next June 30. A special meeting of the Board was called for five days later and the Board simply "rejected" his request. Of course, the actual procedure was that a group of Board members had called on General Middleton and persuaded him to stay.

General Middleton is making definite sacrifices in remaining as President of LSU. Those who are close to him know the problems he faces better than can be stated here. He has served his country magnificently in war. Since becoming President of LSU, he has been of inestimable value to that institution. It has made tremendous gains under him, especially during the past few years. It is natural that he should think of retirement.

All of this points up the fact that General Middleton cannot remain as President of LSU forever and that sooner or later a search will have to be made for a successor. General Middleton has not specified how long he is willing to remain in his post. Certainly, having twice agreed to reverse his retirement plans, he should remain for several years at least.

If the General has in mind a shorter period, some intimation of that should be given to the Board of Supervisors -- and to the public. It would be especially inappropriate for him to retire in the near future with a new Board of Supervisors administration schedule to come into being this summer. And Governor designate Jimmie Davis will have four appointments to the Board to make during his term, two of them as of next June 30 and two in 1962.

Unfortunately, General Middleton's announcement that he would retire June 30th, and his willingness only five days later to reverse himself and remain in office, has brought into action certain politician-educational groups and individuals who always have their eye on LSU -- especially on its presidency. If there is one thing that should be avoided now, it is undercover campaigns in behalf of some potential successor to General Middleton.

Such activity in behalf of one LSU faculty member actually has been going on for some time. He happens to be, in the opinion of well qualified educators, about the last man who should be selected for the presidency of the State University.

Another point that may need some thought on the part of some members of the Board of Supervisors is this: General Middleton is President of LSU and the assumption must be that he will be President for some time to come. There should be extreme care that administrative duties which fall on the shoulders of the President are left entirely to him, without intentional or unintentional intrusion on the part of the Board or Board members. It is very difficult at times to define the line between establishment of philosophy of administration, which is the function of the Board, and actual administration of that philosophy, which is the function of the President and those under him. General Middleton has proved his ability and nothing should be permitted to obstruct his application of it.

When the time does come to choose a new President for LSU, the Board will not find it an easy task. It is never easy to find a man truly capable of heading such an institution as LSU and it will be difficult to find someone measuring up to General Middleton's stature.

Anyone who seeks the job, or for whom it is sought by concerted pressure, should be discarded at once -- and perhaps should be informed quietly right now that he will be discarded when the time comes for decision.

The post of President of a University such as LSU should seek the man; should seek someone who has no idea of leaving his present post -- whatever or wherever it may be -- and who is not trying to pull strings to get the job.

Certainly a man of Southern viewpoint and heritage must be chosen, but he need not necessarily be in the South at the time of selection, nor is it essential that an LSU faculty be chosen, or an LSU alumnus.

What LSU must have when General Middleton does step out is a President who not only believes in the South but who is as thoroughly capable as an educator and administrator as can be found anywhere. No salary is too high for such a man and no effort should be spared in finding him.

All of this is in the future. The important thing now is for the Board, the LSU alumni, and all others to realize that General Middleton is in command of administration at LSU, that he must have full support, and no interference with his administration.

Nehru Attitude Criticized

India's parliament has grown angry over Prime Minister Nehru's handling of that country's border clash with Red China. Shortly following Chinese invasion of northern Indian border country, Nehru appeared to take a firm stand against Red China. Now, he has invited Chinese Premier Chou-En-lai to New Delhi to discuss the border dispute.

This is the switch in attitude members of the Indian parliament, and many western nations are unable to understand. The "bargaining" following the Korean War and the arrest of the heads of state in Hungary following the Hungarian uprising in 1956 show the Communists will bargain only when the cards are stacked in their favor.

The India-China dispute may serve as a reminder to the free world how futile it is to make any attempt at sitting down and talking it over with the Communists. Nehru had rejected at first any of Chou's proposals for a meeting, saying there was no chance for agreement while there was such a difference of opinion on facts pertaining to the northern Indian border.

This position met with praise throughout the free world. Time after time it has been noted the nations within the Soviet empire keep constant pressure on their neighbors. This was the case in Korea and is noted from time to time in eastern Europe. When opposing pressure drops, the Red nation will rush in to fill the so-called "power vacuum."

Now Prime Minister Nehru has chosen to back away from a "firm" stand and hope for a negotiated settlement with Red China. The change in position has not only given the Red Chinese the signal to move ahead at the next opportunity but has caused an uproar in the Indian government.

Nehru touched off a storm by accusing critics in the Peoples' Socialist Party of opposing any settlement between India and China. He denied that he had revealed his position by inviting the Red Chinese premier to come to New Delhi to discuss the dispute.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Late Planes Disturbing

Cheerful Policy Of Thinking Delayed Service Does Not Matter Should Be Thrown Into Discard

"Can you tell me when Flight X from Los Angeles will arrive? I understand it is delayed."

"I'll find out for you," says a sweet voice. After a pause, she comes back: "It was delayed three or four hours for mechanical servicing. We can only say that it was supposed to leave at 1 p.m. (The last time I phoned, the girl said that it would leave at noon.) We have no notice yet that it has left. Call in about an hour."

I say: "A passenger on that plane is due for dinner at 7 p.m. and for theater after that."

"Well," says the sweet voice, "in this mechanical age, anything can happen. It does not matter what business you're in, the machines do go wrong sometimes."

This is a very cheerful philosophy but not very encouraging. The airlines ought to have sufficient equipment so that they take the risk of a mechanical default. All they have to sell is time--speed. If the airplane does not give the passenger the advantage of reaching his destination on time, speedily, safely, surely, it does not perform its objective. The same is true of railroads. The same is true of buses. When the airplanes do not arrive on time or close to time, it can only be that their system is defective and requires correction, unless the failure is due to weather or another unfavorable act of God. A four or five hour delay in departure is a betrayal of the essential function.

The excuse of the airplane companies has always been that safety is more important than any other factor. It is not a valid excuse. In their calculations as to the cost of operations, they ought to include the item of stand-by equipment to replace any which may suddenly get out of order. In a word, if at 10 a.m., it is discovered that a plane cannot leave, because of a mechanical defect, a substitute plane ought to be made available to bring the passengers in.

I recognize the enormous cost of such a service, but when a common carrier sells a ticket to bring a person from one point to another, specifying the time of departure and arrival, that is a contract and should be kept. To fail to keep it is an unfair trade practice. Both the railroads and the airplane companies have become careless about time. It used to be that the Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central boasted that it arrived on the dot and paid a penalty when it failed. Men took time seriously in those days as they did manners, politeness, outward decency.

One girl, in discussing an eight and a half hour delay of a jet plane, said: "I'm glad that they turned back." This may be good public relations. She was glad that they turned back; otherwise the passengers might have been killed. However, the alternative ought not to be death or delay; there could have been a stand-by plane available to take care of trouble.

The transportation system of the United States, like so much else of the post-war period, requires rationalization. The railroads have gone to pot on the whole, particularly the suburban lines of big cities which cannot compete with buses and private cars; crack trains have lost their elegance in competition with airplanes. The airplanes have become as stuck-up as a successful television pitchman. Someday, a clever airplane manager will devise a method of guaranteed performance even if he takes his time about it. He will say that his planes arrive approximately at such and such a time, advising those anxious about arrivals to call a certain number for more precise information.

I pose no simple problem because the cost of anything associated with airplanes is almost prohibitive. On the other hand, a service either stands up or it does not. The function of management is to make it as nearly perfect in proficiency as money and brains can make it. It is not my function to make what is called "constructive" criticism. I am not an engineer or a financier. Constructive criticism is the function; mine, as one of the public, is to complain when planes do not leave on time and do not arrive on time, or when baggage is lost.

I Need Just Faith

I NEED not eyes to see... Nor ears to hear... If by my faith in God... I have no fear... I need no hand to touch... No feet to stand... As long as I obey... His each command... No lung or nose to breathe... The fragrant air... No lips with which to smile... Or kisses shared... Not even sympathy to carry on... With sunshine promising... A brighter dawn... If now my body fails... To make the grade... There is no reason I... Should be afraid... I need just faith in God... With heart and soul... As He has said my faith... Will make me whole.

Man On Defense

Most Husbands Have Desperate Fight To Keep Old Clothes

NEW YORK (AP)—One difference between the sexes in America is in the realm of "clothing loyalty."

Most men have it. Few women do.

Most women like to get rid of an old dress as soon as possible and buy a new one. But men are just the opposite.

Where women love new clothing, men love old clothing. They cling to a well-worn suit with the same ardor they show the memory of their sainted mother.

There are many kinds of war--hot, cold and lukewarm--in every marriage. But in most homes there is one kind of warfare you are sure to find.

This is the long-continued guerrilla action by which the husband desperately tries to hold on to the old clothing his wife is equally determined to throw away--or give away.

My apartment has been a battlefield in this respect for 22 years. The morning after I carried my bride, Frances, across the threshold of our first apartment she tried to get me to discard the suit in which I had led her to the altar.

"It was bad enough to be married in that suit," she said. "Surely you don't intend to wear it to work."

"I certainly don't!" I told her firmly. "Why, I couldn't possibly throw it away. I wore that suit when I graduated from college--only five years ago--and I only bought it the year before that."

"It's practically new. Anyway, it's got a lot of memories."

But women, to coin a new remark, don't give up easily. Every year since then I've had to fight an endless tug of war to keep my wardrobe.

My wife is always calling up the Salvation Army man to come take my old clothes, and I have to meet him at the door and pay him to go away empty-handed.

The other day, getting an early start on her spring housecleaning, Frances opened the door to my closet and spoke thusly: "You know this isn't a wardrobe--it's a museum of the American male."

For the last 25 years."

There was some truth to her remark. I have a pair of gloves and a muffler I got about 1938, some slacks dating from 1939, a heavy overcoat I bought in Quebec in 1940, a pair of shoes from an Army PX in London in 1944. There are also old neckties going back to 1937 and three football-shouldered double-breasted suits circa 1947, 1948, and 1951.

For some reason it is the old double-breasted suits that make Frances most angry. Like most wives, she claims a double-breasted suit makes a fat man look fatter, whereas, like most husbands, I know a double-breasted suit makes a fat man look slender as the late Rudolph Valentino.

"You know the way you dress," she observed. "I'm afraid to go out with you in public for fear you'll be shot."

"Why should anyone shoot at me?"

"They might mistake you for William McKinley."

There is no real solution possible for this kind of marital warfare. And the reason is simple.

Women have no loyalty to old clothes because they have the idea that being up-to-the-minute in fashion makes them look younger.

Men, on the other hand, cling to old clothing because the old clothing makes them feel younger--and to heck with how it makes them look.

And there's the basic sex difference. A woman thinks she's as old as she looks, but a man always thinks he's as old as he feels.

Put him in a battered hat, a ruined sports jacket, and a run-down pair of shoes and he's happy. He may look like a walking rummage sale, but in his heart he's just a carefree college boy again.

A wife who insists on throwing away a husband's old clothes isn't simply discarding his well-loved past. She's tossing away his youth--and a man will fight for that.

Candidate Fates

Senator Johnson Displays

Barest Breast And Busiest Palm

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Not merely men, but ideas, are now marching to the fray of the 1960 presidential tests, like this:

With heart and hand: Of all the candidates, Senator Lyndon Johnson can be called the one with the barest breast and the busiest palm. The majority leader recently entertained two groups in his sumptuous quarters off the senate reception room. First was a delegation of city mayors and next the senior class of a very expensive and exclusive girl's school in Washington. He treated their honors and the giggling maidens with the same unbroken monologue of Johnsonia. He buttered them and charmed them. He sent them away, warmed like southern biscuits by the glow of his personality, to circulate among their home folks who may, perhaps, wonder how come they unconsciously became Johnson backers.

During the same week, Johnson had his fist wrapped around the spokes of the tiller which guides the ship of state, legislative branch. Headlines, cartoons, editorials in southern papers were storming at him for calling up the civil rights bill. Doctrinaire liberalism (excepting Senator Wayne Morse) were taking the ultimate line of immorality -- "the end justifies the means" -- and congratulating him on the slick trickery of using an obscure Missouri school district bill as a vehicle to carry civil rights amendments.

"Shucks," Lyndon told a visitor. "It didn't take any strategist or parliamentarian to pull off that one. Any ole blacksmith could've done it."

He was talking and planning, as he always does, with one eye on the calendar. Come July, when the conventions meet, he expects the 86th congress to show a record that will fairly shout -- "Rah, rah, Lyndon!" If the south is mad at him now, and the north is mad tomorrow, he knows they won't be that way very long. By adjournment time, they'll all love Lyndon.

Sound the Trumpet: Are there any votes in preparedness? Crack this nut, and the kernel will reveal the portents of Stuart Symington's destiny. He has piled up a popular voting record, succeeded brilliantly in every endeavor of life, won two senate campaigns with impressive majorities, taken his turn at flying the effigy of the Apostle, Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson. But the country knows Symington as the trumpeter of military vigilance, and as little else. Churchill and De Gaulle, in our time, have triumphed on this note. Will Symington?

Is Not Passion's Slave: Fellow senators say of Jack Kennedy that he is one of the few members who can cross the chamber's floor without speaking to anybody. Newspapermen, I believe, would never make this criticism of Kennedy, who is as relaxed and accessible as anybody in town, as friendly and considerate as a fraternity brother. But politicians are things that reporters miss. The senator's immersion in the deep waters of cogitation could be one of the campaign sleepers. Strangely, and to Jack's credit, there is no green-eyed glint of jealousy toward this young, wealthy, talented, famous, lucky man who stands on the edge of a stupendous success. But there is a feeling that unless he can edge his intellectuality with emotion, he will not make the last, necessary step.

The Wrong Slant: Richard Nixon, always an adroit performer, may have learned politics from the baseball advice of Tris Speaker, the great Cleveland center fielder of the 1920's. Speaker said that an outfielder who starts with the crack of the bat is too late -- he ought to start leaning with the pitch. But there is always a danger of leaning the wrong way. Nixon, anticipating the 1960 pitch, started bending to the left several years ago, and is still canted in that direction.

Although in the early innings you can't be sure, there are signs that Nixon may be caught off balance. At this writing, the most conservative all-party candidate is not the Republican Nixon, but the Democrat Johnson. Yet the signs are that the nation is in a conservative mood. Last year congress passed a strong labor bill against stiff union opposition, upheld veto after veto in which the president chopped down the spending. The country is souring on foreign aid and is cold toward ultra-internationalism like the world court and NATO congress. Nixon leaned left. Has the batter hit right?

The Rest is Silence: One of them talked too much, and the other talked too little. These are the joint epitaphs which political stone-cutters are preparing for the expiring chances of Hubert Humphrey and Adlai Stevenson. By saying much less Humphrey might have preserved his public image as a buoyant, bright-eyed liberal of the younger generation. But speaking out a little more, Stevenson might have revived his fading reputation as one of the party's elder statesmen, still spy enough for one more walk.

Verdi's Simon Boccanegra To Have A New Production

By W. G. ROGERS
NEW YORK (AP) — "There's a very long list of operas," said the Metropolitan Opera's general manager Rudolf Bing, holding his hands apart to show how long. "And our repertory, though I shouldn't say it," he said with a smile, "our repertory is a sort of remainder."

"At least, I sometimes think it's what we have left after we cross out the opera for which we have no singer, and the opera for which we have no scenery, and the one there is no time to rehearse."

MET IN MINIATURE: Rudolf Bing, Metropolitan Opera general manager, studies a model of the set for the prologue of Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra", which will have a new production.

VERDI IS POPULAR

He was explaining the choices which the Met—meaning mainly the manager—has made during his 10 years when the emphasis has been heavily on Giuseppe Verdi. The ninth Verdi opera to be given in this season alone, is "Simon Boccanegra," to be shown to the public next Tuesday night, the 10th, "Nabucco," the handy "Loraine," will open the 1960-61 season next October. Out of 40 operas completely refurbished in these 10 years, a quarter have been Verdi and the runner-up is Mozart.

"But seriously," Bing said,

"All opera houses are repertory houses. Not one of them can afford to put on the same work night after night. There are two reasons: The singer can't sing two nights in a row, as actors can play in the theater; and there isn't money enough to hire two equally good casts even if two equally good casts existed."

"When I came here, my first night opener was Verdi's 'Don Carlo,' and I planned even then to redo the entire Verdi list. When I was very young I was a great Wagnerian, but one's ideas change. I am delighted to find the New York public growing fonder of Mozart all the time."

"But primarily the Metropolitan's audience has Italian preference. Besides, as it happens, in the last 10 years there has arisen both here and abroad a great number of first-rate singers for the Italian repertory. So obviously we were tempted to do the works we could do well."

"It is only just recently that we have run across the singers we need for Wagner. We may have appeared to be short-changing Wagner, but it was nothing we could help."

The new "Simon Boccanegra," which hasn't been heard at the Met for 10 years, will be presented thanks to funds given by the Metropolitan Opera Guild. Frederick Fox will do sets and costumes, and Margaret Webster will stage it; it is his third Verdi assignment for the Met, the others being "Don Carlo" and "Aida."

Dimitri Mitropoulos will conduct. Leonard Warren will sing the title role, and the female lead will be entrusted to Mary Curtis Verna. This soprano from Salem, Mass., has sung often at the Met, and in lead parts, but they have usually been last-minute substitutions. This is a substitution, too, for Renata Tebaldi. Out of this particular premiere so long ago that Miss Curtis Verna was the management's deliberate choice, and she has had her full share of rehearsals with the entire company.

Portly Star Been Happy With Opera

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK (UPI)—The theater has had nothing fitted to Walter Slezak's measure this season, which, of course, is the theater's loss, but the portly star has been kept reasonably happy by television work and the opera. Especially the opera.

The jovial actor has been making periodic appearances at the Metropolitan Opera House playing the role of the Baron of Swine whenever "The Gypsy Baron" turns up in the repertoire. By season's end, he will have appeared in the part a couple of dozen times, for this frivolous item has been highly popular at the Met.

FATHER WAS STAR

"I hope my father smiles benignly on me wherever he is," Slezak said regarding this work in his fortress of classical music which the late Leo Slezak, one of the great tenors of his era, was gracing 50 years ago.

Walter was a youngster at the time, and he used to go to the opera house when his father appeared and played around backstage. He got to know every inch of the vast place. When he got tired, he slept in his father's dressing room.

"I wanted so much to be a fine singer like my father," the actor related, "but I just couldn't sing. I talk on pitch and manage to get orchestralists to make me sound better than I am. I call it singing when you can sustain a note. I can't do that."

At the Met, in "The Gypsy Baron," I have three singing numbers. But I know why they're using me—just for the laughs I might get. Just the same, I am singing at the Met. It cannot be denied."

BROADWAY LEADING MAN

Although never in his father's vocalizing class, it is a fact that 30 years ago when he was slim and youthful, Walter sang well enough to be a leading man in Broadway musicals at a time, unlike today, when it was felt that such performers should be able to sing. The Shuberts brought him here from Germany for "Meet My Sister," and he followed that with "Music in the Air" and "I Married an Angel."

A long period of movie acting got Slezak out of the habit of singing for a living, but he did come back five years ago to sing in the stage production of "Fanny." But by that time he was at the "talking off a song" stage.

Slezak is renowned as a raconteur, and his favorite subject is his father, who was a six-foot-seven giant and lived in the grand manner. Although the line has been attributed to many singers, Walter swears it was his father who, when a stagehand mistimed the arrival of the swan in "Lohengrin," uttered the classic ad lib, "When does the next swan leave?"

HI-FI and STEREO by Greg Hare

For the first time a commercial concern, London Records, has been honored in the same way that Richard Strauss, Herbert von Karajan, Hans Knappertsbush, Bruno Walter, the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Orchestra and the Berlin Philharmonic had been.

The Vienna Philharmonic presented the Nicolai medal in recognition of London's outstanding achievement in the production of pany to a singer of international fame. Her future on the stages of opera houses is now assured. In this album she sings excerpts from operas by Verdi and Donizetti. GLAZUNOV: THE SEASONS—BALLET OPUS 67. Albert Wolff conducting L'Orchestre De La Societe des Concerts Du Conservatoire De Paris. London CS 6116 (stereo). The best of Glazunov's music is distinguished by its delicate and imaginative orchestration. "The Seasons" takes you through a complete cycle of the weather seasons, Winter, Spring, Summer and Autumn. With the very imaginative orchestration that Albert Wolff presents one can almost feel the changes from one season to another.

HANDEL: "THE WATER MUSIC." Thurston Dart conducting the Philharmonia of London. London SOL 60010 (stereo). This is the music that is known to have delighted King George I, his courtiers, and many hundreds of music lovers, on a hot summer evening in 1717. It was played during a water trip from Whitehall to Chelsea. The score for this album was prepared from the original manuscripts. The orchestration on this disc is Handel's throughout and it may be presumed he knew what he was doing, when composing his music.

"ALWAYS." Roger Williams with Orchestras directed by Frank Hunter and Pete King. Kapp KL-1172 (LP). KS-3056 (stereo). Centuries from now, when so many of our modern scientific discoveries are entombed in dusty history books, people will still be listening to this music. These are the melodies that will live forever. Selections like "Stardust," "Moonlight and Roses," "Moonlight Sonata" and "The End of Time."

"HELLO BLUES." Floyd Cramer at the piano, produced by Chet Atkins. RCA Victor LP-12151. Pianist Floyd Cramer was born in Louisiana and reared in Hattiesburg, a small town now of West Monroe, gave him an early start at playing the piano. At the age of fifteen he was playing and traveling with such country stars as Webb Pierce and Faron Young. Miss Bones Will Keep Reader In Big Suspense

MISS BONES By Joan Fleming (ives Washburn, $2.95)

The sudden disappearance of a London art dealer, Mr. Walpurgis of Shepherd's Market, sets his young picture restorer to adding up two and two. When Mr. Walpurgis failed to return from a weekend holiday and days passed without a word from him, Thomas recalled some curious happenings of recent weeks. He began in earnest to investigate the movements of the mysterious and elusive man. Mr. Walpurgis finally reappeared, but the circumstances only made the whole matter more sinister and macabre, and Thomas soon found himself involved in a dangerous situation that carried him far beyond the call of duty.

Between Then And Now; Story Of Girl Irene

BETWEEN THEN AND NOW. By Alba de Cespedes. Translated from Italian by Isabel Quigley. Houghton Mifflin, $3.

A servant leaves, a servant returns, and between these significant incidents there unfold the person and the story of Irene.

The place is Rome; the time, post war; the social level, upper class. Irene has two sisters, Adriana and Marta; a mother who severely disapproves of her; and a lover or two or three, as well as the vagrant wish that it might be three or four. There was Maurizio, her first; the war helped end this relationship but already Pietro had appeared, and he looms ever larger as Irene tells of her newspaper work, her disagreement with her mother, and her dependence on the servant Erminia, a peasant in Rome with a pungent resemblance to Gertrude Stein's Anna in Baltimore. You are fascinated by Irene's sharp little questionings about money, pride, frankness, loneliness, and best and most wonderful, love.

All seemingly as light as air, it brims over just the same with the most intriguing woman's secrets.

With JOHN CALE

The two performances of the Mass in B Minor by Bach presented by the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra on the Tech series last week was one of all-season musical highlights.

The big mass is one of the heaviest of the musical world and Shaw had the solo and ensemble material to breathe life into the impressive composition.

The Monroe series is coming forward Saturday at Neville Auditorium with the Broadway play, "Dark at the Top of the Stairs," starring Joan Blondell. This marks the first occasion of a professional play being included on the local concert bill, which now bears the name North-east State Concert Series. The Hungarian Symphony was the series' big attraction last fall and Fred Warshaw's chorus is booked for a future date this spring.

THIS IS MUSIC?

"Composer" John Cage performed on one of the weekly television network programs and modern music took a coast-to-coast beating. Lacking in traditional emotion anyway, modern music has managed to survive by means of clean cut abstractions. This does not mean, however, a composer can outline a succession of antics to be passed off as serious music.

Cage, who loaded a piano with screws, wire, chains and bits of plastic a decade ago under the name of the "prepared piano," has ceased to be a novelty. Beyond this, there is little to be said in his behalf. Last Wednesday evening's routine of a hissing pressure cooker, splashes in a bathtub, rubber ducks, quail calls, etc., all timed to the tempo of a stop watch was more to be pitied than performed in public.

VANISHING RACE

A magazine which formerly featured men's styles and deluxe pin-up girls has dropped a hot potato this month with an all-too-trite article on the state of dramatic criticism in the United States. The general attitude—criticism is killing itself with kindness.

To the newspaper readers who followed William Ewald on last year's television post mortems, this comes as a shock. For if ever there was a writer who took a critical look and wrote about it, Ewald was he.

But the article cited examples by play, publication and name, which means that many a neck—including the critic of the critics—is now stuck out. In looking over the quotes, this scale-runner was unable to fathom how such adjective-loaded phrases ever found their way into newspaper print in New York.

The fact that nearly 100 per cent of the adjectives proves of her; and a lover or two or three, as well as the vagrant wish that it might be three or four. There was Maurizio, her first; the war helped end this relationship but already Pietro had appeared, and he looms ever larger as Irene tells of her newspaper work, her disagreement with her mother, and her dependence on the servant Erminia, a peasant in Rome with a pungent resemblance to Gertrude Stein's Anna in Baltimore. You are fascinated by Irene's sharp little questionings about money, pride, frankness, loneliness, and best and most wonderful, love.

THE DESERT GHOST

Final Chapter Written On Famous 'Lady Be Good'

Editor's Note: In May 1959 the broken-back remains of a World War II bomber, the "Lady Be Good," were found deep in the Libyan Desert, providing one of the most fascinating mysteries in air history. How had the plane reached this point? What had happened to the crew? The last tragic chapter is now being written.

By BEN PRITTE
Associated Press Writer

They died, these nine green warriors of World War II, in the fierce, furnace-like sands of the Libyan Desert, victims of sun and thirst.

Before they died eight of them walked an almost unbelievable 67 miles, traveling mostly on hope and prayer.

There was one point of water half a canteen—for the eight, and probably none for the missing ninth man, in a land where the average daytime temperature is 135 degrees and the nighttime average is a subfreezing 28 degrees.

They were the survivors of the B24D Bomber "Lady Be Good," now known as the Desert Ghost.

One of them, Lt. Robert F. Toner, copilot, North Attleboro, Mass., kept a pathetic diary of the last days, from April 5, 1943, to April 12.

No one will ever know how they managed to live seven days under a sun which drives a bareheaded man mad in two hours and sends agonizing pains through unprotected eyes in 30 minutes.

Shortly before 2 a.m. April 5 the last airman had been confronted with a devil-and-deep-blue-sea choice: bail out or ride their near-gasless plane to a crash landing.

As they gazed through the moonlit skies, they made a last, final mistake. They jumped.

On Feb. 11, 1960, James Backhaus of Burge, Wyo., an oil explorer for the British Petroleum Co., found five of their bodies. Four still are missing. On Toner's body was the diary, written in pencil in a pocket-sized book.

Five of the eight had stopped because of thirst, weariness and blindness. Three had advanced further into the desert in search of help.

Those who set out for help were Tech. Sgt. Harold S. Ripslinger, Saginaw, Mich., Staff Sgt. Vernon L. Moore, New Boston, Ohio, and Staff Sgt. Guy E. Shelley, New Cumberland, Pa.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Reading is becoming more important every day. People are discovering that the written word is the best method of conveying our spiritual, moral and emotional tradition. It preserves the experience of the ages and we have ample evidence that as a man reads, so he is. The quality of his thought, the maturity of his emotional life is formed and nourished by what he reads.

The Ouachita Parish Public Library attempts to provide for its readers the best of current books and at the same time build up a collection of the best that has been written during the ages. During the month of February a total of 725 books were added to the Library Collection. Of these books 421 were adult and 304 juvenile and the non-fiction books added were almost double the number of fiction.

In the past week several new books of fiction were received by the library. An outstanding historical novel is "The Silver Key" by Clifford Lindsey Alderman. It is based on the 17th century expedition of Sir William Phipps to the West Indies in search of sunken Spanish treasure ships. It is entertainingly written and brings the period and characters alive. "Trask" by Don Berry is a tale of excitement and suspense based on true adventure in the Oregon Territory. It is a tale of a man who found himself and the setting is one of pictorial majesty.

An interesting Western story is "Kennedy's Gold" by Michael Bonner. It has excitement and adventure as its outstanding components and it will appeal to all who like this type of story.

In the field of non-fiction there is a variety of material. "The Big Drink" by E. J. Kahn is a compilation of a series of articles about the development of the Coca Cola Company, which appeared in the New Yorker magazine.

"Across the Threshold" by Shonie B. Levi is a book written especially for Jewish homemakers. A perfectly lovely book is "North American Waterfowl" by Albert M. Day. It is a distinct addition to our wildlife collection. Another book which will appeal to those with outdoor interests is "The Fireside Book of Fishing" edited by Raymond Camp. It is a collection from the great literature of angling and is a lovely book.

In modern times the study and enjoyment of poetry has not received enough attention. "Poetry 2" by Elizabeth A. Drew is a modern guide to the understanding and enjoyment of this subject. Another lovely book is "The Golden Year." This is an anthology collected by the Poetry Society of America and contains some lovely modern poetry.

There is a great interest at the present time in Alaska. We have added a number of books about this country in the past months and this week there is another. It is called "Alaska Bound." The author is Kathryn Winslow and the book is beautifully illustrated with photographs. Many people are avid readers of books about archeology. "No Stone Unturned" by Louis A. Brennan is a very fascinating study of American pre-history and will be widely used.

One of the most interesting present day figures is Nehru of India. Vincent Sheehan has just written a fine study of this man, which he calls "Nehru: The Years of Power." For a good evaluation of his life work, don't miss this book. A book of special interest to young adults is "Adventures in Electrochemistry" by Alfred P. Morgan.

Close Appraisal Of Top Public Job

THE SPLENDID MISERY. By Jack Bell. Doubleday, $4.95.

"Late on the afternoon of June 9, 1953," Jack Bell reports, "Sen. Taft hobbled into the office of Sen. Bridges, then the president pro tempore of the Senate. Sinking into a chair, Taft said with a sigh:

"I'm going away and I've asked Bill to carry on for me. Nobody can push him around."

kicked up and the great engines were sucking fire into vital parts with every revolution.

By 7:25 p.m., only four planes were left in "B" section. The others had been forced back by engine trouble. The "Lady," making her first combat run, was the lead plane.

The fourth combat course took the four over Stromboli. At 7:30 p.m., they were over Sorrento, 20 miles south of Naples. Night had settled over the target and from that altitude an attack would have been a waste of bombs.

After a mission it was customary to fly home "single ship" to disperse any pursuing fighters.

At 32 minutes past midnight, April 5, the high frequency-direction finder radio station at Benina, Libya, just east of Benghazi, reported the "Lady" on a bearing of 330 degrees—due course for home base.

How the "Lady" was identified is not known. Hatton could have made an emergency voice transmission. Probably he turned on his IFF—identification friend or foe—signal.

This reading by the Benina radio was to cause the 376th Air-Sea Rescue Team to assume the "Lady" was down in the Mediterranean Sea. That is where they searched the morning of April 8.

A bomb empty B24 cruises at about 175 miles per hour. When the Benina reading was taken the "Lady" must have been very close to home.

On takeoff the flight had been advised they would have the help of the northbound trip of a very strong tailwind, which meant an equally strong headwind on the return trip.

Unknown to the "Lady," however, the winds had shifted 120 degrees during the 700-mile trip north and was now blowing south. The "Lady" was coming back like a pony with a burr under the saddle.

Hatton and the navigator, Hays, may have thought they were just approaching the African coast, when, in fact, they already were over the desert.

During the first week in May, 1959, another oil explorer, Gordon Dowerman of the D'Arcy Exploration Co. London, sighted a wrecked aircraft as he flew over the forbidding desert. It was the "Lady." She was 432 miles south-southeast of Benghazi.

Royal Suitor Familiar In Newspapers

United Press International

Antony Armstrong-Jones
Tony Armstrong-Jones' name is no stranger to British newspapers. But until now, it appeared in fine print below the photographs he took.

Tony — nobody ever called him Antony — was a young man with his own way to make in the world. His father, eminent lawyer, gave Tony the best in British education—Sandroyd, Eton, Cambridge. But once out of college, he was on his own.

With his connections with noble families — his mother married a count when he was still a child — and his upper-crust education, Tony got quick commissions for photographs of the gilded younger set. His star never stopped rising. Through the first years of his photographic career he was a society photographer pure and simple. But in 1956, things began to happen.

First a one-man exhibition at Kodak House in central London. Then a commission to take the Duke of Kent's 21st birthday picture. That, his first royal commission, brought him to the royal family's attention.

The next year came two books of Tony's photography — one of London photographs, another on Malta, produced with poet and travel writer Sacheverell Sitwell.

By this time, Armstrong-Jones was a name to be reckoned with in British photography. He was one of the country's two top theater photographers as well as a portraitist, documentary and travel photographer.

A year later, Tony took pictures of London which he blew up into giant stage sets for a review called "Keep Your Hair On." They were the first photographic sets on the English stage.

Now 29, Tony is at the top of his profession but he plans to give up his photography career now that he is to marry Princess Margaret.

But his public personality has remained hidden behind his camera. His friends say he has great charm. They describe him as good-looking, fair-haired, shorter-than-average, he is 5 feet 6.

The rest young Armstrong-Jones kept quiet—as quiet as his courtship of the princess, about which not a word was breathed before the official announcement.

Pima Indians On Warpath Against Co.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Pima Indians, usually a quiet agrarian people, have taken the warpath against the National Broadcasting Co., in a dispute over a proposed television show.

Shooting for the NBC presentation of "The Ira Hayes Story" started Saturday in Tucson, despite protests from Indian groups. Z. Simpson Cox of Phoenix, attorney for the Gila River Pima-Maricopa tribe, said the tribal council has strong objections to the script of the show.

The council has carried its protest to Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior, and hopes to send a delegation to Washington next week to testify before a congressional committee investigating the radio-TV industry.

The NBC show is tentatively scheduled for presentation March 27 on the American Heritage series on Sunday Showcase.

Jay R. Morago Jr., chairman of the tribal council, wired Seaton last week that "NBC personnel have repeatedly broken understandings and seemingly intend to misrepresent Ira Hayes and the Pima Indians to the American public."

Hayes, one of the U.S. Marines in the famed photos of the flag-raising on Iwo Jima during World War II, was catapulted into national prominence. But after the war, he developed a craving for alcohol that kept him in continual trouble.

In January, 1955, he was found dead in a field on the reservation south of Phoenix. Doctors said the 32-year-old hero died of exposure and too much alcohol.

His body was buried in Arlington National Cemetery near the huge statue of the flag-raising. Cox said the tribe feels the NBC script merely shows Hayes "as a drunken Indian."

"It doesn't matter if he's a lovable drunk or a disgusting drunk, he's still just another drunken Indian," he said. "The tribe feels this is not a true representation of the man."

In Washington, Vern Stephens, assistant to the Indian commissioner, said the Bureau of Indian Affairs would fight presentation of the show "all the way."

The National Congress of American Indians also has joined the fight, Cox said.

Bad Reading Is Problem In Education

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — One of the most pressing problems in American education is that too many children just don't know how to read well, a noted educator declared Saturday.

"There are schools in the United States where 40 per cent of the pupils in the ninth grade are reading at the sixth-grade level, or below," Dr. James B. Conant told a national convention of high school principals. "And if the children can't read properly, how are they to be properly educated?"

Conant, now studying the American junior high school as a follow-up to his best-selling report on the U.S. high school, said there is a great spread in the reading ability of junior high pupils. Some, he said, are young adults and read that way. Others are children who read like children.

The former Harvard president called for a longer school day and offered courses than are now found in most junior highs.

In grades seven and eight, he said, every pupil should have daily classes in English, social studies (history, geography, civics, etc.), mathematics, science and physical education. There also should be two classes a week for art and/or music, two for industrial arts for boys and home economics for girls, and two for such activities as clubs, orchestra and assemblies.

The school day, Conant suggested, should run seven 50-minute periods a day instead of the usual six, possibly starting at 8:30 a.m. and ending about 3:30 p.m.

His proposed schedule would include four optional periods a week, designed to fill the needs of the individual students.

DRILLING IS LIGHT

3 New Locations Staked
In Monroe Oil-Gas District

Activity last week in the oil and gas fields of the 14-parish Monroe district of the Louisiana Department of Conservation was light, mainly due to bad weather conditions.

There were no new completions and only three new locations were staked. Also listed in the report received from Duncan S. Cook, district manager, were four holes plugged and abandoned.

Only 20 rigs in the district were active last week, many were inactive because of high water or bad road conditions.

PERMITS SHOW
Local builders took out 24 permits, twelve for new homes during the past week, as the promise of spring enticed seasonal construction to come out of its winter burrow.

Slowest day was Wednesday, Feb. 24—the only day that continuous rain fell on the Twin Cities last week. One permit was issued.

Dale Martin, who issued the permits in the office of building inspector Robert M. Hines said, "February construction is far above January's."

ANOTHER DAY
"We still have Monday to issue permits this month, and we already have a large amount issued over the number for last month," he said.

He mentioned the possibility of future construction in Edgewater Gardens.

"If that area comes into the city, we'll probably have a large increase in new home building out there," he forecast.

Last Wednesday, the Utilities Commission Board of Directors discussed extending $20,000 worth of water pipelines and service into Edgewater Gardens, and city attorney Haynes Harkey revealed that one section is petitioning to enter the city.

Largest day for permits last week was Tuesday, with 13.

Monday, Feb. 22:
Livable Homes, construct brick veneer residence, 1614 South 11 St., 1264 square feet, $13,000.

Tuesday, Feb. 23:
Gwin Real Estate Co. move frame residence to 606 South 12th St., 1112 S. Second, size 32 by 34 by 17 feet high, $3,000.

Wednesday, Feb. 24:
John Henry Jones Jr., construct frame three rooms and bath, 3204 Owl St., 1200 square feet, $2,000.

Thursday, Feb. 25:
Helen Addison, add two rooms to frame residence, 706 Bryant St., 236 square feet, $500.

Friday, Feb. 26:
Greater Monroe Homes Inc. purchased six building permits: one for a brick veneer residence, five rooms and bath, 1510 square feet, 409 Grayling La., $11,000; and five for five room and bath frame residences, 804 square feet, 1614 South 11 St., $13,000.

Saturday, Feb. 27:
W. C. Lawler, construct frame shop, one room, 607 Stubbs Ave., 440 square feet, $700.

Sunday, Feb. 28:
Frank Hill, alter frame residence, five rooms, 4108 Elm St., $500.

Industrial representatives in the Twin Cities and surrounding areas are attending a six-week course on industrial lighting, sponsored by Louisiana Power and Light Company.

Prepared by the Edison Electric Institute, the trade association for business-managed electric utilities, the course is designed to provide industrial firms with trained lighting specialists within their own organizations. The first lesson was held February 11.

CROSSITT, Ark. (Special)
The Crossitt Company has announced that it will spend $1,500,000 this year on the installation of new equipment for the application of clay and other types of coating to bleached food board.

According to J. C. Hair, manager of Crossitt Paper Mills, installation of the machinery will probably begin in the spring and be completed by the middle of the year. The coating will improve the paper board's end use and printability.

BATON ROUGE (Special)
The National Investors Life Insurance Company of Louisiana broke a national record for a new life insurance company in business writing during the company's first year, according to Jess P. Odum, chairman of the board of directors. Odum told a banquet held here Feb. 12 that the company wrote $48,017,000 worth of business during 1959, exceeding the previous record by approximately $15,000,000.

DALLAS, Tex. (Special)
Directors of Zale Jewelry Company Inc., have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25¢ a share on common stock payable April 11 to stockholders of record March 10.

Corn Futures
Only Grains To Advance

CHICAGO (UPI)—Corn futures showed the only advance in an otherwise lower grain market this week.

Compared with last week, wheat was off 3/4 to 2 1/4; corn off 1/4 to 1; oats off 3/4 to 1 1/4; rye off 3/4 to 1 1/4; and soybeans unchanged to off 2 1/4.

Most of the losses resulted from spreading and liquidation in the old crop months as the delivery period approached. Monday is the first notice day.

In wheat the March contract ran into stop loss orders on the way down. But it also met some demand on the part of commercial houses. Reports of new snows in the winter wheat area touched off selling in the distant crop months, which were weak. Spot wheat closed off 1 to 2 cents.

Short covering and a small demand by commercial interests served to firm corn. Cash corn was 3 1/4 to 1 1/4 cents lower.

The oats market had little feature. Spot oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher.

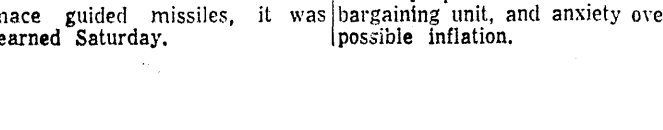

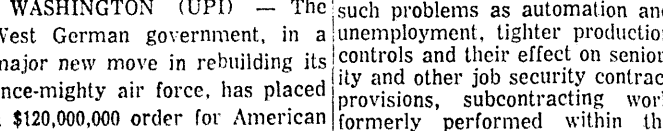

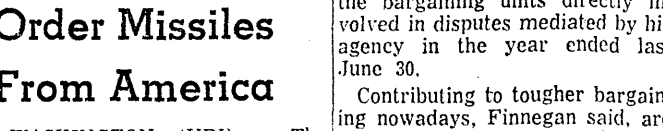

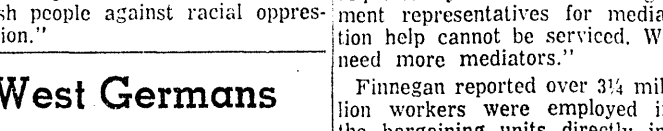

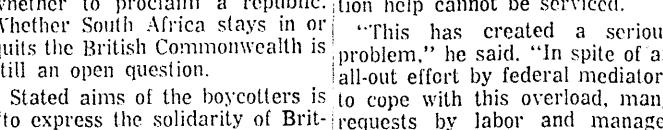

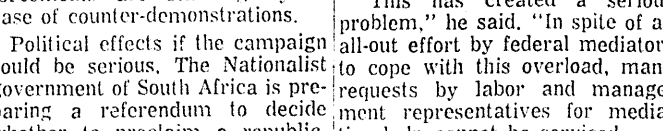

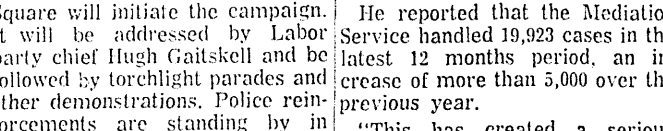

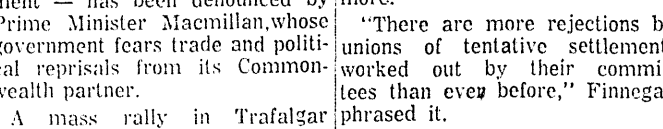

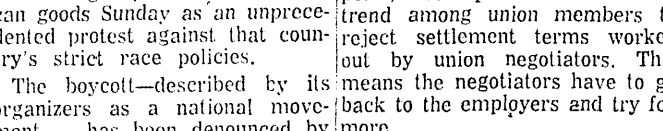

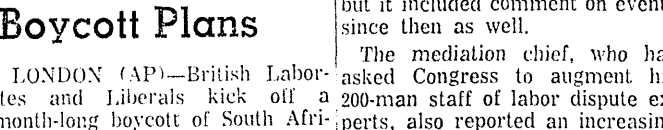

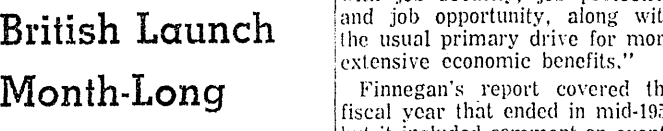

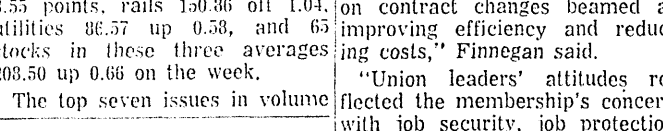

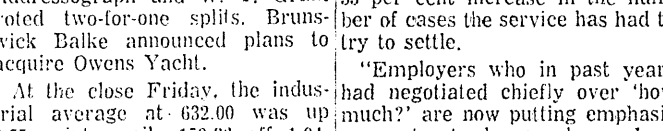

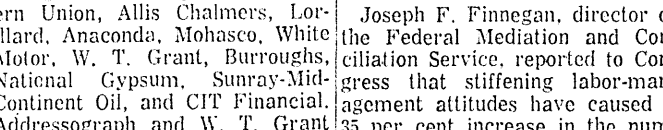

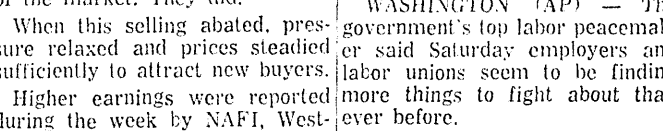

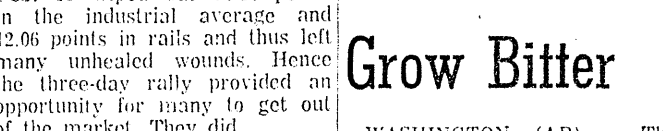

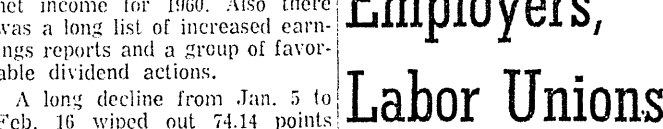

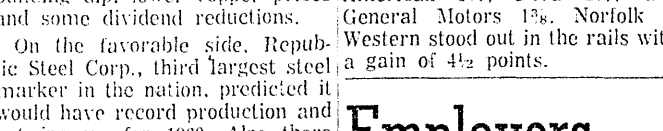

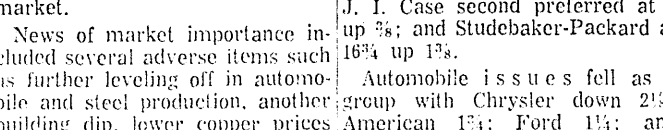

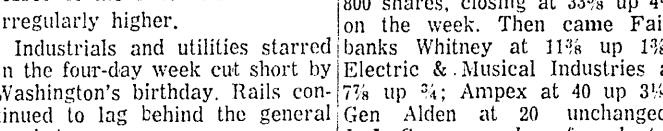

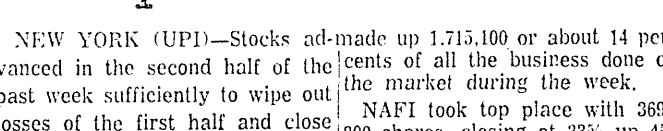

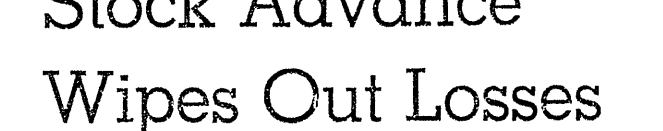

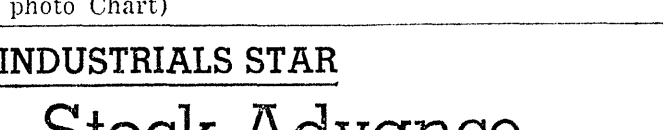

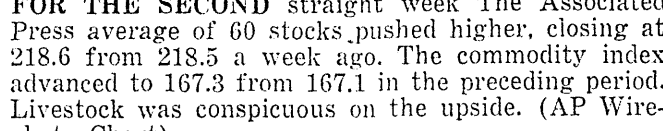

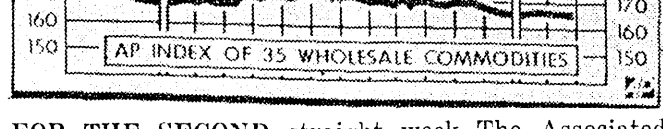

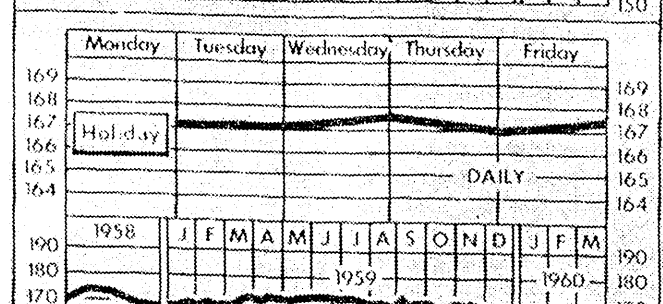

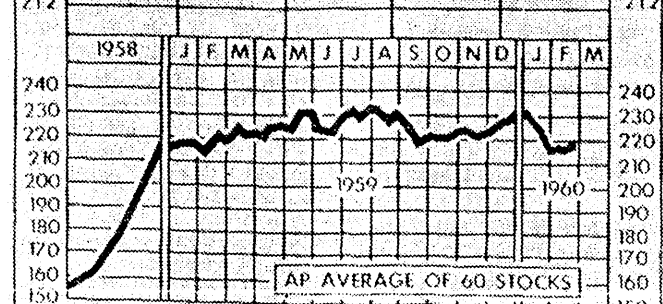

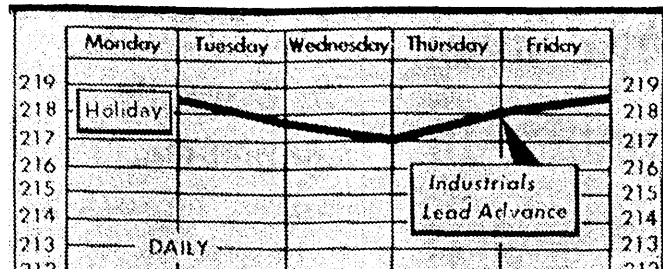

Liquidation in wheat carried over into the rye pit. Pressure came from stop loss selling orders and a lower Winnipeg market.

Soybeans continued to drift lower. Lower meal and oil prices affected beans, as did liquidation in advance of notice day. Spot beans were 1 1/4 cents down.

1960 BUSINESS

Sharp Rebound
Outlook Staged

NEW YORK (AP)—The outlook for 1960 business staged a sharp rebound the past week.

When the year started, most business forecasters saw nothing but boom. Then came the stock market decline and lower than expected automobile sales. Optimism diminished.

Now a survey by the National Industrial Conference Board shows consumer buying plans far ahead of a year ago. For instance, plans to buy new automobiles are up 27 per cent and new homes up 18 per cent.

A poll of 1,500 businessmen found them more optimistic about the second quarter of this year than they were about the first. Seventy-four per cent said they expected 1960 to be the biggest year ever for business.

The Commerce Department reported the year got off to a good start in January with bigger production opening up new jobs and personal income rising to a record annual rate of 393 billion dollars.

The automobile industry sold 162,000 new cars in the middle 10 days of February, up about 10 per cent from a year ago and the best since 1957. Nevertheless, there was disappointment because the figure was considerably under original estimates.

Estimated auto production this week was 156,000, a gain of 24 per cent over last year. The pace-setting compact accounted for about 38,000.

With steel users indicating they are not going to build their inventories as high as anticipated, some industry leaders scaled down estimates of 1960 production to 125 million tons, which still would be a record. The production rate stayed close to 95 per cent this week.

Americans found out their cost of living had gone down in January but it wasn't very noticeable. Lower prices for clothing, new cars and most meats brought a drop of one-tenth of one per cent in the government's cost of living index.

Optimism
For Oil
Dampened

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Optimistic forecasts for 1960 crude production in the United States have been dampened a bit by winter weather.

An upward swing the past few weeks has encouraged producers but oil economists say the rate of improvement has been held down by warm weather. The new year got under way with hope heating demand lower than had been forecast.

Some economists say the mid-winter drop in demand will hold domestic crude output the next three months nearly 200,000 barrels a day below forecasts made at the start of the new year.

The upward swing of the past few weeks, however, has carried production to its highest level since output was slashed rapidly at the end of the Suez crisis nearly three years ago.

Crude production last year averaged 7,034,000 barrels a day. The 1958 average had declined to 6,710,000 from 1957's Suez-promoted record of 7,170,000.

Early 1960 forecasts had centered around 7,500,000. Mid-February daily averages approached 7,500,000 but prompted warnings in addition to a warm January, crude and products inventories being held in storage were well above year earlier levels.

There still was hope, however, for a record breaking 1960. The annual forecast-review issue of World Oil magazine last week estimated a 5.5 per cent increase would place the 1960 daily average at about 7,400,000 barrels.

The magazine said the industry should experience moderate improvement in economic conditions despite such unfavorable influences as tighter credit, higher interest rates, and advances in operating costs without proportionate price gains.

A downward adjustment in crude output normally develops in early spring as refiners switch from the usual winter gasoline buildup period to summer operations.

Gasoline inventories currently approximate 210 million barrels compared to the all-time record level of 216 million in March, 1958. Refiners made special efforts to hold early 1959 production down and the spring-summer heavy demand season began with 214 million barrels on hand.

Warnings of excess inventories and slow demand prompted Texas authorities last week to hold the line while setting March allowances.

A 10-day prorotation pattern was retained by the Texas Railroad Commission but it drops the daily allowable to 2,900,568 barrels when applied to the 31-day March. The same pattern for the 29-day February produced an allowable of over 3,020,000 barrels daily.

Actual March production is expected to average about 2,600,000 barrels a day, compared to over 2,700,000 in February.

Domestic production averaged 6,981,000 barrels a day when bombs fell on the Suez Canal in early November, 1956. Texas output was averaging 2,949,600.

The emergency push to supply western Europe with oil boosted United States output to a record 7,818,400 barrels a day before the Middle East emergency ended in late March, 1957. Texas boosted its output to a record 3,333,000.

A long period of readjustment has followed the reopening of the Suez, with oil imports drawing much criticism from domestic operators.

By the time mandatory imports control became effective nearly a year ago, domestic crude output had sagged to only 6,220,355 barrels a day. Texas production had dropped to 2,198,000 daily.

T. O. Thomas Set To Attend Safety
Meet In Capital

Travis O. Thomas, of the Ouachita Parish Central Trades and Labor Council, is scheduled to attend the Presidents Conference on occupational safety, to be held in Washington D. C. March 1-3.

Thomas, who received his invitation from President Eisenhower, will join 3,000 other leaders of American industry, government, and business at the National meeting to divide and apply plans to reduce the many fatalities and disabling injuries occurring annually because of on-the-job accidents.

Cotton Seen
Range Field

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures moved within a narrow trading range again this week, closing with prices 30 cents a bale lower to $1.15 a bale higher.

The biggest advances were made by the most distant contract months. The nearby March delivery eased on the first notice day at the beginning of the week. New crop months tended to sag on the possibility of larger production by growers electing to sign up the government's choice "B" program this year.

Under the present cotton program, farmers under the "A" plan plant within their acreage allotments and receive a guarantee of 80 per cent of parity. Farmers under the "B" plan may exceed their acreage allotments but they receive support prices of only 65 per cent of parity.

An increase in hedge selling resulting from the possibility of larger production also depressed prices.

Also contributing to the market's irregular progress were scattered liquidation and spot house selling, the prompt stopping of March notices and routine price fixing. Another factor was scattered demand influenced by the possibility of an increase in the Commodity Credit Corp.'s schedule of reasonable carrying costs and the possibility that the corporation will not sell carryover cotton at the close of this season for less than 115 per cent of the 1960 crop "B" program loan rate.

Exports in the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 203,000 bales compared with 312,000 last week and 51,000 bales in the similar 1959 week. For the current season through Feb. 23 the service bureau estimated exports at least 3,506,000 bales as against 1,606,000 bales of the same time last season.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The West German government, in a major new move in rebuilding its once-mighty air force, has placed a $120,000,000 order for American mace guided missiles, it was learned Saturday.

Contributing to tougher bargaining nowadays, Finnegan said, are such problems as automation and unemployment, tighter production controls and their effect on seniority and other job security contract provisions, subcontracting work formerly performed within the bargaining unit, and anxiety over possible inflation.

Finnegan reported over 314 million workers were employed in the bargaining units directly involved in disputes mediated by his agency in the year ended last June 30.

WHAT'S CAUSING ALL THE BATTLES?

Civil Rights Background Explained And Updated

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is this bill that has kicked up such a ruckus in the Senate? A civil rights bill, yes, but what's in it? What would it do?

Southern senators are putting up an all-out fight against it. In an effort to break their resistance, around-the-clock sessions of the Senate are to start Monday.

Part of the bill is designed to guarantee the voting rights of Negroes. The Southerners say this section has been unduly stressed. Other provisions deal with racial integration in the public schools, with "hate bombings" of schools and churches, and racial discrimination in employment.

The bill now before the Senate embodies the Eisenhower administration's civil rights program. As the Southerners are well aware, attempts will be made to get votes on other measures. Here are highlights of the seven sections of the administration bill, together with the principal objections raised by the Southerners:

I
This would make it a federal crime, punishable by a $10,000 fine or two years in prison, to obstruct or interfere willfully by threats or force with federal court orders in school desegregation cases.

It would apply to anyone who "corruptly, or by threats or force, or by any threatening letter or communication" obstructed or attempted to obstruct such a court order. It is aimed at disorders like that which erupted in 1957 after a court order for admission of Negroes to Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Southerners argue it is unnecessary—that federal judges can punish for contempt any interference with their decrees and the states have laws against assaults. They also contend it is so sweeping that a letter to an editor or newspaper editor criticizing a school desegregation decree might be interpreted as a federal crime.

Furthermore, the Southerners say that if such legislation is to be enacted, it should apply to court orders in all kinds of cases.

II
This section also would create a new federal crime—fleeing across a state line to escape prosecution for the bombing of buildings or other property used primarily for religious or educational purposes. This would enable the FBI to move in quickly. The penalty provided is a $5,000 fine or five years in prison.

The Southerners object to this part of the bill less than any other, although they say it is unnecessary. Some of them say it would apply also to dynastic in labor disputes and other cases.

III
This would require state and local election officials to preserve voting records for three years and to make them available to the Justice Department for inspection upon demand. Criminal penalties are provided for willful destruction of such records.

The purpose is to assist the attorney general in enforcing voting rights under the 1957 Civil Rights Act; Southerners object that it constitutes an unwarranted en-

IV
This section would put Congress on record in support of the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision. It says Congress recognizes that the Constitution as interpreted by the court is the supreme law of the land and that state and local governments "are now obligated to take steps toward the elimination of segregation in their public schools."

It goes on to authorize federal grants and technical assistance to states or local communities that attempt to carry out desegregation of their schools.

Southern senators bitterly protest against giving congressional sanction to the court's decision and also contend the language used in the bill misinterprets the decision.

They call the federal financial grants an attempt to bribe Southerners into accepting the court's ruling.

V
This section would permit the federal government to provide schooling for children of armed services members in areas where the public schools are closed to avoid racial integration.

Southern opponents say the federal government could take over for this purpose local schools built with federal aid.

VI
This section would set up a 15-member presidential commission to seek to eliminate racial discrimination in the hiring of workers by government contractors and to encourage elimination of discrimination in employment generally.

Southerners call this an attempt at federal interference with the hiring and firing of workers by private industry.

VII
The final section contains the administration's recent proposal for court-appointed referees to oversee registration, voting and vote-counting in areas where systematic discrimination against Negroes is found. It would apply to state and local as well as federal elections.

Former Judge Jailed On Contempt Count

INDIANAPOLIS Ind (AP)—A former Superior Court judge was jailed for contempt shortly before he was to have sat as acting judge in criminal court to send another man to prison.

Norman E. Brennan heard himself sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Robert G. Robb, who succeeded him two years ago on the Superior Court bench.

Judge Robb ruled Brennan guilty of instructing his client to lie a month ago in a divorce proceeding.

Judge Robb said it made him sick to have to hold Brennan in contempt. Robb is a Democrat and Brennan a Republican.

"Am I to be treated as a common criminal?" Brennan cried.

"Yes," replied Judge Robb.

Legislature To be Faced On Chessman

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The California Legislature, its hopes for an election year harmony session shattered by the Caryl Chessman case, meets Monday to act on capital punishment, smog control, higher education and a record $2,477,000,000 budget.

Administration leaders have indicated they'll push the special session items ahead as soon as the lawmakers reconvene after a 25-day recess. Gov. Edmund G. Brown has said there will be more items for the special session, too.

The legislature recessed Feb. 3 with hopes of a speedy session which would permit the 98 members up for re-election to devote more time to campaigning.

Then Brown granted the controversial 60-day reprieve to Chessman, condemned sex terrorist, and tossed the whole issue of capital punishment to the legislature.

Informal polls show that the governor's bill, whether outright abolition, a moratorium, or modification of the death penalty, faces a stiff uphill battle.

Hold Escapee In Slaying Of Boston Girl

BOSTON (AP)—A New Hampshire State Hospital escapee today volunteered to return to that state to undergo questioning in the brutal slaying of Sandra Valade, 18.

Police identified the man as James H. Barnes Jr., 22, formerly of Manchester, N. H., and more recently a resident of Quincy, Mass.

He was arrested earlier today at a Park Square bus terminal by two Boston police detectives who said they recognized him from a circular put out by Manchester, N. H., police.

The circular said Barnes was wanted for questioning in the Valade slaying case.

The pretty Manchester girl disappeared Feb. 1 after leaving a bus for a lonely one-mile walk to her home.

Her beaten body was found in a snowbank 10 miles away Feb. 10. She had been shot to death.

Barnes was arrested on a technical charge of being abroad in the nighttime.

Barnes denied any knowledge of the slaying.

The police circular described Barnes as an "extremely dangerous" sex offender. Police said he has a record for sex offenses.

PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

Northeast Track

Northeast State's track team, show stealer against its bigger brethren in the Coliseum Relays at Montgomery, Ala., a week ago, should make more headlines before the home folks get a chance to see Tribal action on a Monroe cinder path in April.

When Coach Lew Hartzog's spikemen make their home debut on April 14 in a dual meet with Louisiana State U., the Indians should be deserving of all the Twin Cities can do for them in the way of attendance and support. For by that time they should have been heard from in Fort Worth's Southwestern Recreational, the Chattanooga Invitational, Florida Relays, SLI's Southwestern Relays, a five-team affair with Houston, Oklahoma, Texas A&M and East Texas at Houston, plus a pair of dual meets that include next Saturday's show with McNeese at Lake Charles.

So what if the Tribe is still working for a place with the front runners in such major sports as football and basketball within its own league. Here you have a track team that can run in anybody's league.

"I have Olympic talent on my squad," declared Coach Hartzog at a West Monroe Quarterback Club meeting after the Montgomery triumph. "...and for all you know, right here in West Monroe there may be other real Olympic talent...it could be found by the use of a regulation track and an adequate accompanying program."

West Monroe track fans are pressing a campaign to secure a track for their school. The Quarterbacks also have led official Twin Cities recognition of the Tribal trackmen with a resolution commending Hartzog and company with "...not only brings fame and recognition to Louisiana and to Northeast Louisiana State College...but focuses the attention of this area on the evident fact that strong possibilities exist that this fine athletic squad may be called upon to represent this nation abroad in the 1960 summer Olympics."

Crowley Near 400

When Louisiana Tech plays its final basketball game of the season against Southeastern tomorrow night at Ruston it will mark the 400th game as head coach of the Bulldog cagers for Cecil Crowley. Ending his 17th season at Tech, Crowley's overall record shows 398 games (not including last night's fray with Northwestern State), 233 wins and 165 defeats.

Tech's statistician supplies the dope that since starting intercollegiate basketball in the 1925-26 season, the Northwestern game last night was the 700th contest in 33 seasons for the Bulldogs.

The Baton Rouge Open

Many of golf's finest stars bring the winter tour to Louisiana for the ninth annual Baton Rouge Open, a $15,000 event starting Thursday and running through next Sunday.

Such notables as Doug Ford, Jay Hebert, Arnold Palmer, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, Bob Goalby, Gene Littler, Dow Finsterwald, Fred Hawkins, and Paul Harney, Julius Boros, Lionel Hebert, Dutch Harrison, Mike Souchak, Billy Casper, Bob Rosburg, and Al Balding will supply top challengers for Howie Johnson, the surprise winner last year.

Johnny Pott of Shreveport will head Louisiana favorites in the meet dedicated to the memory of Felix Soiller, tournament chairman since its inception who died shortly after the 1959 event. Jim Winfree is the new chairman.

Name Stars Soon

Chairman Guy B. Jones this week is collecting ballots in the Twin Cities All-Star high school basketball poll conducted by the Monroe Jaycees. The Jaycees will name their elite team at an awards luncheon Monday, March 7. We wouldn't want to be premature in guessing at team possibilities, but it should be safe to assume Jim Mahoney, coach of the St. Matthew's Fighting Irish, will be named coach-of-the-year for his tremendous job of building the once little-regarded Irish into one of the area's outstanding teams.

BEATS 'BAMA IN OVERTIME

Auburn Captures SEC Cage Title

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Junior forward Jimmy Fibbe laid in a two-point shot with one second to go in an overtime period to give Auburn a sensational 63-61 win over Alabama and the Tigers their first Southeastern Conference basketball championship.

With six seconds to go, Alabama sophomore Porter Powers shot from 30 feet and was short. Auburn Capt. Henry Hart, star player, rebounded with four seconds to go. Auburn called time out. The Tigers hustled the ball down court from a pass that hit Fibbe under the basket for the lay-up as the gun sounded.

Auburn's sweet victory over Alabama, coupled with Vanderbilt's 62-57 win over Georgia Tech, gave the hustling "seven dwarfs" the first Southeastern Conference championship in Auburn's history. The championship was made sweeter by the fact that Auburn defeated Tech twice during regular season play.

However, the Engineers will represent the SEC in the NCAA regional playoffs in Louisville, Ky., because of the probation against Auburn for alleged illegal recruiting of athletes.

The Tigers, seeking their 34th win out of 39 games over a two-season span, were 10-point favorites to defeat their arch cross-state rivals.

Auburn took the lead in the first 45 seconds and built it up to 11-3 with nine minutes gone in the first half. Alabama surged back under the fabulous shooting of Powers to make it 28-23 in favor of Auburn at the half.

The Crimson Tide, suffering one of its worst seasons in history, narrowed the gap to 30-28 with two minutes and three seconds gone in the second half. Then Hart, who played with two bad legs, made five consecutive drives through the Alabama defense to give Auburn a 10-point lead midway in the second half.

Alabama spurred back behind the sensational shooting of Powers who scored 31 points on 13 field goals and five throws. With the score 51-50 in favor of Auburn, Alabama called a time out with no time-outs left and Auburn was awarded a technical foul shot. Dave Vaughan missed the shot and Powers hit with a 35-foot set-shot to make the score 52-51 with only seconds remaining.

Auburn roared back and went ahead 53-52 on Fibbe's tap-in. In the mad scramble with less than three seconds remaining, Powers was fouled and sank his free throw, but blew his second try and the game went into overtime with the score 53-53.

In the overtime, Powers sank four consecutive set-shots from more than 20 feet out. But Hart, Porter Gilbert and Bill Ross matched the points to set up the dramatic finish by Fibbe.

Hart was high man for Auburn with 21, followed by guard Ray Groover with 16.

Larry Pennington, junior forward from Jackson, Miss., followed Powers for Alabama with 12.

"But we'll play you anyway," the four said.

Final score: Ft. Washakie 114, Arapahoe 90.

Sumnerfield Wins 'C' Tourney

Atlanta Cops Girls' Crown On 35-24 Win

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Tom Denton tipped in the tying goal with five seconds remaining in regulation play and scored the winning basket with 20 seconds left in an overtime period as favored Sumnerfield clinched a long up-hill battle to nip Georgetown, 35-24, in the finals of the Class C Regional Two playoffs here Saturday night.

Atlanta sacked up the girls' title by downing Calvin, 35-24, in the other championship game. The loss by Georgetown marked the second time in as many years the Bulldogs had been ousted from the annual tournament by a two-point margin. Fort Necessity turned the trick, 68-66, last year, and went on to take the state title.

The speedy Bulldogs, sparked by a half-pint pivotman, moved into the lead with 3:20 to play in the first period and held it until Denton's tip knotted the count at 34-34 with five seconds showing on the clock.

Jimmy Bennett, sharpshooting Georgetown guard, got off one shot before the end of regular time but the shot bounced off the rim, sending the contest into an extra three-minute frame.

Rangy Norris Moss controlled the following tap and Sumnerfield froze the ball for 45 seconds before Moss attempted a shot and missed. Seconds later Tom Adkins dropped in a pair of foul shots to break the deadlock. Harold Corley, Georgetown's amazing little postman who dumped in 21 points, squared things away with two more foul shots with 1:10 left. Then came Denton's jump shot to win the game.

Coach C. O. Dodge's Bulldogs led throughout the middle stanzas of the game by at least ten points and once increased their margin to 14 points.

Bailey topped all scorers with 22 points and had a perfect night from the foul line with 12 for 12. Corley, whose hook shots, jump shots and even tips kept the Bulldogs in the lead much of the game, got his point total on 6 field goals and 9 charity tosses.

Bill Bailey's Sumnerfield jump boosted its record to 43-7 while Georgetown dropped its 12th consecutive against 40 victories.

Annie Belle Bandy poured in 15 points in the first half and wound up with 17 as Atlanta easily whipped Calvin in the girls' final. Atlanta held a bare 5-4 advantage after one period of play, but pushed its lead to 15-9 at intermission and padded its margin in the third period to win going away.

Melinda Lowe topped Calvin with 18 points.

Sumnerfield got a 23-point performance from Moss, a 6-5 center, in moving past Central of Delh, 49-37, in a semifinal affair. The winners held Central to two lone points in the third period to sack up the victory. Stegall with 13 and Carroll Balke with 12 led the losers.

Georgetown's Bennett shook off bad case of the flu to boost the Bulldogs past Enterprise, 63-53, and into a final berth in afternoon action. He scored the tournament high of 33 points as Georgetown led all the way. Dick Maxwell followed with 13 and Charles Maxwell put in 12.

David Ainsworth hooped 17 and Charles Cassels netted 16 for Enterprise.

Calvin gained the finals by upsetting Ogden, last year's state runnerup, in a 39-34 thriller. Calvin had a 16-11 lead at halftime. Melinda Lowe scored 26 points to spark the winners with Linda Halton racking up 20 to pace Ogden's losing effort.

Atlanta blanketed Monterey in the first period, 12-0, and went on to take an easy 40-22 triumph in the afternoon's other girls' semifinal. Atlanta had a 21-point lead at halftime, 29-8. Patsy Bennett led Atlanta with 14 points while Betty Trisler scored 15 for Monterey.

SURVIVES FOUL CLAIM

Tudor Era Takes New Orleans' Cap

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mrs. Herbert Heff's Tudor Era barked out of the gate on up and stayed in front all the way Saturday to win the $58,900 New Orleans handicap at the fair grounds but had to survive a foul claim to pick up the winner's check.

The 7-year-old English-bred finished two lengths in front of Frank J. Recio's Noble Sel. But jockey George Gibb claimed Tudor Era forced his mount wide at the stretch turn. The stewards disallowed Gibb's claim after looking at the films.

Elmendorf Farm's Day Court, who like Tudor Era and Noble Sel, came in from Florida for the race, took the show spot, four lengths behind Noble Sel.

Mrs. Joe W. Brown's Tenacious, the 6-5 favorite of the 14,719 fans, finished fourth.

Tudor Era, the second choice, returned $6.60, $3.80 and $2.80. Noble Sel paid $6 and $4.80. Day Court returned $4.

Tudor Era's time for the mile and one-eighth over a fast track was 1:50.4-5.

SCORING FROM 25-feet out early in the first period is U.S. right wing Bill Cleary (7) during the Olympic hockey match with Russia at Squaw Valley, Calif., yesterday. Russian defenseman Alfred Kuchevski vainly attempts to stop the shot. The U.S. upset the Russians, 3-2.

U.S. Hockey Team Upsets Russians To Near Crown

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., (AP) — Bill Christian, a 145-pound Minnesota carpenter, hammered across two goals—the last in the final minutes—Saturday for a 3-2 victory over Russia which moved the U.S. ice hockey team within a breath of the Olympic championship.

The 21-year-old Warroad, Minn., scrapper scored a goal late in the second period to tie the defending champions, 2-2, then added the clincher amid a wild uproar with 4:59 to play in the third.

Never before has the United States beat Russia in hockey. Now only Czechoslovakia Sunday, on the Games' final day, stands between the once lightly-regarded American team and the title. The Americans beat Czechoslovakia 7-5 last week.

An hysterical crowd of 10,000 jammed into Blyth Arena which has a rated capacity of 8,500 for the game, and some paid up to $50 for scalpers' tickets.

For a time it appeared the United States might win the hockey championship when Sweden took a 4-0 lead over second-place Canada. But the Canucks won 6-5. Had Sweden tied or beaten Canada, the Yanks would have won the title regardless of what happened against Czechoslovakia.

It was a hard-checking, viciously played game on both sides, but with no untoward incidents.

The game, and some paid up to $50 for scalpers' tickets. Jack McCartan of St. Paul, Minn., hero of America's triumph over Canada earlier, again was a stalwart in front of the American nets, holding off Russian charges time and again. He had 31 saves.

It was the fourth straight victory in the championship round robin for the Americans, who never have won an Olympic hockey title.

In other developments on the Olympic front: Russia backed down on its protest against Sweden in the women's 15-kilometer ski relay race after seeing movies that exonerated Irma Johansson of interfering with the Soviet's Radia Eroshina.

David Jenkins, of Colorado Springs, Colo., winner of one of Cleveland's Jimmy Brown has led National Football League players in yards gained the last three seasons.

L.T.I. defeated the Southsiders, 29-14, to grab its title as Kuttner and Sepulvado led the way with 10 points each. Davis and Mattox netted 4 apiece for the losers.

Dunn and Grigsby bucketed 7 points each for North Monroe in its 28-13 triumph over Jefferson in the Pee Wee finals. Reed was Jefferson's best with 5 points.

The L.T.I. win in the Midget finals was its third of the day. Earlier, L.T.I. beat West Monroe Baptist, 19-12, and Logtown, 28-16. McMellon and Case got 6 each for L.T.I. against the Baptists and Sepulvado sank 10 points against Logtown. Futch got 6 for the Baptists and Shipp 8 for Logtown. The Southsiders gained the finals by outrunning the Roadrunners, 20-16. Davis of the winners and Hochstetler of the losers scored 8 apiece.

Venable led Jefferson to a 27-18 victory over North Monroe "B" in the Pee Wee semifinals. Cooks tallied 6 for the "B" club. North Monroe "A" downed West Monroe Baptist, 19-13, in the other semifinal as Grigsby scored 8 points. Myers led the Baptists with 6.

United States has a spotless record and meets an average Czech team, which it beat in the preliminary round. Canada has one loss—to the United States—and Russia has the U.S. loss and a previous 2-2 tie with Canada against it.

Bill Cleary, Boston insurance man, scored the first goal for the U. S. slamming the puck in from 25 feet out in 4:04 of the first period. The play started with a pass from his brother, Bob.

The Russians tied it up 1-1 a minute later on a deft screen shot by Veniamin Aleksandrov, and then went ahead midway in the opening period when Mikhail Bychkov fired from 15 feet in front of the net. The puck hit the iron bar of the cage, dropped to the ice, and bounced in, at 9:37.

For the tying score Billy Christian took a pass from his brother, Roger, swept down the left side, and fired home from an angle. Then with five minutes left, Billy again rammed home the puck as the crowd went wild.

The American team could not contain itself with joy. After a few minutes of wild congratulations, the Russians skated up and shook hands with their rivals.

The 10,000-meter speed skating produced wild excitement as one skater after another broke the record of 16:32.6 set by Hjalmar Anderson of Norway in 1952. Victor Kosichkin of Russia also bettered the 16-minute mark in finishing second in 15:49.2.

Kjell Backman of Sweden was third in 16:14.2. That's all the medals there are in an Olympic event. The next two places, but no medals, went to men who performed under the world mark—Ivar Nilsson of Sweden, fourth in 16:20.0, and Terence Monaghan of Great Britain, fifth in 16:31.6.

Uhrlass was pleased with his victory in the hockey would sweeten the American record. In addition to Jenkins, Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y., won a gold medal in women's figure skating and the Yankee team picked up three silver medals in women's skiing and one in skating.

In the hockey tournament, the American record.

"I knew if I could stay with him a little while I had a good chance to set an American record," said Uhrlass. As he skated he could hear the loud speaker droning: "Johannessen is 9 seconds under the record. Johannessen is now 13 seconds under the record...17...18...19" and so on, lap after perfectly mechanical lap.

Uhrlass has been working out here since last June but now will return to Yonkers with his wife and three children and take up his job as a carpenter.

As for Johannessen, he went straight back to the village and fell asleep.

Andy Miller of Crested Butte, Colo., led the four-man American team home in the 50-kilometer ski race, placing 17th in 3:17:23. Others were Olavi Hirvonen, Jeffersonville, Vt., 26th, 3:36:37.8, Leo Massa, Mattawan, N.J., 29th, 3:41:08.2, and Ted Farwell, Montague City, Mass., 31st and last, 3:49:56.6.

Hamalainen started out first in the field in which each contestant races against time, and he finished first.

Veikko Hakulinen, who won the 50-kilometer race at the 1952 games and the 30-kilometer in 1956, cut loose with a terrific spurt at the end but couldn't overhaul his teammate.

He was timed in 2:59:27 and Rolf Ramdarg of Sweden was third in 3:02:47.

One of the surprises of the race was the failure of the great Swedish skier, Sixten Jernberg, to do better than fifth. He was timed in 3:05:18.0, just back of Lennart Larsson of Sweden who did 3:03:27.9.

Tulane Assured Of .500 Finish

NEW ORLEANS, La. (Special) — The Tulane Green Wave with a 72-50 victory over LSU Thursday, is now assured of at least an even .500 finish and with only a return match against LSU scheduled here on Wednesday, March 2, has a good opportunity to wind up the season on the winning side of the ledger.

The Greenies' win over LSU put Tulane's overall record at 12-11 and the SEC mark at 7-6. A second win over the Tigers here Wednesday would give Tulane a 13-11 seasonal mark and an 8-6 SEC slate.

In the victory Thursday at Baton Rouge, the Wave turned in its best night of the season shooting from the field. With all five starters hitting well, the Wave shot 54 per cent from the field hitting 28 out of 51 attempts. Tulane had a 38-32 half-time lead with a 48 per cent field goal mark at that point. After intermission the Greenies hit a high 59 per cent on 12 out of 20. The number of attempts was low due to the control game played once a 10-point lead had been obtained.

Senior forward Vic Klinker, an All-SEC selection last year, led Tulane against LSU with 20 points. Klinker along with starting guard Dick O'Brien and No. 1 reserve Ron Mitchell, will be seeing their final collegiate action in Wednesday's game against LSU in the Tulane gym.

While Klinker was Tulane's top scorer in his sophomore and junior seasons, he is currently No. 2 in the rankings 13 points behind soph center Jack Ardon. Ardon has 351 points for a 15.2 average per game. Klinker has 338 and a 14.6 average through 23 games. O'Brien is currently third in the Tulane gym.

IN INTRA-SQUAD MEET

Indians Unofficially Better 5 Existing GSC Records

Northeast's once-victorious cindermen, straining at the leash toward their first Gulf States Conference competition of the season Saturday against McNeese, went on a rampage in an intra-squad meet here yesterday, unofficially bettering five existing GSC records.

Competing against teammates in cold, windy, unfavorable conditions, the Tribe thinned out in performance, but topped standing league marks in the mile relay, two-mile run, 100-yard dash, and pole vault. The clocking of the 440-yard relay team was only .03 seconds off the conference record.

Coach Lew Hartzog called the afternoon's action "very impressive."

"If we can do this well without the pressure of actual competition," the Indian mentor commented, "I wonder how much better we'll do against our opponents."

The crack mile relay team, composed of Dave Styron, Jim Mouser, Dick Hays and Don Styron, registered its fastest time ever — a 3:14.5 clocking that would have shaved seconds off the GSC mark. Dave Styron led off with a 48.5, Mouser followed with a 49.6, Hays was timed in 48.2 and Don Styron anchored the run with another 48.2 time.

Dave Styron clipped .01 second off the GSC record in the 100-yard dash with a 9.6 showing. He was trailed by Roger Beumer and Hays.

Distance man Buddy Elland, present holder of the GSC two-mile record, topped it by more than two seconds with a 9:39 effort.

The freshman element continued its surprising showing in the field events. John Pennell, who soared over 14 feet in the pole vault, topped the Coliseum Relays at Montgomery, Ala., last week end, vaulted 13' 6" yesterday. The league record is 13' 2 1/2".

Versatile freshman Jerry Dyes backed a strong cross wind in tossing the javelin 211' 6".

Southpaw Hoy Rogers captured the shot put event with a heave of 50' 3 1/2", and threw the discus 141' 11" into the wind. James Copeland and Dyes were second and third, respectively, in both events.

Dyes edged Dave Styron and Owen Owen in the long jump with a wind - hampered leap of 21' 10". An ineligible freshman, Bob Marshall, joined the meet from the football practice field and cleared six feet in the high jump.

Hurdler Don Styron won both events over the boards, stepping off the 120-yard highs in 14.7 seconds and winning the 220-yard dash in 24.0, his fastest time ever around the sharp curve at Brown Field. Randall Walker was second and Owen third in the highs and Walker, Carl Hecker and Owen trailed in the low event.

Mouser beat Gene Christen and Jerry Lowery in the 440-yard dash with a winning time of 49.6 seconds and ran on the 880-yard relay with Christen, Beumer and Dave Styron which was timed in 1:31.4.

Dave Styron's 21.6 performance in the 220-yard dash was .02 second faster than his previous best time around a curve.

10-GAME SLATE

Tech Lists One New Gridiron Foe

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech's defending Gulf States Conference championship football team will have only one opponent on tap for the 1960 season that the Bulldogs did not meet last fall.

Tech's 10-game schedule for next season, announced by Joe Allet, athletic director and head football coach, will put the Techsters up against five non-conference out-of-state teams as well as the usual five Gulf States Conference opponents. The Bulldogs will play five contests at home and five away.

The lone newcomer to the Tech slate next season will be McMurry College of Austin, Tex., a team the Techmen last met in 1952.

Tech's eridmen, who won four of five non-conference battles last season, will meet two non-league teams from Texas and one each from the states of Arkansas, Florida and Mississippi. The Bulldogs will open the season on Sept. 17 in a home game with Lamar Tech from Beaumont, Tex., the only team to defeat the Canines last season.

Other action at Tech Stadium next fall will include contests with McNeese State, Pensacola Naval Air Station of Pensacola, Fla., McMurry and Southeastern Louisiana.

Games on the road will include Arkansas State at Jonesboro, Ark., Southwest Louisiana at Lafayette, Northwestern State in the annual State Fair game at Shreveport, Mississippi Southern at Hattiesburg, Miss., and Northeast State at Monroe.

Cotton Bowl May Be Busy On Weekends

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The possibility arose Saturday that Dallas' two professional football teams may play in the Cotton Bowl on the same weekend twice next season.

The Rangers of the National Football League plan to play on two Saturday nights, Sept. 24 and Oct. 1, the Dallas Times Herald said, and the Texans of the American Football League will have home games on the following Sundays.

Lamar Hunt, president of the Texans, has a contract giving him first call on Cotton Bowl dates. He elected to play in the Cotton Bowl the four consecutive Sundays beginning Sept. 13 and on Nov. 13 and Dec. 8 and 11.

The Rangers thus had the problem of bunching their home games in the middle of the season.

Jimenez Grabs

Lead In Puerto Rico

Rico Tournament

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Joe Jimenez, playing deliberate golf, took the lead at the three-quarter mark of the 72-hole $7,500 Puerto Rico Open Championship Saturday with a 20.

The Manhattan, Kan., pro shot a 1-under-par 70 on the 6,365-yard Berwind Country Club course for a two-stroke lead over Bob Hill of Rochester, N.Y., Manuel de la Torre of Milwaukee, Wis., and Canada's Stan Leonard.

Hill was tied with Jimenez for the lead going into the third round.

De La Torre and Leonard shot 71s while Hill went 1-over for a 72.

Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., winner of the Panama Open, carded a 2-under-par 69 for a 211. Bunched at 212 were Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., Henry Castillo of Tampa, Fla., and Canada's Al Balding.

Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., also had a 69 for a 214, the same score posted by Milton Marusic of Webster Groves, Mo.

14 Teams Enter

Dodson Tourney

DODSON, La. (Special) — Fourteen teams have entered next weekend's Dodson Independent Tournament to be held in the local high school gym.

The tournament will begin Thursday, March 3, and continue through Saturday.

Teams entered are McGee & Son, Oglesby Grocery, McMoey Water Works, Payne's Grocery, Dodson, Haile Loggers, Saline, Foster's Barber Shop, Staple's Cowboys, Kilpatrick - Gresham, Pete's City Service, Northeast Independents, Grayson and Sheriff's Posse.

The tournament will open with three games Thursday and finish up with eight Saturday.

HOPING it'll be this easy to hit when the regular season starts, Cleveland catcher Russ Nixon clowns around a bit at the Indians' spring training headquarters at Tucson, Ariz. Nixon will battle John Romano, recently obtained from the Chicago White Sox, for the regular catching job with the Tribe. Nixon hit .240 last year, Romano .294. (AP Wirephoto)

Dingler Leads Local Scorers

Raymond Dingler, a basketball star that has shone almost unnoticed at Southside, is the top scorer in the Twin Cities and a solid choice to remain so.

Dingler, whose scoring totals were not listed in earlier statistics, has scored 351 points in 16 games for a 19.5 average.

The 5-10 senior, whose top production was 37 points against Kelly in early season, has one more game to play.

St. Matthew's smooth 6-4 center, John Varino, is second to Dingler with an 19.2 average and must come with some high totals in the Irish's remaining games to pass Dingler. St. Matthew's is now in the state playoffs with at least one more game to play.

Carl Guinn of Ouachita, who has played in only eight games, is in third place with a 15.2 average, teammate Harry Crowe is next with a 14.7 average, just ahead of St. Matthew's Buddy Embanato, 14.3.

Linmold Wins

Santa Anita

In Big Upset

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Linmold, a lightly regarded California 4-year-old, scored a stunning upset Saturday and won the $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap, closing with a rush to beat a field of 11 rival stakes stars.

Jockey Don Pierce brought the son of Kaled up with a rush in the drive to the wire to win the net $97,000 purse for owners Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Nelson.

Pacesetter Fleet Nasrullah, a Kentucky horse, was second and Amerigo, Mrs. Tillyou Christopher's English-bred 3-year-old, was third. The betting favorite, Howard B. Keck's Bagdad, finished fourth. Largely overlooked by a crowd of more than 30,000, Linmold returned $26, $9.40 and $5.80; Fleet Nasrullah paid $7 and $5.80, and Amerigo $6.60.

The time for the mile and one-quarter classic, run off for the 23rd time, was 2:00 3/5.

Linville Wins

LINVILLE, La. (Special) — Huttig, Ark., girls edged Sterlington, 41-37, and Sterlington boys rolled over Linville, 45-24, to take the championships of the Linville Junior Tournament here last night.

Davis scored 23 points to lead Huttig while Williams got 17 markers for Sterlington girls. Pratt was tops for the boys' champions with 12 points, Franklin put in 9 for Linville.

Sterlington girls gained the finals by edging West Monroe, 32-30, in the semifinals and Huttig clipped Winnfield, 63-49. In the boys' semifinals, Linville defeated Huttig, 32-25, and Sterlington routed Simsboro, 53-34.

West Monroe won the girls' consolation battle over Winnfield, 40-27, and Simsboro captured third place in the boys' division by swamping Huttig, 32-14.

The girls' all-tournament team was composed of Hooker, Sterlington; Davis, Meyers, West Monroe; Hall, Sterlington; Nelson, Huttig, and Brady, West Monroe.

The all-star boys were Corky, Huttig; Pratt, Sterlington; Bryant, Sterlington; Franklin, Linville, and Durrah, Simsboro.

Sportsmanship awards went to Walley of the Winnfield girls and McKinney of Linville boys.

Fugler Injured Slightly When Auto Wrecks

MONTICELLO, Miss. (AP) — Max Fugler, 22, 1958 all-America center for the Louisiana State University Tigers, escaped serious injuries here Friday when his car wrecked.

Fugler was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Fugler told officers he swerved to avoid a stray cow on U. S. highway 84. His car left the road, clipped several small trees and lodged between two large trees, police said.

The accident happened a half mile west of here. Fugler was traveling alone.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse, trailing by 13 points with eight minutes left, exploded for a 14-11 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in their nationally televised National Basketball Assn. game Saturday. Hal Greer led all scorers with 25 points, 21 of them in the first half.

Larry Costello, who has been sidelined with the flu, sparked the exciting rally as he scored 13 of his 18 points in the fourth period. Teaming with Costello in the comeback was Dolph Schayes, held to two points in the first half, but battling for 17 more points after the intermission.

Ken Sears and Charlie Tyra paced the Knicks with 22 points each in a game which lacked excitement until the last half of the fourth period.

In Cincy Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson added another record to his bulging bag of collegiate basketball marks Saturday night, setting an all-time field goal standard while scoring 37 points as the top-ranked Bearcats ripped Wichita 97-76.

Robertson's first field goal of the night—30 seconds after the game started—broke Elgin Baylor's career record of 956 fielders.

Robertson added a dozen more field goals, equalled a season high of 25 rebounds and contributed eight assists while Cincinnati set up a 10-point halftime lead, stretched it to 20 early in the second half and coasted home in the Missouri Valley Conference game.

Ron Heller, 6-foot-6 Wichita sharpshooter who is accurate on long shots, helped keep the issue close in the first half and wound up with 28 points—well above his 13-per-game average.

Cincinnati broke free from a 7-7 tie early in the first half with a seven-point spurt and never had trouble after that.

It was the Bearcats' 22nd victory in 23 games in a drive toward the NCAA post-season tournament. The Shockers are now 13-11 for the season and 5-7 in the league.

FINAL FIGURES

Doyle Top Scorer On Indian Quint

Senior forward Ronald Doyle was the leading pointmaker on the 1960 Northeast basketball team, according to final statistics released yesterday.

Team captain and the only returning letterman from the 1959 squad, Doyle pushed in 353 points in 24 games for a 14.7 average per contest. The Calvert City, Ky., product held a two-point lead over sophomore Lanny Johnson of Monroe who netted 297 points for a 12.4 clip.

Johnson also was tops on the club in the assist department with 13 to his credit.

Robert Cook, a 6-5 pivotman, hauled in 228 rebounds to lead in that category. Doyle trailed with 167 and Charley Barnes, who joined the team early in the season, pulled down 143.

Barnes had the sharpest eye from the field, connecting on 72 of 165 field goal attempts for a 44 per cent average. Doyle and Johnson were close behind with a 39 per cent mark.

Freshman back courtman Stuart Toms was the deadliest from the foul line. The Quitman High School graduate missed only 12 of 55 chances for 78 per cent.

Overall, the team compiled an average of 37 per cent from the floor and 64 per cent from the foul line. The Indians averaged 64.1 points per game.

OPEN STARTS THURSDAY

Palmer Favored At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Tee shot artists of the Arnold Palmer lik may have an edge among the estimated 150 top professional golfers to play in the $15,000 Baton Rouge open tournament starting here Thursday.

The par-72 course at Baton Rouge Country Club is an exacting 6,600 yards with plenty of tree hazards, two ditches and well trapped greens.

The four-day tournament here will last through March 6. It is sponsored by the Professional Golfers Assn.

Palmer, 30, of Latrobe, Pa., is the hottest man on the circuit this year and he leads the field as a possibility to take the Baton Rouge open title from last year's surprise winner, Howie Johnson.

Palmer took the Palm Springs desert classic top money of $12,000. He was 1953 masters champion and leading money winner the same year at $42,607. Palmer also tied Johnson for first place in the 1953 Azalea open and lost in an 18-hole playoff.

Johnson, of Glenwood, Ill., won the Baton Rouge open title last year in a 36-hole final forced by bad weather. He gets $200 official appearance money and must defend his title under penalty of a PGA fine.

Charles Kane, host Pro for the tournament, said the course is in finest condition and greens are in good shape.

"If we can get a break in the weather," Kane said, "we will have a real show."

Tickets have gone on sale and a number of visiting golfers have arrived.

Top pros expected to take part include Jack Fleck, Tom Newport, Johnny Pott, Doug Ford, Bob Gallahey, Billy Maxwell, Frank Stranahan, Lionel and Jay Herbert and others.

Arnold Palmer Maintains Hold On Texas Open Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer maintained a tight-fisted hold on first place in the $20,000 Texas Open Saturday with a 5-under-par 67 that gave him 201 for 54 holes.

Palmer, the Ligonier, Pa., star who is leading the money-winning parade along the winter tour, pushed through a misting rain and chill temperatures for a 4-stroke bulge over Frank Stranahan, the Crystal River, Fla., campaigner.

Stranahan had a 4-under-par 68 but lost a stroke to Palmer, who started the third round with a 3-stroke lead.

Doug Ford of Crystal River, Fla., posted a 69 to move into third place with 208.

The third round of the tournament, being played over the 6,729-yard Ft. Sam Houston Course, was marked by an 18-stroke penalty against one of the contenders for high money—Paul Farmer of Sacramento, Calif.

Farmer changed putters for the second nine and was penalized two strokes a hole for having 15 clubs in his bag. He fired a 70 and would have stood at 213 but for the penalty. His 88 about eliminated him from any money at all.

Farmer said the rule specified if a club became unfit in the natural course of play it could be substituted. He said some shellac came off the back of the club, making it unfit for play in his opinion. Tournament Supervisor Harvey Raynor ruled otherwise.

Palmer increased his lead in the first nine holes when he had a 3-under-par 33 and Stranahan a 34. And he maintained the four-stroke bulge.

Palmer, who leads the money winners with $16,122.86—the highest total ever amassed along the winter tour—had only one bad hole—No. 15—where he was in a trap, blasted out and missed a short putt. He had two 20-footers among his birdie putts and he missed short ones on two and 11 that could have given him a 65.

Wes Ellis Jr. of West Caldwell, N.J., the defending Texas Open champion, had a 71 and fell from third place to fourth with 209. In fifth place was Rex Baxter of Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, with 211.

SPRING DRILLS

48 Gridders Work Out At La. College

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — Forty-eight ambitious candidates for next year's Louisiana College football team are hustling through snappy spring drills these crisp February afternoons.

Head Coach - Athletic Director Harold Knight has expressed satisfaction with the progress his youthful Peline gridmen have made to date.

"Our work has been confined to fundamentals thus far. I have been pleased with the spirit and hustle of the boys, but we realize that we have a tremendous amount of work to do before becoming a good ball club," he observed.

Aiding the energetic Mr. Knight this spring are Frank Young, making his debut as line coach, and Billy Allgood, who joined the L.C. athletic staff last June.

Young has won high acclaim for his forward wall tutelage at Hinds (Miss.) Junior College in recent years. Allgood, who is handling the 'Cat ends, has just completed his first season as L.C.'s head basketball mentor. He led the local eagles to more than a decade.

The 1960 spring football program will again be climaxed by an Orange and Blue intra-squad game, which will be sponsored by the Louisiana College Block "L" Club. Date for this colorful tussle has not as yet been set.

Among those going through these Cat spring paces are 34 returnees from the 1959 squad and 14 newcomers. These include 20 linemen and 14 backs.

Returning ball-carriers on hand are Joe Stewart, last year's co-captain and Little All-America fullback candidate, Tommy Whitecloud, Bobby Satcher, quarterback, Bobby McCardle, Freddy Shoenrock, Oliver Sinclair, Charles Underwood, "Bootsie" Watson, Larry Wood, Bob Corley, Tom Griffith, and Jon Murphy, half-backs.

Linebackers include Ward Alexander, Charles Jarndt, Bill Gardner, Don Grant, Jim Ranchino, ends, Robert Foster, Alton Franklin, Lamar Scott, Bobby Smith, Ross Hannum, Bo Stewart, Franklin Kelly, tackle, Billy Dorman, Jerry Mason, Wesley Reed, Charles Brown, Pe Soulis, Earl Moore, guards, Al Ed Walker, Norman Soulis, Ferd Cribbs, and Benny Neal, centers.

New men follow: Bill Higginbotham, Pasquola, Miss., Gary Corley, Pineville, ends; Garrett Lewis, New Orleans, Miss., Joe Doshier, Jena, La.; Don Booty, Franklinton, La.; Beck, McComb, Miss., guards, Cleve Roberts, Mobile, Ala., Jimmy Newell, Alexander, centers, "Corky" Yates, Pineville, John Mailet, Marksville, J. Gatwood, Petal, Miss., quarterbacks; Billy Joe Williams, W. Miss., Cloray Collins, Marksville, halfbacks; and Bobby Senger, Columbia, Miss., fullback.

Gambling Fix Charged On Xavier Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of Xavier University Saturday they will notify National Collegiate Athletic A. of an anonymous telephone call in which the caller said there was a gambling fix of Wednesday's Xavier-DePaul game here.

Dayton won the 91-62.

Xavier officials started Friday but said they did uncover no facts.

"Frankly, we have nothing definite to go on and don't think they (the NCAA) can anything about it," said the Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, president Xavier.

"You cannot come and accuse somebody of something without facts. The thing I came out at the meeting was: we have no facts. To clear school, however, we'll turn everything we have over to the NCAA."

The two officials at game—John McPherson of Nashville, Tenn., and Clyde Carl Evansville, Ind.—also said they knew nothing about a fix of anything out of the order in the game.

Xavier officials said anonymous call came from New York and that the caller mentioned fluctuating betting odds.

Exhibition At Crowville

CROWVILLE, (Special) — A basketball game between the businessmen of Crowville and teachers and bus drivers of Crowville High school here played at the school at 7 o'clock p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 23.

According to Judson Reed, Crowville track coach, seeds from the game will be for benefit of the track program.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Belkas, Nero Meet For Jr. Heavy Crown

Chris Belkas pulls his world's junior heavyweight wrestling championship out of cold storage and puts it on the line against confident Prince Nero at B&B Arena Monday night.

Belkas, former Louisiana titleholder, last week let it be known that he won the junior heavyweight trophy from Jackie Nichols last fall. Hearing that Chris was looking around for a worthy challenger, Nero promptly presented himself.

The Roman pretender defeated Belkas last week and believes he has the Greek's style all figured out.

This bout, the main event on a three-match program, is slated for 60 minutes and two falls to win, as is the semifinal which matches a pair of rugged Mexicans, Tony Jimenez and Carlos Mondoza.

Mondoza is a bit angry at his fellow countryman for holding him last week while Ken Cooper pressed Carlos to win a fall. That, thinks Carlos, was pretty bad, especially since Jimenez was the referee and supposed to be impartial.

In a special event, also of the grudge variety, Adrian Baellangeon and Firpo Zybyko will clash in a one-fall bout without a time limit.

Miss McIntire Soundly Defeats Miss Williams

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Barbara McIntire, National Amateur champion from Lake Park, Fla., Saturday defeated Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., 9 and 8 in the most lopsided victory in the 31-year history of the South Atlantic Women's Golf Tournament.

The putting game of Miss Williams, the California amateur champion, deserted her and she won but three holes. Miss McIntire won 12 holes before closing out on the 28th of the 36-hole match at the 6,282-yard Ellinger Village Country Club course.

Bowie Race Prize Taken By Mystic 2d

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — French-bred Mystic 2d won the $23,100 Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie race track Saturday, defeating the heavily favored Yes You Will by three-quarters of a length. The crowd of 19,499 fans sent Yes You Will off 7-10 favorite in the 7-furlong test, but after attaining the lead entering the stretch he gave way gradually to the winner. Nahodah was third, 3½ lengths back of Yes You Will.

Mystic 2d, owned by C. Mahlon Kline, was timed over the fast but dead track in 1:24. The 6-year-old son of Reic carried second-highest weight of 117 pounds, receiving a concession of 7 pounds from the runner-up. Mystic 2d paid $9.60, $3.40 and $2.40. Yes You Will $2.60 and $2.20 and Nahodah $2.60.

Howard Grant, who came up from Florida to ride Yes You Will, moved on the outside of four horses on the turn and lost a lot of ground. Mystic 2d, ridden by Arthur Chambers, remained on the rail the entire trip.

After reaching the lead, Yes You Will appeared ready to draw away, but Mystic 2d drove forward quickly along the rail and the pair locked in a momentary battle. Yes You Will lunged in and when Grant straightened Mystic 2d, the winner inched away.

Mystic 2d earned $14,815 while gaining his first triumph of 1960.

Veteran American League umpires who will be missing during the 1960 are Ed Rommel and Bill Summers. Both retired after last season.

Israeli Source Denies Report Of Violation

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israeli military spokesman Saturday night denied a report that Israeli planes had violated Gaza Strip airspace on two consecutive days.

The earlier report from Gaza quoted a United Arab Republic military spokesman as claiming three Israeli planes flew over the area Friday and one circled the town of Gaza Saturday.

The Israeli spokesman said no planes from Israel had penetrated into U.A.R. air space over Gaza or the Sinai.

THE COUNTRIES IKE WILL VISIT

How They Are Linked By Common Problems, Ties

Editor's Note—Ben Bassett, foreign news editor of The Associated Press, in the last few weeks has been traveling through the South American countries which President Eisenhower will visit. In this article he tells how these countries are linked in common problems.

By BEN BASSETT

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—President Eisenhower is rolling down to Rio this week to hold some hands and win some hearts.

Winning the hearts, among the millions of South Americans, should be fairly easy in most cases. Eisenhower needs only to show the smile he took to India two months ago.

The hand-holding with South American officials may be a little more difficult. They often feel neglected as the United States busies itself with East-West conflict and summit conferences. They easily can get the impression that U.S. eyes are upon Europe and Asia rather than on the peoples in the United States' own back yard.

Today, conditions of world trade and economics are such that a little neglect can go a long way. Eisenhower has an opportunity, in general if not specific terms, to improve relations.

He is visiting South America's two largest countries, Brazil and

Thief 'Sorry' He Took Car—Need 'Urgent'

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Stolen car. Report to police."

Police found that notice clipped beneath the windshield of an automobile parked in downtown Washington.

On the other side of the paper was a note of apology to the car's owner — "circumstances were urgent that I get to Washington in a hurry. I had just enough money for gas — not a train."

The note continued that the car thief used only the best gasoline and didn't speed, then added: "I'm sorry again, but you shouldn't leave the keys."

Police said the car is owned by E. Kenneth Mullis of Lancaster, S. C., who reported it stolen in Rocky Mount, N.C.

Argentina, plus their neighbors, Uruguay and Chile. He could not visit all the republics without an extensive tour taking him away from Washington for a month or more. There are obvious reasons for skipping some countries. Eisenhower was angry over the reception Peru and Venezuela gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon in May 1958.

In Lima, the Peruvian capital, Nixon was spat on and stones were thrown while he tried to address students at San Marcos University. In Caracas, Venezuela, a rioting mob battered his car with sticks, stones and eggs.

There were lesser demonstrations by students in Colombia and Uruguay, but his reception in those countries were otherwise friendly. The vice president's South American tour took him to eight nations in 19 days.

In the four countries he visits President Eisenhower will find plenty of examples of the troubles that plague much of Latin America. All four have had trouble in maintaining economic stability. In general, they would not be as well off today if they had not received help from U.S. private investors and such organizations as the U.S. Import-Export Bank and the World Bank in which the United States has a major voice.

Two Area Schools Tie For Top Honor

Teams from Natchitoches High and St. Matthew's of Monroe tied for first place in debating and Pineville High won top honors in individual events at the eighth annual Speech and Drama Festival, which ended here Saturday.

Both the St. Matthew's team and Team No. 1 from Natchitoches High, which had entered two teams, won all five rounds in the debating division. Castor High School, which finished behind the Monroe and Natchitoches teams, won four of its five rounds.

In the individual events, which also included drama, Winnfield High finished in second place, and Davidson of St. Joseph and St. Vincent's Academy of Shreveport tied for third.

FESTIVAL

Some 185 students from 21 high schools attended the festival, held Friday and Saturday on the Northeast Louisiana State College campus. James W. Parkerson, associate professor of speech, was festival director.

Members of the winning debate team from Natchitoches were Hampton Carver and Steve Hyde.

Members of the St. Matthew's team, which tied for first place, were Charles Heck, Eric Guilbeau, Fred Heller and Mitchell Goldman. Mary Minchew and Ann Lee made up the Castor squad.

The debate subject was, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase Its Regulation of Labor Unions."

The individual events consisted of oratory, oral interpretation (with poetry and prose sections), extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking and radio speaking.

Students who scored superior in the highest rating, if the events, listed by school, are:

Quachita Parish High: Charlotte Salley (poetry), Patti Patterson (poetry), Mike

Parkerson (radio) and Tavis Kenny (extemporaneous).

St. Matthew's of Monroe: Mitchell Goldman (radio) and Charles Heck (after-dinner).

St. Vincent's of Shreveport: Theresa Sava (extemporaneous), Julie Schmidt (prose), Jane Correges (poetry) and Rita Sue Pope (poetry).

Davidson of St. Joseph: Judy Shaughnessy (oratory), Helene Jo George (extemporaneous), Betty Bradley (poetry) and Billie Dean Shaughnessy (after-dinner).

Pineville High: Gray Sexton (extemporaneous) and John Mosley (oratory, extemporaneous and poetry).

Winnfield High: Betty Kraft (poetry), Mike Swanson (radio) and Reggie Walker (radio).

Winnboro High: Barbara Griffing (oratory).

Dry Prong High: Carolyn Frazier (poetry).

Jena High: Mary Cannon (oratory).

Natchitoches High: Janet Butler (prose).

All Saints' of Vicksburg, Miss.: Diana Weber (extemporaneous).

The 21 schools entered were Neville and St. Matthew's of Monroe; Ouachita Parish: West Monroe; Waterproof; Davidson of St. Joseph; Harrisonburg; All Saints' of Vicksburg, Miss.; Natchitoches; Ruston; South Side High of Monroe; St. John's High and St. Vincent's Academy of Shreveport; Jena; Homer; Dry Prong; Winnfield; Castor; Pineville; and Lafayette.

Assisting Parkerson with the festival were George C. Brian, associate professor of speech at Northeast; Claude C. Fuller, instructor in speech; and students majoring in speech.

Judges from Northeast were Parkerson; Brian; Fuller; Charles C. Kimbrell and D. Delbert Vines, instructors in business administration; Dr. Vernon Lusk, associate professor of English; and advanced speech majors.

Off-campus judges were Mrs. Yvonne Lusk Anderson, Mrs. George Brian, Mrs. Bonnie Bennett and visiting high-school directors.

Miss Gaston Makes Her Debut In Baton Rouge

On Saturday Feb. 20 Miss Conway Gaston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gaston of Baton Rouge, was one of 10 young ladies who made their bow to society at the Capitol House. Miss Gaston, a freshman at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., is the daughter of a cadet of royal purple grapes fell, the former Melba Liner, and each one also received a silver, the granddaughter of the late J. C. Liner, and a niece of Dr. and Mrs. Nat Gaston of this city.

After the presentation, the young ladies were taken to the ballroom floor where they waltzed with their escorts. After this followed a dance for the members of Bacchus and University circles and then general dancing.

For the third year, members of Le Cercle de Bacchus, a group of young bachelors who are active in both business and University circles of the city, have chosen this occasion to introduce the debutantes of the season amid a scene of regal splendor.

White Grecian columns and decorations typical of the grape emblem of the ancient God Bacchus, formed the scene of the ball at the Capitol House where the Lloyd Alexander band played for dancing between the hours of 9 and 12.

Following the ball members of the organization entertained guests at a breakfast on the roof of the Capitol House, overlooking the Mississippi River.

In the receiving line to greet guests were officers of the club and the ball captain. They wore formal attire with a red sweetheart rose as a boutonniere, and an ambassador ribbon with the crest of Le Cercle de Bacchus.

As the honorees entered on the arms of their escorts to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," they made their bow first to the officers of Bacchus and then to the group assembled in the ballroom. Their escorts were selected from among the business and civic leaders in the city. Miss Gaston was escorted by Mr. Brad Williamson.

Each of the honorees was presented with a bouquet of lavender cattleya orchids from which came

Mr. Hutchinson, a graduate of the Petal High School, served in the United States Marine Corps and is now a student at Mississippi Southern College.

The wedding will take place at 3 p.m. March 19 at the Hamburg Baptist Church.

Natchez Temple Setting For Event Feb. 21

The wedding of Miss Elida P. Loppo, daughter of Leonard Loppo and the late Mrs. Loppo of Waterproof, La., to David E. Rosenson, of Natchez, Miss., formerly of Hackettstown, New Jersey, was solemnized Sunday afternoon, February twenty-first at two o'clock in the Temple B'Nai Israel in Natchez. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rosenson of Hackettstown, N. J.

Rabbi Arthur Lebowitz of the temple synagogue performed the ceremonies in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the two families.

Maid of honor for the wedding was Miss Frances Tillman of Waterproof. The bridesmaids were: Misses Lucy Merle Sibley, of Waterproof, Carol Ann Nathanson, and Elise Abrams, of Natchez, and Nadine Rossow of Glendale, Calif.

Serving as best man for the wedding was John Benjamin Loppo, brother of the bride. Ushers were Edgar L. Chase of Waterproof, James McCormick of New Brunswick, New Jersey, David Robertson, Fayette, Miss., and Alfred Baron of Levittown, Pa.

Following the ceremony at the temple a reception was held in the vestry room of the Temple with a business firm in Natchez. B'Nai Israel, after which the young couple left on a bridal trip to an undisclosed destination.

Upon their return they will make their home in Natchez.

Wedding Vows Pledged By Miss Harrison, S. A. Hanna

In a ceremony at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Wednesday at 5 p.m., Miss Mary Sue Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Harrison of Mer Rouge, became the bride of Mr. Samuel Andrew Hanna of Monroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hanna of Winnsboro.

The bride was attended by Miss Patricia Ann Davis, maid of honor, in a blue suit with flowered hat of the same blue and black patent accessories. In her hand she carried a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was John E. Blanchard, Bastrop, and ushering the guests served, was Robert B. Anderson.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were hosts to the wedding guests in the annex

An early June wedding is planned.

Miss McIlwain is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. Vivian Bradford Wheeler of Natchez and the paternal granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Slova Barron McIlwain, of Pascagoula. The bride-elect is a graduate of the Pascagoula High School and Sullins College in Bristol, Va. She is presently employed at the Longfellow House in Pascagoula.

Mr. Robins is the maternal grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Reddock Smith Sr., of Norfolk, Va., and the paternal grandson of Mrs. Joseph Hammond Robins and the late Mr. Robins of Severn, Virginia. Mr. Robins is a graduate of Fortier High School in New Orleans, La., and he is presently employed in Pascagoula. He will return in the fall to Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La., to continue his studies.

Cosmetic Cape

Hate to throw anything away? Here's an idea: when your plastic raincoat becomes too shabby for wear, cut it to waist length, shorten the sleeves, and use it as a "cosmetic cape" while you wash your hair, apply make-up, or do any chore which requires a bit of protection. Keep it clean by wiping with a sudsy sponge.

of the church. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth was centered with white blossoms. Mrs. Lloyd Robinson and Mrs. John W. Stewart of Mer Rouge served.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Monroe, where they are both employed.

Miss Evelyn R. Cummings A Bride Of Last Evening

Wearing a traditional wedding gown of white lace, Miss Evelyn Ruth Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cummings Sr., last evening became the bride of Charles Robert Russ of Ruston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Russ of Port Gibson, Miss.

The double ring ceremony took place at the Stone Ave. Methodist Church at 7 p.m. in a setting of pink and white gladioli and burning white tapers, with Rev. L. L. Yeager officiating. Miss Rose Mary Sones organist and Mrs. Marjorie Bufkin, vocal soloist provided the program of nuptial music.

The bride's lace dress worn over white satin was set off by a finger-tip veil of illusion and her bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Gloria J. Cummings, sister of the bride, and her only attendant, wore a gown of pink brocade with shoes and headpiece of the same color, and carried white carnations.

Mr. Arliss R. Russ, brother of the groom, was best man and Mr. L. F. Cummings Jr. and Mr. Marvin M. Smith ushered the wedding guests.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor hosted by the parents of the bride.

For traveling on their wedding trip to Arkansas, Mrs. Russ selected a blue ensemble with which she wore black accessories. Mr.

and Mrs. Russ will live in Ruston. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Russ and Roy Russ of Port Gibson, parents and brother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mayfield and Miss Hazel Mayfield, Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayfield and Miss Ann Mayfield, Zachary; Mrs. Vera Moon, Port Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Kib White, Port Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Only Child Finds Teen Road Rough

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

"Parents seem to expect more of an only child than they should," writes a 16-year-old Midwestern girl who says that up until now she has been "performing like a trained seal for them."

She doesn't object to their affection and interest, but she thinks that when there is just one child at home, the parent has nothing else to do but worry about her.

"Why can't my mother let me enjoy friendships, without trying to control my every move?" she asks. "She hovers over me when boys are around and acts like I'm not appreciated if the boy doesn't fall all over me."

"My father sometimes sits in his car, watching from a distance to make sure that the boy leaves a dance with me. Then he hurries home and tries to get the car in the garage before we drive up to the house. This really puts a crimp in an evening because the boys always know what he is up to."

"My parents take offense if I am not invited to every party that goes on in town. They can't imagine anyone not loving me as they do, I guess."

GILDED CAGE
"What bothers me is the prospect of this sort of thing continuing. They don't want me to date steady, so I don't, just to please them. I must go on every vacation with them. I must go to visit friends on Sunday when they go visiting. I must go to my grandmother's if they decide it is a good idea. My mother will not let me buy a hat, dress or shoes unless she is along to help me select them. Lately I have gotten the feeling that my family keeps me in a cage, and that even when they let me out briefly, they are hovering over it awaiting my return."

"I don't want to hurt their feelings, but they are making me very nervous by their attitude. Should I tell them?"

our problem is a double one at the moment, of course, and it may very well ease up later. Parents are likely to be overly protective toward a girl in her early teens, especially when she begins to date. They worry about her, and they should, until she displays signs of maturity, and being able to cope with situations that are new to her because of her age.

PARENTAL LOVE

They love you, and want other people to love you, and in that feeling they are not different from parents who have more children. The difference is that the mother of a large family cannot worry about small details such as whether her offspring are popular enough to go to every party in town.

Boys will never resent your father's indulgence toward you, and a good type will respect your father for his protective instinct.

It is the way a boy who likes you should feel about you. The fact that it crimps his style as far as necking goes, does not enter into it. If you want to be cozy with him, invited him to your own living room. Chances are your parents will let you sit up with him there, so that he may get all the sweet nothings off his chest. Your parents will be delighted to have you at home with your friend.

When you do go out with a boy they can trust, and get to know well, they probably will be less demanding about your presence every time they go visiting.

Polio Victim Campaigns And Wins

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — "Blazes

no." That's what John F. Collins, kayoed by polio, roared from his Boston hospital bed when his wife meekly urged him to run up the white flag in the political arena.

The year was 1955 and Collins, candidate for Boston's City Council, almost made Mary Collins cry. She wasn't prepared for so strong a resolution from a man whose practically every muscle was paralyzed.

"I was only urging him to give up politics because that's what his friends told me to tell him," Mrs. Collins, new first lady of Boston recalled Thursday during an interview.

HELPLESS AT TIME
"The Blazes No" coming from my completely helpless husband put new fight in me at a time when I didn't think I had any fight left," petite Mrs. Collins said.

The Collins family that year had been riddled by polio. Three of four children had survived the acute stages when Collins came down with a nearly fatal case.

Mrs. Collins' visits to the hospital to see her husband where a respite from her chores at home, putting the convalescing children through physical therapy exercises and three hot baths a day.

The family's pluck in the battle with polio is the reason it has been named the 1960 March of Dimes family of the year. Much of the credit for its survival goes to Mrs. Collins.

In recognition of her unusual courage, she also has been named national honorary chairman of the 1960 Mother's March, a traditional MOD event.

Mrs. Collins, 39, somewhat embarrassed by all the honors, said she did "just what any other mother would have done."

WHAT SHE DID
In addition to nursing the family and Mrs. George Goodwin of Bastrop met the guests as they arrived, and directed them to the receiving line in the library.

The hostess, was wearing a blue tulle dress, Mrs. Banks a navy blue crepe model with a lace bodice, Mrs. Hodgson, blue lace and Mrs. Livesay brown crepe and lace. All wore white camellia corsages.

Camellias were used in the entrance hall. Flame gladioli were on the mantelpiece in the library and in a large silver wine cooler on the piano in the lounge. Also in the lounge was a white camellia tree, a conversation piece.

The refreshment table in the lounge overlaid with an imported white linen and lace cloth had for its centerpiece a large crystal and silver epergne of Tri-color Camellias and white tapers. The coffee and tea services at either end of the table were presided over alternately by Mrs. H. G. McDonald, Mrs. Eloise C. Stanhope, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie, Jr., Mrs. William Rodriguez, and Mrs. Milling Bernstein.

Assisting with the courtesies were: Mrs. Walter Shattuck, Mrs. N. G. Gaston, Mrs. Neil Buie, Mrs. Lealis Hale, Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Adrienne Duchkar, and Miss Fran Guthrie.

Over 300 guests called between 3 and 5 p.m.

through to a happy adjustment despite residual effects of polio, here's what she did:

—Coached by her hospitalized husband and by his friends, she campaigned for him in the city council race. She did it the door-bell-ringing, ward-touring way—and got him elected.

—Against doctor's orders, she helped him to show up for the first council meeting, in a wheel chair, three months later his polio attack.

But that was just the beginning. The family had to find a new house — one with the first floor close to ground level so ramps could be built for easy access in a wheel-chair.

Recently, she helped her husband campaign again — for the position of mayor. He won, proving to friends that he meant what he said when, urged again to give up politics, he uttered, "The mayor is supposed to run the city with his head, not his feet."

Mrs. Collins said politics "is a man's business." But she's been exposed to the "business" nearly all of her life. She was a court house secretary when Collins, a court house lawyer and member the State House of Representatives, courted her.

Politics, she said, is hard work. It's harder when there's polio. But somehow, you manage.

"What helps you to manage is advice a doctor gave me when John was ill."

"He said — 'live one day at a time.'"

OUT-OF-TOWN guests honored at a tea at the Lotus Club on Monday were: Mrs. George D. Hodgson, Mrs. John Overton Banks and Mrs. Wallace B. Livesay Sr. all of Beaumont, Texas.

Mrs. H. Coon Hostess To La Violette C.

Members of La Violette Club held their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Henson Coon on Thursday, February 18 Mrs. H. A. Genung, presiding.

A list of the programs to be presented by the club for a period of two years was read and discussed. A program led by Mrs. McCarty was then presented which included a discussion on the culture of African Violets in the form of questions and answers by the group. Door prizes of packages of free soil were awarded by the drawing of numbers.

Refreshments were then served to the members as they enjoyed a period of conversation. Those present included Mesdames W. H. Augspurger, Fritz G. Becker, F. E. Black, Philip R. Bogel, H. M. Coon, Henson Coon, Alice Davidson, J. S. Drew, Bert Gambrell, H. A. Genung, Jr., A. M. Guerriero, J. E. Hart, Julius Irving, R. M. Kettinger, and M. L. Loper, F. E. McCarty, Lamar Moore, G. M. Mott, Steve L. Powell, Albert Ringo, Louis Rollins, J. H. Scogin, Jr., Chas. A. Taylor, E. K. Theus, T. Tyler, Wilson Williams, William Word, and J. B. Young.

But that was just the beginning. The family had to find a new house — one with the first floor close to ground level so ramps could be built for easy access in a wheel-chair.

Recently, she helped her husband campaign again — for the position of mayor. He won, proving to friends that he meant what he said when, urged again to give up politics, he uttered, "The mayor is supposed to run the city with his head, not his feet."

Mrs. Collins said politics "is a man's business." But she's been exposed to the "business" nearly all of her life. She was a court house secretary when Collins, a court house lawyer and member the State House of Representatives, courted her.

Politics, she said, is hard work. It's harder when there's polio. But somehow, you manage.

Highland PTA Celebrates Founders' Day

From 1897 to 1960 — Sixty-three years of consecrated service — throughout the United States, at every Parent Teacher Association Founders' Day meeting during the month of February, this will be the theme.

At Highland Elementary School West Monroe, Mrs. James F. Mooney was in charge of the Founders' Day program Wednesday. Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Agnes Miller, noted throughout this area for her understanding of today's children and her instructive talks on their problems.

Past PTA presidents present were: Mrs. Julius Cathey, Mrs. James McGuire and Mrs. Harold Crawley. Each was presented with a camellia corsage upon being introduced.

A PTA life membership pin was presented to Mrs. Charles DeLand, Highland PTA president, by Mrs. Cathey, president of the Ouachita Parish PTA Council.

An announcement was made that the Fifth District Conference your spice shelf and use it in PTA meeting will be held at the light-colored foods where specks of black pepper would mar the roe, on March 2. Delegates from Costume Party Given By Cath.

Newcomers Club

Purple, gold and green ribbons and many colored balloons decorated the Marine Corps League Hut at Bernstein Park the night of February 20 when the Catholic Newcomers' Club Costume Party took place. Glittering masks greeted the members at the long buffet table where a pair of jeweled crowns and scepters were the centerpiece. These later were used to crown the King and Queen who were chosen from among the maskers present for the evening's fun.

King Rene Broussard and his wife, Queen Lynn reigned supreme throughout the evening's festivities. Their subjects for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stephens, Maxie Borne; Charles Cerise; Robert Harvey; Fred Feeney; Earl Trahue; Marvin Blaess; Otis Jarnagin; Joe Reine Jr.

LAST NIGHT MISS NANCY SNELLINGS was one of the maids in Washington's Mardi Gras ball. She is shown in the lovely white gown she wore for the occasion.

Local Girl Is Maid In Washington D.C. Ball

Miss Nancy Snellings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snellings, was one of the 8 maids in the court of the Washington Mardi Gras ball held last night at the Sheraton Park Hotel. It is a major event of the Washington social season, attended by the leaders of congress and the executive department.

The escorts of the queen's attendants included members of the Louisiana congressional delegation, Louisiana midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, Louisiana students enrolled at universities in the vicinity of Washington. This year Allen Foster, a freshman at Princeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foster was selected as one of the escorts.

The queen, her maids and the reigning queens of Louisiana's local celebrations held during the year and who were presented to the court, were honored on Friday at the King's luncheon given by Louisiana senators and congressmen and taken on a 4 hour tour of Washington in the afternoon. That night was the excitement of the rehearsal.

Mr. and Mrs. Snellings accompanied their daughter to Washington and were privileged to attend the ball and the queen's supper which followed, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Pyburn.

Mrs. Norman Mendelsohn Queen Of Carnival Ball

At the 13th annual carnival ball of the Krewe of Tucumcari presented in Baton Rouge at the Ryan Field Gymnasium, February 20, Mrs. Norman Mendelsohn, the former Eleanor Heninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Heninger of this city, reigned as queen.

The Krewe of Tucumcari brought to life the characters who peopled the "Tales of Scheherazade" in their tableau. Sheherazade was the wife of King Shahriar of Arabia who lived in a splendid palace with store houses heaped with rare and precious treasures. A sumptuously decorated courtyard was the setting for the members colorfully costumed as merchants, travellers and townspeople of ancient Arabia. Marvels of Eastern magic entertained the crowd until a fanfare announced the arrival of the Royal Maids and Dukes, lavishly garbed as Arabian noblemen, and famous characters of Arabian Literature.

His subjects assembled, the king arrived with his retinue, greeted the crowd and ascended his throne, a dazzling sight in his costume of brocade and jewels. He signalled for his queen who was brought to him seated in an ornate sedan chair borne by four men servants. As she alighted, the king removed her veil and escorted her to the throne under the royal canopy. She was crowned as a white peacock, symbol of good fortune in the East. From her shoulder rose a wide silver collar shaped as a peacock fan worked with rubies and rhinestones in a peacock eye design.

On her head the peacock's crown feathers simulated in rhinestones sprang gracefully from a helmet of jewels. Her sheath gown of silver matelasse had a decolletage border of jewels. Wide sleeves sprinkled with rhinestones trailed to the floor. From a gold ruby studded band at the waist fell an overskirt of silver and white brocade which parted at the center front and was clasped on either side by a second gold band. Rhinestones and rubies in many shapes and sizes repeated the peacock eye and scroll design in a deep border down the front of the skirt, continuing around the wide demitrain.

Call out dances followed at which Krewe members presented their partners favors of the ball. Upon completion of the call outs, King Shahriar and Queen Sheherazade bid their grand Vizier and Maids and Dukes join them in the traditional Grand Re-cessional and thus closed the fabulous that general dancing and merry making might prevail among their subjects.

King Size Mop

The average dustmop doesn't cover much territory in one full swipe! But a new, button-on nylon mop does, because it is queen-size -- measuring 8 by 18 inches. Its button construction makes this mop head easy to remove from the handle for the frequent machine-washing required to keep it at peak dusting efficiency.

Girl Scout News

Next Sunday begins Girl Scout Week for the more than three million girls and their leaders in the United States. Troops in the Twin Cities will join in celebrating the 48th anniversary by holding programs on Sunday afternoon, March 6, at 2:30 at Sherrouse School, Lexington School, and Highland School. At this time, troops in each neighborhood will give a short program, and will present their offerings for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

Parents, you have a date with the Girls Scouts next Sunday afternoon at 2:30! Once a year the Girls Scout families are asked to attend the neighborhood program. Every girl has a place on the program and there will be a vacancy if she isn't there. These programs never last more than an hour. Bring the smaller children, too. Let's make each a neighborhood, family affair.

In West Monroe the program is being planned by a committee headed by Mrs. B. B. McWhorter, assistant leader of Troop 23. Mrs. Sidney Seegars, leader of Troop 7, is chairman of the Northside Neighborhood program at Lexington School, and Mrs. E. S. Parrish, chairman of the College Neighborhood, is in charge of the program at Sherrouse.

On Sunday, also, each girl and adult should wear her uniform to her own church or join with her troop in attending a service. The first part of the Girl Scout Promise stresses Duty to God, a fact which we recognize on the first day of Girl Scout Week.

Many troops, and we wish we could say ALL, write thank-you notes to those who furnish a meeting place and who have helped troop program during the past year. In our opinion to teach girls thoughtfulness is one of the finest things a leader can do.

Each day of Girl Scout Week is intended to call attention to some part of the Girl Scout program. Monday is Homemaking day, Tuesday, Citizenship, Wednesday, Health and Safety, Thursday, International Friendship, Friday Arts and Crafts and Saturday, Out of Doors. The observance of these is usually done by troops, who try to carry out an activity in at least one during the week. A project that has been suggested and is being carried out in some neighborhoods is that girls in uniforms visit their neighbors and make Scouting the subject of conversation. Certainly, all of us need to be more articulate on the subject of Scouting.

A piece of good program of Troop 53, sixth and seventh grade girls at Lakeshore School was a meeting with Captain and Mrs. Earl Trabue as guests. Mrs. Trabue talked interestingly of her years spent as a teacher in Japan. She showed the girls a Japanese kimono and other souvenirs. The girls learned that the Japanese are very interested in art, that drawing and painting are taught even to five-year-olds.

Captain Trabue demonstrated some first aid procedures, such as rescue from a burning building. The troop, under the leadership of Mrs. W. A. Roche and Mrs. E. C. Cowger, has made a project of keeping a nursery for P. T. A. meetings all year, a much appreciated service.

Installation And Banquet At Embers

Women in Construction held their installation of officers and banquet at The Embers, Thursday evening, February 18, 1960.

Carrying out the theme of Valentine, each new officer and board of directors were presented with red carnation corsages. Mary Greer, president of Shreveport's chapter, who came to install the new officers, was presented with a white carnation corsage.

The banquet table was arranged in the form of a "T", and decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, red and white peppermint carnations, bells of Ireland, and leaf fern.

Mary Greer welcomed the new officers, members, and their guests. She presented the incoming Monroe chapter president, Pat Bess, with the gavel. Then

In keeping with this, the season of the fancy dress party, members of the Latin club of Neville High wore Roman togas for the organization's dinner Wednesday night. The occasion marked the induction into membership of first year Latin students.

Scene of the party was the Paragon ballroom, which was decorated with a banner bearing the words "Neville Latin Club" and "Scientia Est Potestas". (Did you need to be told that the latter phrase means "Knowledge is Power"?) Ivy and camellias were used the length of the dining tables, where some eighty club members were seated. Place-cards bore tiny replicas of Roman torches, lettered "NLC."

Guests and members were welcomed by president MIKE MCCREADY, who presided. After dinner, skits were presented by several groups of students.

A musical spoof of the story of Julius Caesar was presented by second year students. JOHN FRAZER played the part of Caesar, with MOLLY SHELTON as his wife. WAYNE SMITH was his friend, and BO PASTERNAK, Brutus. DOTTIE AMMAN, MARY BEGGS, JIM HUGGINS, JIM GUTHRIE, BONNIE MARX, and BILL FRIZZELL, were members of the mob.

A Roman version of "77 Sunset Strip" was done by first year students. WADE BRISBIN, SAGE REDDING, SAYLE DUNN, PENNY NICHOLS, ANNE PANKEY, and JOHNNY BURGESS.

"How Teen - Age Romans Spend Their Leisure" was demonstrated by KATHY MSHERRY, DIANE WEST, ADRIA LANDRY, KURT GUEZLOW, SAM CAVERLEE, NANCY CROSSLAND, STEVE UPDEGRAFF, NICKY WHITE, DON MARX, PAT PORTER, KATHY COCHRAN, HOWARD RIVERS, PAT GRAYSON, CAROL LYN THOMPSON, BARBARA GILLILAND, SHEILA CULP.

A free - style version of the story of Niobe, entitled "Wanted Dead, Not Alive," was done by Sissy LOFTIN, CYNTHIA LEIGH, RICHARD KIPER, STEVE GILMONT, K. K. RIFE, ELAINE SPENCER, ANNETTE GRAVES, SHAWN MURRIDE, PENNY NICHOLS, BILL HUNT, SHERRY FREE, PAULA NEAL, DEWITT BECKETT, TERRY HESSICK, JACK TROUSDALE, GERRY FRASIER, and ANN FUTCH.

Third year students were represented by MARIE KING NELSON, who played several numbers at the piano. MIKE LANDRY was program chairman for the dinner. RUTH SIMMONS, Latin teacher, is sponsor for the group.

This week your reporter visited LELA HERNDON in her charming little home planned for a living alone. The house at 1109 Auburn is of rose antique brick, with all white woodwork, doors, and shutters. One enters a living - dining room, while-walled and carpeted in green. Warm Victorian pieces are used here, as throughout the house. A love-seat and pair of side chairs, upholstered in velvet, surround the hooked rug which is placed before the marble hearts. An oval shaped marble topped table is used for coffee before the fireplace, and marble topped chests are placed by the door and in the dining area. An exquisite antique chandelier hangs above the dining table.

Lela "lives" in her den, directly behind the living room. This room is paneled in light mahogany and has green carpet and draperies. A day-bed, slip-covered by day, is used for sleeping. Against the opposite wall is a lovely oval desk. The glass walls of the den overlook the brick patio, furnished with white iron furniture.

The only bedroom is invitingly furnished for guests with a high old walnut bed and marble-topped washstand. The front of the walnut dresser is finished with applique of burl walnut. Here, too, the carpet is green, picking up the dominant color of the printed draperies. Walls and bedspread are white.

The large kitchen features a dining area furnished with small - scale walnut table and chairs and a marble - topped hutch cabinet. Focal point of the area is a chandelier of amber and copper. Draperies are a print on white: celadon green and light blue, with touches of pink.

Word has filtered down from Jackson, Tennessee, of a party honoring two former Monroians now living there. Hostess for the party was SARAH (MRS. ALBERT) STONE, who has visited here a number of times. She honored OPAL WHITE and her daughter, KATHERINE INABNETT with a dessert - bridge in her home. Also a honor guest was MRS. RELPS COLE of Lake Charles, who is visiting Opal.

Any old week is a good week for going to New York, and we always have some of our people going or coming. One group which went up Friday and is due home tomorrow includes the H. W. MSHERRYS, the TRAVIS OLIVERS, the BENTON WAKEFIELDS, the P. A. POAGS, and the JACK HOWARDS.

Last night the Paragon ballroom was the scene of the "Bal Masque" of "The Krewes of Third and Fourth." This group is a dinner - dance club of some twenty - five couples from Morehouse parish and southern Arkansas. Saturday they became a krewe, wearing masks, but not costumes, in honor of the carnival season. A steak dinner was served to about ninety members and guests. Duke Huddleston's combo played for dancing from nine until one.

"Twam't a fil day out Wednesday when GEORGIE TOUCHSTONE entertained at a coffee honoring SALLIE SHAFTO. Inside, yellow tulips, stock, and white camellias created the effect of spring. Georgie, who cooks for fun, served some delectable tid-bits: tiny, hot meat turnovers, crisp pecan crescents, cheese balls wrapped around olives, miniature lemon chess pies. Some forty members of the young married set came in out of the rain for a cup of coffee and these goodies.

And speaking of unusual food, that at the Lotus Club is really getting interesting. At dinner last week, your reporter was hard - pressed to choose between vichyssoise and turtle soup; between shrimp curry and Danish trout and English sole. Among desserts, the hand-drawn favorite is listed modestly on the menu as "Danish special": is a tart filled with the most delicate cream filling.

JEAN DAVIS and MARY MARCOUX were hostesses at bridge at the Paragon Club Friday. The eight tables played in two sections, with ROSEMARY HUNT and ADELE RANSOM ending in a tie for high in one group. BETTIE DIXON winning in the other. JEAN GIFFEN and PAT MADDEX were the low scorers.

THE JOHN KELSOS, SR., are in New Orleans for Mardi Gras. Also down for carnival are KATY REINAUD and LEONORA KELLER. Leonora will stay on for a visit with relatives.

The dog trials around the country are attracting considerable attention among our hunters and dog lovers. In Texas this week end for the Port Arthur Retriever Club License Trial are CAMILLE and ROBERT WOODS, the BURCHALL LILES, the GEORGE MOURKS, GAIL and TOMMY FORTENBERRY, and the E. M. BARRIAMS of Oak Ridge.

For personal reasons, your reporter finds Phylene Haumer's "Birthday Dirge" very suitable for today: This natal day of mine is spent in wretched annual regret: Another year has come and went. And what accomplish have I laid?

With life an ever-changing show Whose personae are so dramatic, Whose motto is get-up-and-go, My quo seems positively status.

The wheel of fortune spins a lot: At me it never span a spin. How non-pourri has been my pot: How ordinaire my vin has been!

A Little Red Schoolhouse In Manhattan

By MARY PRIME

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—A little red school house stands in the heart of Manhattan.

From the outside, it looks like other apartment buildings that line the street. But inside, it is a unique world created by a gentle, determined Southern woman and her staff.

The Yoder Center, which Dr. Hilda Whitener Yoder founded 10 years ago, aims to improve children's and adults' reading habits and to develop potential abilities. Adults, who attend at night, generally want to improve themselves. The children all are bright but some are slow readers, some have lost time in school because of illness, moving or travel, and others have developed an emotional block toward learning.

Many students come from homes of well-educated and successful parents who expect too much of the youngsters. The children feel obligated when they learn what the parents have done and are afraid they can't live up to it. Or they have brothers or sisters who outshine them. Consequently, some children never have learned to read or have blocked out what they once learned.

"They're like little wild birds—they're afraid," Dr. Yoder said in an interview. She told of one little boy who was so frightened that he bit his lips until they bled.

"The school is for those who can learn but haven't. It's our job to find out why they haven't," Dr. Yoder explained.

COMPARISONS ELIMINATED

Youngsters can take reading courses, psychological testing, tutoring, or regular school work in grades from one through 12. Usually a student who takes the regular school course signs up for a year. Some leave before the year is up to return to their former schools or enter new ones, and others stay as long as three years. "It all depends on what has to be done," Dr. Yoder said. "We aim to send them out as fast as possible, but not until they are ready."

There are no discipline problems, and no child is made to feel he is different or a failure. Students work at their own speed. There are no report cards, no pressure, and no competition or comparison with other students.

Sherrouse PTA Speaker Is Rev. S. Wren

"Providing the foundation in the home for the character and spiritual development of the child" was stressed by Reverend W. Spencer Wren when he spoke to the Sherrouse Parent-Teacher Association Thursday evening, Feb. 18. Reverend Wren explained how this is a difficult age of transition and an era of electronics, bringing forth new values sometimes not too readily assessed. It is the parents' responsibility to help children appraise new values and re-evaluate old values, giving them a faith to live by and a spiritual purpose in their lives.

Mrs. J. D. Hull related the goal of the Parent-Teacher Association in cooperating with home and school in establishing united efforts for the character and spiritual education of our children.

The founding of the Parent-Teacher Association was outlined by Mrs. A. T. Robertson, Jr. Mrs. Robertson explained the purpose of a love offering in tinancing extension work in the organization.

After the business session, Mrs. W. L. Allen, president, announced that the following elected nominating committee would present their nominations at the next meeting: Mrs. J. L. Tolar, Mrs. A. T. Robertson, Jr., and Mrs. C. C. Boyd.

Mrs. J. P. Greene invited the group to attend the coffee hour after the meeting.

Green Thumb Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Green Thumb Garden Club held its February 18 meeting in the community center library in West Monroe. Mrs. W. F. Wall and Mrs. J. D. Ingram in charge. The president, Mrs. Earl Ferguson, called the meeting to order. Brief business reports were given by various members. Mrs. Earl Ferguson called upon Mrs. E. F. Kenny for a demonstration on making planters, that was the highlight of the meeting.

The meeting adjourned and the hostesses, Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Ingram, served refreshments to the

HAMMOND
CHORD ORGAN
everyone can play and enjoy . . .

Without Lessons or Practice

You play your first tune in minutes even if you can't read music. Imagine the good times your family can have with the Hammond Chord Organ. It will be the life of your parties, a constant joy and inspiration. But the best part: No boring scales or lessons! You progress by playing the songs you like.

Here's Why It's so Easy to Play

You play from "Picture Music". Really simplified music that shows you which keys to play with your right hand.

One finger plays chords. Instead of using 3 to 5 fingers, you press a button with one finger of your left hand.

Press a pedal to play bass. You rest one foot on a pedal, and the correct bass is automatically produced.

Smart Brides Sew Trousseau Ensembles

AP NEWSFEATURES

Every bride-to-be wants a dreamy negligee and gown, gossamer—sheer and romantic. It's a must for the trousseau, but it sometimes comes high.

To achieve glamor within the budget, local sewing center experts suggest that the bride make her own peignoir and gown in the most delicate and flattering fabrics available. They suggest sheer black coin - dotted nylon net over sheer pinky beige organza for the robe, pale pink sheer nylon (tricot over heavier tricot in a deeper shade for the Empire gown. What bride could ask for a more romantic ensemble?

The bridal set is easy to make at home from a standard pattern. Stitching the sheer net and nylon fabrics on the sewing machine poses no problems if the home seamstress follows these simple rules:

1. Use size 11 needle and nylon thread.
2. Be sure cutting scissors are sharp.
3. For pinning and fitting, use very thin, sharp dressmaker pins to avoid leaving pin-holes in the fabric.
4. Set the machine tension slightly lighter than normal.
5. Set stitch length for the nylon net and sheer fabrics 12 to 15 to the inch for inside seams; 18 to 20 for top stitching. To stitch the heavier tricot of the gown, use a slightly longer stitch—12 to 14 for inside seams, 15 to 18 for top stitching.
6. Lighten pressure slightly by adjusting screw at top of presser bar.
7. Remember that in sheers your line of stitching will show, so if you have difficulty stitching a straight line, use a seam guide. These are available for automatic slant-needle as well as straight-stitching machines. An edge-stitcher will help make accurate French seams.
- Inexpensive nylon lace edging, available at dime stores, gives a delicate finish. Use the ruffler attachment to apply.

Teen-Agers Back Attack On Big Cripples

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Half-a-million teen-agers are backing an attack on the three giant cripples—arthritis, birth defects and polio.

These young recruits in the National Foundation's army of volunteers help to raise funds for research and scholarships. They aid the handicapped by doing odd jobs for them and performing personal services—reading, letter writing—for those hospitalized.

The boys and girls also spread word about jobs that need to be done as science searches for new tools and the way to win major battles in the continuing war against the cripples.

January 9, the teen-agers will raise funds across the nation as their contribution to the 1960 March of Dimes.

Pat Fannon, 13, of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., and Andy Anderson, 18, of Artesia, N. M., are co-chairmen of the teen-age program—dubbed Tap.

The two are busy these days sparking interest in TAP and raising funds.

SHINED PLAYERS SHOES
Pat said pretty coeds in Phoenix, Ariz., recently started the ball rolling by shining shoes of football players—for a fee. Some of the shoe-shine gals charged $3 for their humble service. The "contributions" went into the kitty.

Typical of fund-raising events scheduled by the TAPs:

- In Oklahoma, TAPs will sell potato chips donated by the potato growers. In Florida, they'll stand on street corners and sell canned citrus fruit.
- In Boston, they're having benefit baked bean suppers. In Kentucky, they'll sell peanuts donated by peanut processors.
- In Pittsburgh, home of the polio vaccine, they're staging talent shows. In Denver, Colo., fashion shows are on tap.

TAP said donors helping the TAPs will get blue crutches, a symbol of hope in the crusade against arthritis, birth defects and polio.

SELL KINGSTON RECORD
The TAPs also are selling a record cut by the Kingston Trio. Rights to the platter have been turned over to the March of Dimes.

Rock 'n' roll? "Not for us," answered Pat. "It's folk songs on both sides—'Molly Dee' on one side; 'Haul Away' on the other."

Pat's interest in the foundation goes back to 1950. That year, three members of her family came down with paralytic polio. Andy became a Foundation volunteer several years ago when a friend died of polio.

Gina Goes On Hat Spree

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Luscious Gina Lollobrigida acts just like any other woman when turned loose in a millinery salon. She goes mad over hats.

During the recent filming of Gina's new picture, "Ever So Few," the glamorous Italian star decided to go hat shopping in Hollywood, saying:

"I need a hat, maybe two, maybe three."

Two days and a small fortune later she returned with 81 hats—count 'em—81. Said she:

"There's something about hats that makes me lose my head."

When trying on hats, Gina always stands up and views the effect in a full-length mirror. Then she has a close-up inspection to see how the hat looks from the side and back, explaining:

"I must look right going as well as coming."

Noted for her babushkas, Gina explained her sudden hat spurge: "Nobody knows me now. They think I am a lady."

Third Graders At Lexington Entertain PTA

Founders' Day was celebrated at the Lexington Avenue Grammar School on Thursday, February 25. Presiding over the business meeting was Mrs. D. F. Burkhalter, president. Mrs. Joe Dixon, legislative chairman, gave a short report on some of the bills pending in the next legislature. As is traditional at this meeting, the slate of officers for the coming year was presented: president, Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Jr.; first vice-president, Mrs. Joe Dixon; second vice-president, Mrs. Paul Neal; third vice-president, Mrs. John Salisbury; secretary, Mrs. Leo Terzia, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. David Lea; historian, Mrs. Amos Shelton; parliamentarian, Mrs. A. Danti.

The program was presented by Mrs. W. C. Dunn's third grade. The theme was the commemoration of Arbor Day. Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Jr., chairman of

Drury Bynum Heads Pledges Of Fraternity

The pledge class of the Epsilon Gamma Chapter of Kappa Sigma selected its officers for the second semester on Tuesday, February 23. The following boys were elected and will take office on March 1st: president, Drury Bynum, Monroe; vice president, Kenneth Anderson, Ruston; treasurer, Tommy Holbrook, Hodge; and secretary, Warren Ringheim, Monroe.

Founders' Day, gave a talk on the goals and responsibilities of the P-T. A. She explained that a magnolia tree has been planted on the school grounds in honor of the founders. A poster, painted by Mrs. Fred Sartor, was on display showing the emblem of the National Congress of the Parents and Teachers.

Climaxing the program was the presentation of a life membership pin to Mrs. D. F. Burkhalter by Mrs. Sackman Marx. Mrs. Burkhalter's many achievements during her administration were cited.

At the end of the program a social hour was held under the direction of Mrs. Lavelle Salley, hospitality chairman. A large birthday cake with candles celebrating Lexington's eighth birthday was served.

Bird War Off To Big Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $229,175,864 catch-all appropriation bill signaled the opening Friday of war between Congress and the Capitol Hill starlings.

The bill includes $35,000 to pay for an electronic hot-foot system to be installed on the Supreme Court building, a favorite perch for the estimated 35,000 starlings and pigeons occupying Capitol Hill.

brating Lexington's eighth birthday was served.

Mrs. Dunn's third grade won the room count.

'The Last Voyage' Is Dramatic Film

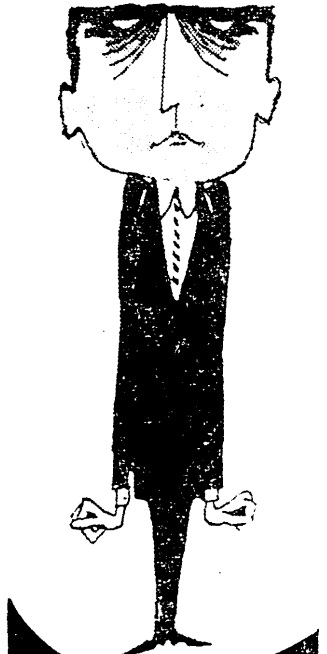

"The Last Voyage," a motion picture which has received a barrage of publicity and comment even before its release by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, due to the extraordinary circumstances of its filming, unfolds a suspense-filled story of the sinking of an ocean liner and the dramatic rescue of its 1,500 passengers.

An Andrew and Virginia Stone Production, in wide screen and color, starring Robert Stack, Dorothy Malone, George Sanders, Edmond O'Brien and six-year-old Tammy Marihugh, the film is unique in the annals of motion picture making. In order to give his story unquestionable realism, the director, Andrew Stone, leased one of the world's most famous ocean liners at a stage in which it was ready for retirement and then proceeded to sink it. The unusual picture was filmed in the Japan Sea with practically its entire action photographed either on or alongside the 44,000-ton vessel. The result is one of the most authentic and powerful depictions of a sea disaster ever brought to the screen.

MISS COLBERT READY TO RETURN

NEW YORK (AP) — Having finished her profitable run on Broadway with Charles Boyer in the comedy, "Marriage Go Round," Claudette Colbert has gone to what she considers her permanent home in Beverly Hills. But, she wants to return to Broadway and is scanning scripts for a serious role. Miss Colbert played a very serious role in "Dynamo," a play by Eugene O'Neill which had a short life at Broadway's Martin Beck Theatre several years ago.

Roman World Depicted In Picture Here

es Marchal and Ettore Manni heading a cast of thousands. All the flaring drama and spectacle of the ancient Roman world, the rage of the lions in the arena, the roar of clashing empires, and the epic of heroes and slaves, lovers and libertines, have been encompassed in the new Columbia release.

The lovely Miss Canale, who will be remembered for her Amazon Queen portrayal in "Hercules," plays a princess of ancient Armenia who seeks to be queen even under the Roman rulers of her country. Manni plays a handsome young Roman tribune sent out to crush an uprising led by Marchal. Marchal is a mighty warrior who, when captured by the Romans, astounds them with his feats as a gladiator, and who persuades the Roman tribune to the justice of his cause.

When Miss Canale makes her bid for power, backed by Scythian mercenaries, Manni makes a dash for the Roman Legion stationed miles away. The Legion rides to save the day in the best screen tradition of the United States Marines.

Miss Canale makes a glittering, if cold, beauty and Marchal is handsome and stalwart as the patriot gladiator, while Manni embodies the best qualities of the ancient Romans.

"The Warrior and the Slave Girl" is in the best tradition of super-spectacle.

Little Theater

A big crowd turned out for try-outs Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of last week. Among those trying out for the musical comedy, "Guys and Dolls," to be presented shortly by the Monroe Little Theatre group were: Edward B. Anders, Betty Bandy, Ray Barr, Dian Bennett, Earl Bradley, Ann Barrett Clark, Bill Haddad, Joe Wayne Johnston, Kay Harris, Marshall Lawson, Dell Moore, Mitzie Miller, Charlene Corro, V. P. Dalrymple, Jr., Margaret Fryant, Patricia Peyton, Curtis Lynn Rape, Jeanne Wineinger, Arlyne Winn, John Pierpont, Martha Cain Williams, and Virginia Goodman.

Onlookers attending try-outs were President Mary Gill, Board members Lallage Peazel and Julius Cahn; Faye Parker, Shady Wall, Anna Marie Danna, Pat Davis, Mary Lou Young, BB Stron, Jim Nuckles, Jo Ann Barber, Peggy Caskey, Ronnie Broth, was present, accompanying at the piano on Monday night.

Jerry McSpadden will be the rehearsal accompanist. Curtis Lynn Rape will assist Pat Whitley with the choreography.

The following were recruited to assist Violet Holland as members of the costume committee: BB Stron, Marguerite Malone, Jessica Lawn, Vera Painsich, Frances Weir, and Norma Brown. More people are still needed. Won't you volunteer? You don't have to be able to sew — other assistance will be welcomed!

Ivan still needs performers for "Guys and Dolls." You don't have to be able to dance or sing. All types of people are needed. Wouldn't you like to participate? Come out to the theatre and who knows — you may be just what the director ordered!

Billie and Jack Rawls and Anna and Sol Snyder were hosts at a party in Bastrop Saturday night for the deserving cast and crew of "Sabrina Fair." A wonderful time was reported by all.

Little Theatre member Tighe Mullins is in New York on business, and while there, plans to see "Sound of Music" and "The Miracle Worker."

The latest endeavor by the El Dorado Little Theatre Group was "Night Must Fall" which was presented Friday night.

Former board members, Mrs. J. B. Thornhill and Mrs. Robert Layton, are in Washington, D. C., attending the Mardi Gras ball. They will attend the Queen's dinner, following the ball, and participate in the other festivities before journeying to New York for some sight seeing and theatre-going. They will see several Broadway plays, and we will give you a report on that later on.

The George Snellings will also be among those in attendance at the Mardi Gras Ball in Washington.

Khrush Set To Lend To Indonesia

BOGOR, Indonesia (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed to extend long term credits, up to 250 million dollars, to Indonesia on condition it keeps out of any Western alliance, high level sources said Saturday.

Khrushchev and President Sukarno will sign the credit agreement, a cultural agreement and a joint statement in Sukarno's white-columned summer palace Sunday.

The Soviets have shown concern about Sukarno's increasingly friendly relations with the United States, a highly placed Indonesian source said, noting "they seem to have a very real fear we might commit ourselves in some way to the Western bloc."

Sukarno has reiterated Indonesia's neutralist position repeatedly since Khrushchev arrived 10 days ago. Indonesians say there is little chance he would abandon it.

One informant said neither the economic agreement nor the joint statement will include any stipulation that Indonesia maintain its neutralism and stay out of SEATO or any anti-Communist group.

"It is an understanding we have reached. It does not need to be written down," he said.

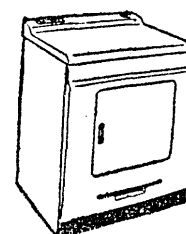

Soviet credits will apply to developing steel mills, agricultural projects and nonferrous metals, chemical and textile industries. An Indonesian source said the possibility of future Soviet military aid was discussed unofficially but nothing concrete was requested or proposed.

Foreign Minister Subandrio told newsmen the only official condition attached to the loan was: "It has to be paid back."

Khrushchev and Kremlin propaganda make a great point of claiming the Soviet Union attaches no strings to its aid. It says American aid is extended only with political conditions.

BOYS, GIRLS MARCHING

German Scene Echoes Past Of Tragedy

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—German boys and girls in uniform marching to drums and flaming torches . . . training to throw grenades . . . calling for a greater Germany that would include Austria and the Sudetenland. . . . It seems like an echo of the tragic past. But such Hitler-type organizations exist in West Germany today.

However, officials of the West German government estimate that no more than 10,000 youngsters are members of these extreme right-wing groups.

The groups are supported by incorrigible former Nazis trying to keep Hitler ideas alive, officials say. Their influence is believed to be relatively small. Several of the groups have existed 10 years and have never become a danger nor awakened any popular support, officials point out.

Interest in the activities of such Neo-Nazi groups has been awakened by the recent rash of anti-Jewish incidents in Germany. It is not known what, if any, role the groups may have played in such events.

One of the chief organizations is the Eagle (Adler) Youth Federation—JBA, connected with the extreme right-wing German Block party. Details of how this youth group thinks trains and propagandizes youngsters are revealed in its monthly reports.

These publications quote the movement's fuhrer, Richard Etzel, as describing JBA as "standing between the Hitler Youth organization and the Boy Scouts."

Former members of the Hitler Youth organization note these similarities:

Uniforms using Nazi-type black shorts, military-type cross-country marches and training, nationalistic slogans, poems and songs, use of Gothic German script instead of Latin script, and description of Rudolph Hess—jailed Nazi war criminal—as a "true fighter for freedom."

German officials variously estimate the strength of the Adler youth group at 500 to 2,000 active members throughout West Ger-

NE Teacher Is Author Of Article

Prof. Glenn F. Powers, chairman of the Physics Department at Northeast Louisiana State College, is the senior author of a paper recently accepted for publication in the American Journal of Physics.

Scheduled to appear in a forthcoming issue, the article, entitled "The Chemical Heart Demonstration as a Dynamic Nucleus Model," describes a fascinating phenomenon which occurs when a pool of mercury is treated with certain chemicals and then touched with a sharpened piece of iron, such as a common nail.

QUIVERS

When probed with iron, the mercury first quivers and then begins to pulsate in a weird manner. Powers says the observer can easily imagine the violent behavior as representative of what might be occurring when an unstable atomic nucleus captures a neutron.

Powers says that "models" in general, and models of atomic of nuclear phenomena in particular, should be used with great caution lest the student acquire a too-literal impression. However, such models may have certain pedagogical advantages.

Dr. Joseph E. Smith, chairman of the Physical Science Department at Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, Ark., is co-author of the article.

Prussia, the beautiful Sudetenland, the Germans in the Baltic lands. We call on Austria, torn from us by enemy hands, on our brothers in south Tirol (Italy). We greet our brothers and sisters in middle (East) Germany and tell them one day we will be reunited in a new German Reich. Our claim to German land is eternal.

JOAN BLONDELL

Joan Blondell Will Be Star In Play Here

The stage is a natural for Joan Blondell who will star in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," which is being brought to Monroe by the Northeast State Concerts Association. The play is set for March 5 at Neville High School Auditorium with curtain time at 8:15 p.m.

A New Yorker by birth, Miss Blondell has been appearing before audiences since she was three years old.

She left with her parents for a European vaudeville tour and became an addition to the comedy duet, a husband and wife team, that completed a successful run in Europe and went on to Australia and China. Her three-year old charm won the hearts of the toughest customers, and after enjoying two years of applause, Joan returned to America with her parents.

VAUDEVILLE Joan Blondell gained valuable experience in those years of vaudeville. The period proved a great teacher of the fine art of entertaining. Her exact timing and awareness of audience attitudes are proof of her apprenticeship. A major "trick of the trade" which the star puts to good use every time. Miss Blondell graduated from vaudeville to the legitimate stage under George Kaufman's guidance. She went on to greater recognition in "Penny Arcade" in which a mother younger, James Cagney, was trying his acting skills. Next followed "Tarnished" with Bette Davis. Hollywood began to take notice of the pretty blonde girl, and after appearing in "Maggie the Magnificent," she went to California.

There she established herself as a top-drawer actress and comedienne. Her performances in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and "The Blue Veil" earned her Academy Award nominations. Back on Broadway season before last, she starred with Art Carney and Sloban McKenna in "The Rope Dancers." Brooks Atkinson purred "Joan Blondell gives a wonderful performance."

CHEVY'S GOT THE JUMP

ON ALL OTHER LOW-PRICED CARS

It's plain to see that Chevy holds the whip hand under the hood. You get a choice of seven engines and five transmissions—the widest in the industry—to satisfy the most finicky driver. And all of Chevrolet's popular engines have an automatic choke, a positive-shift starter, oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters and dozens of other engineering refinements. Let's lift the hood and take an engineer's look at Chevrolet's standard V8—and see all the extras you get at no extra cost:

1. Positive-shift starter—engages gently and stays engaged until engine is going, to eliminate gas-wasting false starts.
2. Forged steel crankshaft—Chevy builds the backbone of your engine extra strong, for extra long life.
3. Hydraulic valve lifters—oil-hushed for quieter operation, they absolutely eliminate periodic tappet adjustments.
4. Automatic choke—combines economy and convenience by cutting in automatically when you need it, cutting out automatically when you don't.
5. Built-in carburetor filter—designed for trouble-free fuel filtration, it's easily accessible for cleaning and never needs replacing.
6. Economy-contoured camshaft—with this and other gas-saving refinements, Chevy's Economy Turbo-Fire V8 gets up to 10% more miles on a gallon.
7. Top performance on regular gas—economy-minded engineering also gives you Chevy's famous "git" on regular-grade fuel.
8. Short stroke for less wear—life of moving parts is lengthened by shortest V8 piston stroke in the industry.
9. Advanced lightweight design—compact 283-cubic-inch design, with aircraft-type valve system, gives you Chevy's lusty lean-muscled efficiency.
10. 4,000-mile oil change—long engine life with less maintenance.
11. 4-quart oil refill—another way Chevy cuts your cost per mile.
12. Easy adjustment for engine tuning—your serviceman will appreciate this one as much as you; Chevy's V8 distributor points can be set while the engine is running for more precise tuning.
13. Waterproof electrical system—spark plugs, distributor and coil are sealed against moisture for surer starts.
14. Precision balanced for smooth performance—basic engine components are balanced both individually and as a unit for hushed, silk-smooth operation.

Missionaries

From Brazil To Speak Here
The Lakeshore Baptist Congregation and friends will hear the Reverend and Mrs. Tom Clink scales at 10:45 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. today. The missionaries will bring messages concerning their work in the state of Parana in South Brazil. Rev. Vester Headrick, pastor, announced.

Appointed by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1941, the Clink scales serve in North Parana in a coffee producing area. In recent years many thousands of Brazilians from other sections of the country have moved into that area.

The Baptist work in North Parana, under the leadership of Tom Clink scales and Harvey Headrick, a fellow missionary, continues to lead other sections of their state in growth as well as in organizational development and efficiency. Missionary Clink scales said that last year the states 57 churches with about 6,000 members baptized, 805 converts, during the year.

THE HOME SHIFT

Planting Can Wait A Month

By MILDRED SWIFT

The cold, wet weather continues so it seems much of our planting will necessarily have to be done in March. This is fine for balled and burlapped plants but watch the deciduous ones. Be sure to get those bare root plants moved before they put on leaves. It's too great a shock after the plant has put out.

There are two types of bottle brush, the wide leaf and the narrow leaf. The wide leaf is the most spectacular bloomer, but the narrow leaf is the hearty one we need to use in north Louisiana. The flower is crimson and in shape looks exactly like the brush you use to clean a bottle—thus its name. They grow four to six feet tall. Several of these planted in a row make a pretty picture especially if you have a well colored brick house.

In our daffodil bulletin the author says: "Sometime when bulb blossoms are cut, some leaves are also cut to add some green to an arrangement. This is definitely injurious to the plant." The leaves manufacture food to store in the bulb for next year's bloom. That's why we do not cut or now the tops down after the bulbs have ceased blooming.

WRONG NAME

If you go to the nursery and ask for a tulip tree, you'll get a plant that will grow into a large shade tree, will have chartreuse flat blooms in April. Very beautiful and this member of the poplar family makes a nice shade tree.

The plant that has the tulip shaped blooms in a Japanese Magnolia and there are many varieties. These will bloom in early March. They make a startling picture with the naked small tree covered with purple blossoms (or white).

The star magnolias are trying to bloom but the cold keeps biting them. This happens so often that sometimes it hardly seems worth while planting this variety, unless you have a large property and plenty of room for everything else you want — or is there a garden large enough to plant "toss" women want?

Sweet alyssum has been a garden favorite for years. It is free flowering over a long season and one of our easiest flowers to grow. It does well in most any soil. Sow seed where they are to stay if possible. However they can be transplanted.

The colors are white, blue and pink. It is said that sweet alyssum may be planted any month of the year. There are about nine varieties. There's a very rare yellow and one with gray foliage. The seed of these two are not really available.

Flower arrangers have little use for alyssum. As a cut flower it is insignificant and doesn't hold up. But as a ground cover in your garden it is a never to be forgotten sight.

Plant nasturtium seed as soon as the ground is dry enough. This also is a dainty flower that gives bright color in the garden. Remember they die when the hot sun comes.

REMEMINDERS

For ready, movable color in your garden and around your house, grow a few annuals in pots. You can shift the pots of flowers to the porch or the patio for special occasions. Or — you can use them to fill in the border where Dwarf Gardenias, 75c; Rose Bushes, No. 1, each, 75c; Dwarf Holly, each, 75c; Dwarf Nelly, each, 65c; Azaleas, each, 65c; Monkey Grass, each, 60c; Liriope, each, 60c; Forsythia, each, 75c; Flowering Quince, 75c; Sweet Olives, each, 75c. Also a nice selection of other trees and shrubs. Come look before you buy.

STAMP NEWS

A dramatic illustration depicting a family facing down a dark corridor toward a bright exit will be the central design of the U. S. 4-cent "World Refugee Year" stamp. It will be placed on sale April 7 in Washington, D. C. The purpose is to symbolize escape from the darkness of want and oppression of the many refugees throughout the world into the brightness of a new life.

Says Postmaster General Summerfield: "Issuance of this stamp will serve not only as still another confirmation of this country's long tradition of regard for, and aid to, the world's homeless and destitute, but will also point up in a most graphic manner the importance which the United States, its president, and its people attach to World Refugee Year."

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the stamp may send their addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 4-cent World Refugee Year Stamp."

Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue, Volume 1, The Americas and the British Commonwealth (1960) has arrived on the market simultaneously with the U. S. Stamp Catalogue Specialized (1960). The U. S. catalogue includes: First Day Covers, "R. F." Overprints, Locals, Postage Currency, Postal Cards, Postal Savings Proofs, Revenue Stamp Paper, Specimens and Telegraph Stamps. Also Air Post and Revenue which are listed in the Standard Catalogue.

A philatelic report from Italy reveals that the Italian Council of Ministers has approved several stamps for issuance this year. The stamps commemorate the following: 35th anniversary of the death of Michelangelo, centenary of the birth of Vittorio Bottego, 15th anniversary of the birth of Camillo Cavour, third centenary of the death of St. Vincent of Paula, centenary of Garibaldi's "Expedition of the Thousand," International Refugee Day, Europa 1960, and the Rome Olympics.

The U. S. post office department has announced a number of details concerning the five remaining "Credo" stamps.

From the viewpoint of fineness, the most important is the changing of the issuance date of the 4-cent Benjamin Franklin stamp from March 23 to March 31. First day ceremonies will be held at the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

The 4-cent Jefferson will be released on May 13 at Monticello, Va. The 4-cent Francis Scott Key is scheduled for Sept. 14 at Baltimore, Md. The 4-cent Lincoln will come in November on a day and site to be announced later.

Completing the group of the "Credo" stamps will be the 4-cent Patrick Henry scheduled for early in 1961.

France has issued a new set of seven "Tourist" stamps. Hoped locations are Cathedral of Leon, Pougues Chateau, Kerraat Gorge, Tlemcen Mosque, La Sioule Valley, Chaumont Viaduct, and View of Reunion.

at the role of the senior senator from Illinois in "Advise and Consent," a dramatization of the Alton Drury novel which is expected on Broadway in October.

GETTING TO BROADWAY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sweet Love Remember'd," which was canceled in trout when Margaret Sullivan died, will start another pre-Broadway tour in the fall. It probably will have an all new cast because the players in the original trout are headed for other roles.

"Model," the Thomas W. Phipps play which closed in Boston after 13 performances in a trout tour will make another try for Broadway with new players. Stephen McKenna, Myron McCormick and Vicki Cummings played leads in the first folded version.

The fringe tree (Chionochloa virginica) is another beautiful tree to add to your landscape. Just when the dogwood is shedding its blossoms, this tree hangs out its long white "fringes." Because of its odd appearance, children call it "Grandfather gray beard." It is charming in spring and equally beautiful in fall, when the leaves turn light yellow, and it is hung with drooping clusters of blue berries.

Camera Notes

AN EMOTION-PACKED INSTANT can be caught by an alert photographer only if his camera is handy and ready to shoot. That's how Don Desfor of Long Beach, Calif., recorded this reunion after the child's rescue.

A recent incident gave new meaning to the phrase "a picture is worth a thousand words."

1. Photography links families thousands of miles apart.
2. Have your camera always ready for instant shooting.
The double lesson was pointed up when a picture reached my desk in the New York office of The Associated Press. It was a Wirephoto from Long Beach, Calif., showing a child clinging to a fearful woman. The caption: "Child Safe After Wild Ride. Five-year-old Vivian Hampton is reunited with her weeping baby-sitter, Shirley Poynton, 37, after the child escaped unhurt in a wild chase and auto crash here. Don Desfor, assistant to the president of Cerritos College here, witnessed the incident in which a pursued shoplifter forced Miss Poynton from her car and sped away with Vivian in the back seat. Desfor joined the pursuit and got this picture of the reunion after the fleeing car hit a tree. The thief escaped."

The picture was an unexpected, exciting link with my son, Don, thousands of miles away, but it triggered a series of questions: How did it happen? How did he get the picture? And why did he let the thief get away?

Here is Don's account: "I was near my office on the edge of the campus just off a city thoroughfare. I heard a commotion on the street and turned to see a woman fall on the pavement. A station wagon bolted away. I ran to help her but a nearby car reached her first and I heard her yell, 'He's got the little girl.'"

"I raced for my car to give other cars a brief look at my office and told my secretary to alert the police and a friend on the local newspaper."

"Then I took off in the direction of the fleeing station wagon. It soon became evident I was on a cold trail but the police radio alerted me to my rescue. I saw a sheriff's car and in it was the woman who had been thrown to the street. I followed it."

"I carry two 4x5 press cameras in the car at all times. One, with a 90mm wide-angle lens, is in a small open camera bag on the floor of the car. The other, with a 135mm lens, is on the seat of the car covered with a black cloth to protect and hide it. This one is prepared for shooting at 1/100th of a second at f22 and focused at 10 feet."

"When I reached the damaged station wagon by following the sheriff's car, I grabbed the camera bag and the open camera. In a second I had cocked the shutter and pulled out the film slide and was ready for the emotion-packed reunion between the little girl and the woman."

"Police men and bystanders closed in and I noticed the friend, Dave Emery, a reporter-photographer for our local newspaper. He was snapping away with a 35mm camera and interviewing the woman and policeman. I was able to take two more pictures."

"I turned over my camera to Emery who processed them. Next morning he called and said that my first instinctive shot turned out to be best of all. 'There it was on the front page with a credit line. The picture was then turned over to the Associated Press.'"

In a postscript, my son explained why the thief got away. "P. S. He commandeered another car after crashing the station wagon and escaped before the police and pursuers got to him. It shows to what lengths some fellows will go to avoid having their portrait taken."

World Premiere Of New Type TV Is Staged

TORONTO (UPI)—The world premiere of a pay-as-you-watch television was staged here Friday night.

About 2,000 families dropped a dollar each into coin boxes attached to their TV sets and then chose between two movies and a sports event for their evening entertainment.

The programs were uninterrupted by commercials, station breaks or other announcements. The movies ran from start to finish just like in a theater.

"The Theater in the Home" system was launched by Trans Canada Television, a division of Canada's largest theater chain, Famous Players Canadian Corp., Ltd. The system is operated under a franchise from International Telefilm Co., a division of Paramount Pictures Corp.

Telefilm said the system had been under development since 1951 and was tested experimentally in Palm Springs, Calif., in 1953. But Friday night's programs marked the premiere of its full-scale commercial coin-operated TV.

Etobicoke Township, in western Toronto, was selected for the debut because Telefilm officials found in a survey that it was "the toughest district to sell any where."

Only 2,000 of 40,000 set owners in the section were willing to pay the 15 required for installing a coin box on a TV set. But new units are being installed at a rate of about 300 a week in the area.

The first audiences to sit back and watch pay-as-you-go TV from their easy chairs had a choice between the movie version of Jules Verne's "Journey to the Center of the Earth," or "The Nun's Story." A third channel offered a sports event.

The toll-TV system works in such a way that it takes a dollar's worth of coins to unscramble the TV signals for an entire movie. If a person puts only a fraction of a dollar into the coin box, a show is automatically switched off when the money runs out.

Another foreign flavor for supermarket shoppers, seasoned wheat pilaf, formerly distributed only through delicatessens and fancy food stores, is going into neighborhood groceries. A 14-ounce, eight-serving package of cracked wheat may be prepared with or without packets of special seasoning enclosed.

Crib mattresses can be cushioned and protected by a new pad, quilted with a layer of dacron polyester fiberfill. The pad cushions the mattress without sacrificing firmness and can be washed and dried by hand or machine without matting or becoming lumpy. Standard crib and bassinet sizes are covered in white percale, quilted with nylon thread.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Treatment For Frozen Shrubs

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Late winter snow and ice storms have always done a lot of damage to trees and shrubs in the South. The weight of sleet bends the evergreens down and splits trees apart. Worst of all, warmer weather after the freeze is almost invariably brought in on a gale which makes mince meat out of the heavily laden boughs and limbs.

SPRINKLER

About the safest way to release a fine shrub from ice is to put the sprinkler on it just as soon as the temperature rises above freezing. The water from the sprinkler will remove the ice gradually without breaking twigs and leaves off as you do when you try to shake ice off your bushes.

After shrubs have been bent over, they should be staked immediately in their natural position. Do this just as soon as the ice is off. If you wait, your plants may never recover. In a very short time, the sap will begin to flow again and growth will be under way. If the stems can be held in place by staking, the new growth will correct the damage and usually stakes and support can be removed by summer. Left bent over, your shrubs will literally grow that way.

Sleet storms usually show up the need for sensible pruning. Shrubs and trees that become too top-heavy or too heavy on one side need to be balanced from time to time. You can easily see this condition and remedy it by regular pruning. As we said in a former column about pruning, each tree and shrub has its own particular kind of structure. Prune with an eye to keeping this structure.

CLEAN SWEEP

Frequently, sleet storms remove from the scene a lot of hideous ratty looking evergreens that should have been long since burned up. Life is too short to spend much of it looking at such monstrosities. We now have available a host of beautiful kinds of shrubs and trees in Southern nurseries that can easily replace specimens of ill-shaped and sickly shrubs. The dense, strong twigs and limbs of Japanese hollies stand up to sleet better than boxwood. Raphiolepis and the dwarf Hinoki cypress have natural structures that stand up well under ice and snow.

Before you decide to take down a fine old shade tree that has been damaged in a winter storm, call in a tree surgeon. You may be able to save your shade tree at less cost than taking it down would put you to. Large trees can be very expensive to remove. Especially where the removal has to be done by taking them down piece by piece, it is often cheaper to give trees top-heavy or too heavy on one side need to be balanced from

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Rayville Club Holds Showing

By MARY JARDINE

This week's show at the center was staged by the Rayville Garden Club of Rayville. This is a new club, this is their first show at the center, and we are happy to say they staged a beautiful show.

CRESCENT

Mrs. Jeanette Gilbert won first place with a lovely crescent arrangement. In a black composite type ceramic container, she first established the crescent line with a Scotch broom in the green space. In the focal area, she used fully opened blooms of red Anemone, letting the smaller blooms and buds follow the line of the Scotch broom giving nice transition. She has achieved contrast in form, color and texture with her use of the round forms of the anemone and slender lines of Scotch brooms, with filler material of the finer cut foliage of the anemone.

The color combination of red, black and green is very pleasing. A black base was used to add strength and stability.

Mrs. James Whitman's second place arrangement was also a crescent design, using the Scotch broom for the line material. She completed her lines with rose pink snapdragons, letting the green bud tips extend upward with the Scotch broom, and using a few light pink chrysanthemums at the center of interest.

Mrs. Whitman used a large seashell container that blends nicely with the pink flowers, and this is set on a black wooden base. Both these arrangements are excellent crescent designs.

BLUE BOWL
Mrs. Hollis Venable chose for her container a lovely blue bowl with a fluted edge in yellow. The container has a glazed finish and this is placed on a glazed black base. Her beautiful design is done with the beautiful King Alfred daffodils, with lines created by the use of forsythia and small clipped pine branches. Placed counted for $25 million in sales, reported Chemical Week. That was 77 per cent of the $10 million yearly fragrance market.

Three new shortcuts to a spaghetti dinner are on the market. Two are canned tomato sauces — one with meat (beef and bacon) the other with meat (beef and bacon). The third is spaghetti and hot dogs in tomato sauce.

When redecorating the home, give the children a place of their own, says Evelyn Jablow, an interior designer. A child's room should suit his tastes and hobbies and make him feel important. Put special things — a good piece of furniture, a fine painting — in his room so that he will learn to take pride in himself and his possessions and to take care of them, Mrs. Jablow added.

low to conceal the holder are a few leaves of the strawberry begonia. A very pleasing arrangement with the fresh look of spring.

Mrs. Carey Ellis, Jr. used the lovely pinkish brown seed pods of the Golden Rain Tree for her triangle design. The texture of these seed pods is perfect with the container of brass she selected. The container is a chocolate pot from South America and she placed this on a brown burl with a God of Mirth figurine as an accessory, making an unusual and interesting arrangement.

In the horticulture division, Mrs. Julia Menning entered a red emperor tulip that was quite striking, and a lavender Anemone. Mrs. G. T. Cannon entered three varieties of daffodils, the Golden Harvest, the Fortune and Unsurpassable. All these are good daffodils to grow in this locality.

Local College Adopts New Traffic Plan

Northwest Louisiana State College students begin registering their cars Monday under a new traffic plan adopted by the college.

The plan includes establishment of numbered zones for student, faculty and staff parking.

Students may register Monday through Wednesday in Brown Hall Auditorium lobby and pick up their car decals there.

The college requires that all motor vehicles—autos, motor bikes, scooters, etc. — operated by persons connected with North Louisiana State College be registered.

Faculty and staff at Northwest registered their cars Friday and Saturday in the opening stage of the new plan.

Dr. Fred J. Vogel, dean of student services, said warning tickets would be issued to violators next Thursday through Saturday. Tickets issued Monday, March 7, and thereafter will carry a $1 fine.

RESERVOIR SPRINGS A LEAK

CUSHING, Okla. (UPD) — Cushing's 40-year-old reservoir sprang a leak, spilling about 50,000 gallons of water a day on a hill at the city's west side.

City engineer A. C. Lock Jr. assured residents there was no danger of flooding and, thanks to a new standby storage unit, no need to worry about a water shortage.

problem. Benson didn't expect an answer. Nor did he get one.

If he seemed hopeful then of prodding Congress to stem the multibillion-dollar flow of farm subsidies—and curb the huge crop surpluses stimulated by federal aid—Benson today has few such illusions.

Steered to political realities by seven years in office, the 60-year-old secretary of agriculture can only shake his head, ruefully, at the never-ending paradox of U.S. taxpayers staggering under the burden of mountaintop farm surpluses in a hungry world.

President Eisenhower, in a personal message to Congress on Feb. 2, urged the lawmakers to act "swiftly to halt snowballing surpluses."

Eisenhower said it is now costing the nation's taxpayers $1,000 a minute to support wheat prices alone.

"If our government does not act quickly, the danger is very real that this entire program will collapse under pressure of public indignation," he warned Congress.

Benson believes that if farmers were left alone, without federal interference, they would quickly adjust their crop production to conform with the law of supply and demand.

"We must get the government off the backs of farmers and eliminate ineffective acreage controls and artificial price-fixing carried over from days of war and depression," the secretary says.

But some farm leaders contend that if price supports were scrapped, it would drive food prices sky-high and cost the American housewife far more than the tax bite of federal price supports.

"Mr. Benson's only solution is to let farm prices go down until enough farmers are starved off the farm so that production will adjust itself to demand," says Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. When Benson, testifying on Capitol Hill, insisted that 80 per cent of the nation's farmers want more freedom and less federal "regimentation," Cooley replied: "The farmers were free in 1932 and we had starvation prices."

To Benson, the overriding concern is the apparently fatality of spending billions of dollars on what he regards as a hopeless cause.

"Agriculture is undergoing a technological revolution and it is irreversible," he says. "It cannot be controlled by government mandate."

But farm - belt lawmakers, spurred on by farm pressure groups, seem as determined as ever to keep the federal aid pot boiling.

Illusory or not, many politicians still regard the farm vote as powerful enough to tip the scales in a close election. This is true despite the farm population decline from 32 million in 1920 to 16 million today.

On the other hand, some political bigwigs are beginning to think the importance of the farm vote may be exaggerated. They see the voice of the city becoming ever more potent and city dwellers taking a dim view of paying tax dollars to provide whopping farm subsidies.

The government, says Benson, has lost more than 20 billion dollars since 1933 in attempting to stabilize farm prices and income.

This year alone it will cost nearly four billion dollars for various farm subsidy programs. Yet farm prices at the end of 1959 sagged to the lowest level in nearly two decades.

Through the years, under Democratic and Republican administrations alike, critics have assailed the federal farm program as "Cockeyed. Bankrupt. A colossal failure. Outlandish. Crazy. Ruinous. This terrible mess."

MIDWAY

Burkhart Shows will be on the midway each day, Monday through Friday.

Animals will leave Friday morning for the Louisiana State University livestock show in Baton Rouge. Animals not being entered in Baton Rouge may stay on at the Delhi show area through Friday.

1959 Stock Show Sales Are Reviewed

DELHI — The 1959 Grand Champion fat steer was sold for $1 per pound at the conclusion of the Northeast Louisiana Livestock Show. The animal belonged to a Lake Providence youth, Dick Shepherd.

The sale was the final event of the 19th annual Livestock event. This year's edition of the show will swing into action here tomorrow.

The top price was paid by eight of Dick's hometown businesses who banded together to assure their boy's entrant of a top sale price.

TOP WEIGHT

His animal weighed in at 970 pounds.

Ike Hamilton, well-known Louisiana auctioneer, called off the bids.

Alan Cochran of Rayville received a bid of $2.25 for his champion, 90-pound lamb.

The grand champion pig, a 195-pounder, brought Eddie Rugg of Downsville $2 per pound.

This year, the sale will once again follow the livestock show, and will be conducted Thursday.

The eight Lake Providence merchants who purchased Dick's animal last year were the Banner-Democrat, D. C. Butliff, the Tri-State Stockyard, the Eudora Livestock Auction, Abney Motor and Implement Co., First National Bank of Lake Providence, the Lake Providence Bank and White's Motel and Restaurant.

Alan Cochran's lamb was bought by John L. Land of Tallulah.

Mrs. Mavis Bryan, as is her custom, paid the premium price for Eddie Rugg's hog.

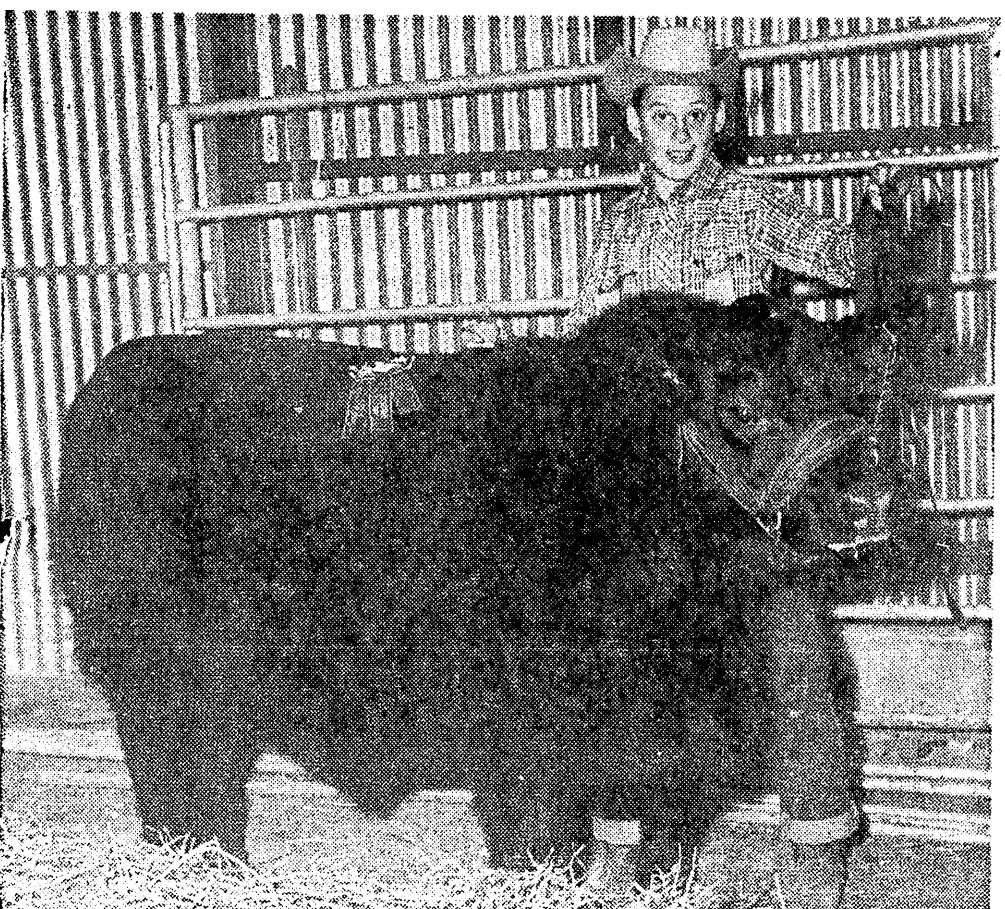

Social Security Offices To Make Move In Monroe

Beginning Monday, February 29, the Social Security Office will be open for business at its new location at 607 North Third Street here in Monroe. J. Dodd Brooks, manager of the Social Security Office announced that the move from the old location at 229 Grammont Street will be completed over the weekend and that business would be conducted as usual on Monday morning at the new location.

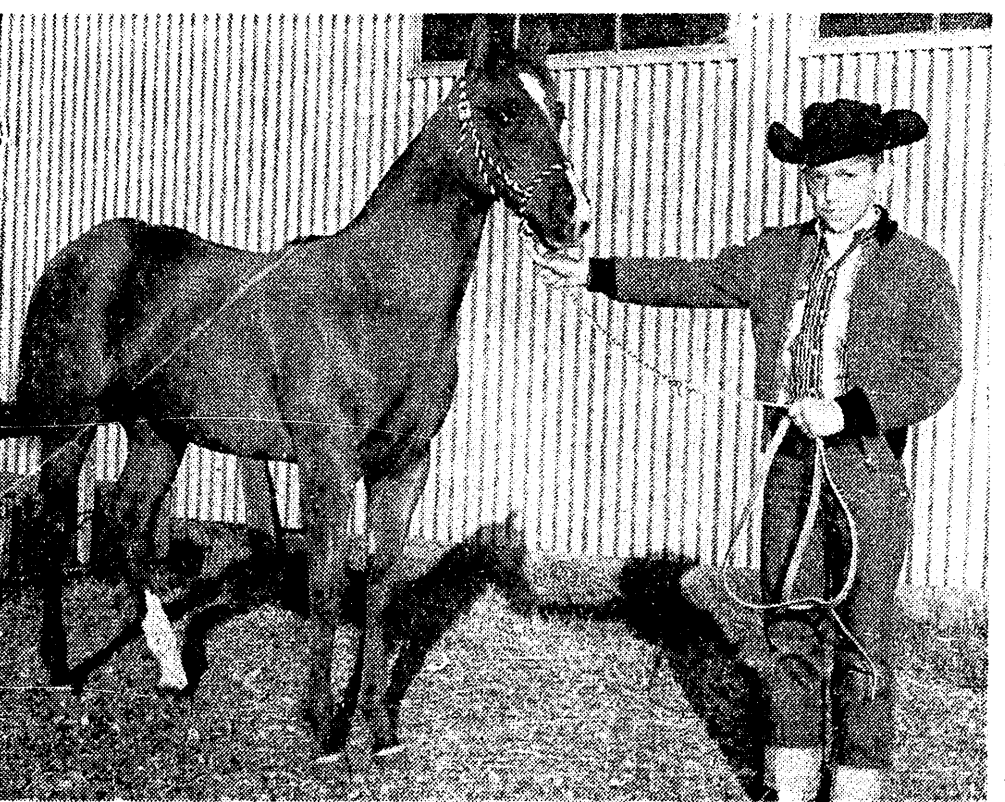

To help the public in locating the office, Brooks explained that it is in the Brice Building on Third Street next to the A and P Store.

The new and larger quarters will make it possible to give better service to the public, Brooks added.

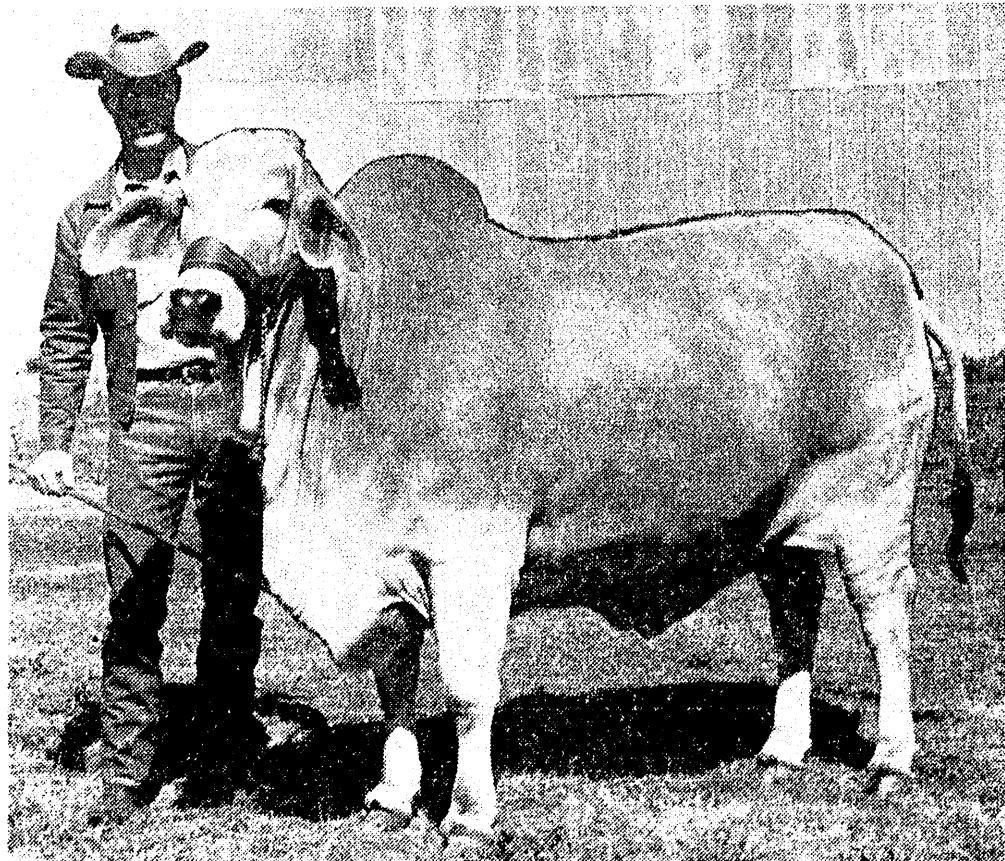

Luigi Pirandello, author of "Six Characters In Search of an Author," died in 1936.

King Leading His Race Into Trouble

By NEIL GILBRIDE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—"Integration is an unstoppable movement," says the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., preacher of passive resistance in a spreading southwest series of Negro sitdown protests.

The controversial young Negro minister of Montgomery, Ala., has been plunged into the latest integration movement the day before his arrest on Alabama perjury charges.

"Fill up the jails of the South. Arouse the dozing conscience of our nation," he urged Negro students staging sitdown demonstrations at segregated lunch counters in at least four states. Dozens of Negroes were arrested for trespassing and disturbing the peace. In Chattanooga, Tenn., a Negro demonstration against segregated lunch counters led to a free-for-all fight Tuesday between white and Negro youths. The following day a tense crowd of several thousand white and Negroes were scattered with fire hoses in uptown Chattanooga.

The new campaign spread from North Carolina and Virginia to Washington, D.C., Tennessee and Florida. King said Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana would be next.

"This may well be the beginning of a full-scale assault on segregation," he said.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook called it madness, and warned that organized, violent retaliation as well as the full resources of the state, may meet any such Negro demonstrations in Georgia.

Violence is an old story for the 31-year-old King, who moved to the forefront of the integration battle preaching what he called the light of love as the only answer to racial hate. He has known almost constant personal strife since 1954, the year of the historic U.S. Supreme Court school desegregation decision, when he went to Montgomery, Ala., as an obscure Baptist pastor.

Five years later, after leading Montgomery Negroes to a bitter victory against segregated seating on city buses, he was considered a religious figure of such world renown that he was invited to India to confer with disciples of Mahatma Gandhi.

King said he will not fight Alabama's action to take him back for trial on charges of lying about $27,000 in alleged unreported income for 1956 and 1958.

Nor will it dampen his enthusiasm for the Negro cause of civil rights, he said.

"I am meeting this situation with the same spirit and attitude that I did in all the others (he has been arrested several times). I will not respond with bitterness. I will not respond with an internal sense of defeat."

It was disclosed Wednesday that King had paid the tax on the disputed $27,000, but King, on a speaking tour on the West Coast, said he had done so under strong protest. The perjury indictment against King still stands.

Close associates credit King with talking angry Negroes out of retaliating with violence against white segregationists after Negro homes and churches were bombed in Montgomery. King's home there was bombed and his front door blasted with a shotgun. After the U.S. Supreme Court ruled against bus segregation, 12 sticks of dynamite were found under his front porch.

King's only violent injury came at the hands of a Negro woman, who stabbed him in the shoulder with a nail file as he was autographing copies of his book, "Stride Toward Freedom," in a Harlem department store in New York two years ago. Authorities said the woman was demented.

King's nonviolent approach to integration attempts has brought him many honors, including degrees from five colleges and numerous citizenship awards.

It has also brought him the enmity of segregationists. Even some Negroes criticize him, for pushing integration too fast or too slow.

King moved to an undisclosed address in Atlanta early in February with his wife, the former Coretta Scott of Marion, Ala., whom he met as a fellow student at Boston University. They have two children, Yolande Denise, 4, and Martin Luther III, 2.

King was born near the Ebenezer Baptist church in Atlanta which he now serves as copastor with his father. After an Atlanta public school education, he graduated from Morehouse College in 1948, from Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pa., in 1951, then studied at the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard.

Like the integration movement itself, King says, nothing will stop his attempt to give it what he calls a proper Christian and moral sense of direction.

"I will go on with the conviction that unearned suffering is redemptive," he said.

Abandoned Infant Dies With Sisters

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two little girls were sighted on a street Friday carrying the body of their infant sister and one told officers they were searching for a funeral home.

The girls, 13 and 8, said they had been alone at home with two other brothers and sisters since their mother left several days ago to buy groceries.

Detective E. B. Meals said the infant apparently died Wednesday from exposure and malnutrition. He said the 13-year-old told him she gave the baby a bath, dressed her in fresh clothing and started the hunt for a funeral home.

Meals said whereabouts of the parents was not yet known.

G. L. Emmett, Youth Bureau officer, said the children's father had not reported to work since Feb. 13. He was employed at nearby Yukin by a motor company.

Meals quoted the older girl as saying, "I'd been saving the baby something to eat and she hadn't waked up."

The girl told Meals she had been ordered by her parents not to accept aid from anyone. She said she had told no one of the trouble.

She said she had fed the other children on pie crust for two days.

A woman picked up by police in the area on Feb. 15 was sent to a hospital for observation. Meals said, adding that she would not talk to anyone or identify herself.

Other entries are expected in this class which will be submitted through local county agents.

Churches Here Note Beginning Of Lent Season

Catholic and Episcopal churches in Monroe and West Monroe prepared to open the occasion of Lent with services for the distribution of ashes on the occasion of Ash Wednesday this week.

The Rev. Michael G. Hannon, pastor of St. Joseph's Church on Benton Street, points out that on Ash Wednesday, "the church reminds her children of the passing of this earthly life, and the necessity of living a life of humility, prayer and penance." Up to the year 1091 A. D., the church reserved this ceremony for public sinners only.

But in that year, Pope Urban the Sixth required all Christians to wear ashes as an acknowledgment of their sins and of their willingness to observe the spirit and practice of Lent, Father Hannon said.

"The rite will be carried out in St. Joseph's parish at 6:30 on East Cape, Siberia, is only 56 miles from Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska.

Sources Declare New Iran Queen Not Expecting

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranian court authorities said today they had no official confirmation that young Queen Farah is expecting a baby.

Reports from Karachi Friday said that a royal child was expected in late October or early November.

The 21-year-old Queen and her husband, the Shah, were returning to Iran today from a week-long state visit to Pakistan.

Court attaches in Tehran said the royal couple is expected to spend four days in Abadan before returning to Tehran. They added they did not expect definite information on Farah's condition until the royal couple returns here.

Two days ago, Farah cancelled her engagements after suffering fits of giddiness in Lahore, Pakistan.

JUDGE RAY HARRISON

He Was An Alcoholic Once; Goes Easy On Drunks

By DAN PERKES
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The usual parade of morning-after drunks came shuffling into court. Many had been there before. Many would return.

Municipal Judge Ray Harrison, rolling an unlighted cigar between his teeth, looked down at the first case—a small unkempt, unshaven man. He had seen the same man the night before.

"You were trying to take down a telephone pole," said the judge. "You were really drunk."

"Yep," said the little man. "It was wine, six bottles of it. He added proudly: 'But I called the law myself.'"

The judge smiled a little. "Five days suspended. Try coffee next time."

After the last case was dispatched, Judge Harrison leaned back in his chair, lighted his cigar—one of 16 he smokes daily—and sighed.

He recalled his earlier years when he was a problem alcoholic himself and walked a path littered with broken whiskey bottles. He remembered his own rehabilitation, which, he says, "took me out of the bottle and put me on the bench."

The judge admits he is perhaps a bit lenient toward the drunk in court.

But he has used his personal knowledge of the habitual drinker to build what experts on drinking and drunks call an outstanding reputation in rehabilitating the chronic inebriate.

Some of his practices, which include a weekly honor class for alcoholics where they bare their troubles, have been picked up by other cities—Chicago, Denver, Kansas City, Miami.

"The class," he says, "is a kind of kindergarten for the drunkard. It's the first step between the jailhouse and Alcoholics Anonymous."

The 57-year-old jurist was born in Clinton, Iowa, the son of an Irish printer.

The family moved to Des Moines when he was 4. He obtained his law degree from Drake University. It was while he was attending Drake, the judge says, that the drinking started. Perhaps it was a product of the times—the prohibition era.

"But I don't blame anyone or anything for my drinking," Harrison says. "I think I was an alcoholic from the time I had my first drink. I didn't even like the taste of booze."

He left for Yale to do post-graduate work in law, then returned to Des Moines to practice. He eventually became county prosecutor, but his drinking landed him in his own jail 18 times.

He tells of the time when he was taken to a Des Moines hospital after walking the streets drunk and without his pants.

"What a way for a Yale man to be running around town," the judge says.

Harrison says he took his last shot of whisky on Aug. 14, 1943. He was helped by a man whom he had once prosecuted for drinking. That man, the judge says, came from Omaha to help him with his problem.

Since that time, Harrison has turned his energy to helping those in similar straits, recognizing that "alcoholism is a vicious thing—the most insidious of all diseases."

"You can't condemn these people for drinking," he says. "And you have to find out why they're drinking before you can start helping them."

Frequently, Judge Harrison will sentence a chronic drunk to a few days in jail "just to keep him off the streets."

"You can talk rehabilitation to a man all night," he says, "but if you send him back on the street and into the cold with no food or proper clothing you can expect him to hit the bottle again."

Harrison became a judge in March 1956, when he was appointed by former Gov. Leo Hoegh to fill a vacancy on the municipal court bench. He ran for a full term in 1958 and received more than 35,000 of the 40,000 votes cast. He gets $8,000 a year.

Several years before—in 1949—he received the Des Moines Tribune community service award for his work with drunks.

But Harrison is best known for his honor class, which numbers about 100 persons representing a cross-section of the community—school teachers, businessmen, parolers and skid row inhabitants. He started it in 1956.

The session is held in Harrison's courtroom.

"Our plan costs the city nothing but postage for letters to those people inviting them to come," he says.

"We give them clothing (which is contributed) if they need it. We help them get jobs. We counsel with them when they are frustrated and we try to sell them on 'it can be done.'"

But most of all, he says, the class gives problem drinkers "a place to sound off about their troubles."

Does the program work? Harrison says it has cut arrests for drunkenness in Des Moines by nearly 30 per cent.

At the end of each hour-long session, Harrison's wife, Dorothy, and other volunteers dispense milk and donuts. Harrison's 19-year-old son, Frank, a Drake University law student, is a frequent observer.

Harrison, who says his favorite pastimes are drinking coffee and sleeping, has his own formula for the chronic alcoholic who comes to him for advice:

"Never make a promise about never taking another drink; just promise not to drink today."

Initiation At

NE Tuesday

Twenty-seven students, faculty and alumni will become charter members Tuesday of the Northeast Louisiana State College chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, the foremost leadership society in the country.

The Gold Key Leadership Fraternity, a local group organized here four years ago, will officially become a "circle" of ODK at installation ceremonies Tuesday at 5 p.m.

BANQUET

The installation ceremonies and a 6 p.m. banquet are both scheduled at the Student Center on campus. A reception at the home of President and Mrs. George T. Walker will follow from 8 to 9 p.m.

PRESENTING

Presenting the Gold Key group is its ODK charter will be Dr. Robert W. Bishop of the University of Cincinnati. Bishop is national secretary of ODK's General Council and editor of its news magazine, the Circle.

Officers will be installed by Robert B. Ellis, registrar at the University of Mississippi and deputy of ODK's Province 5. This province takes in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Northeast's ODK circle will be the fifth in the state. Other institutions which have chapters of the national leadership society are Louisiana State University, Tulane, Centenary College and Louisiana Tech.

The local Gold Key group recently received word of its acceptance as an ODK circle from Bishop. The approval followed a petition to the national organization last spring and a visit to Northeast by Bishop.

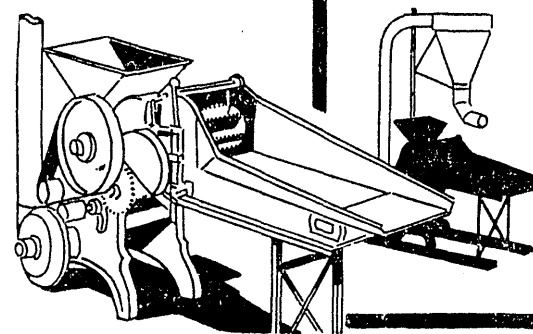

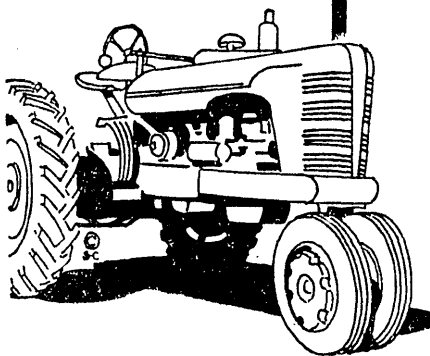

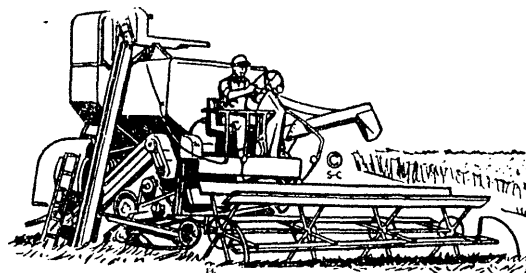

Gold Key had its beginnings in May, 1956, when 22 students became charter members and were installed at annual spring Honors Day ceremonies. The constitution and by-laws of Gold Key were patterned after ODK's from the beginning with the hope of eventual acceptance by the national organization.

SELECT-O-SPEED

TRACTOR SHIFTS ON-THE-GO

Two great advantages for tractor operators are to be found in Ford's new Select-O-Speed transmission. First is operator convenience. Using only the small selector lever (shown in insert), the tractor operator can shift to or through any of ten forward and two reverse gears without using a clutch pedal. Second advantage is the greater efficiency and economy resulting from easy selection of exactly the right gear for every job. The local Ford tractor and implement dealer invites your inspection of the Ford Select-O-Speed transmission in gold demonstration tractor now on display.

it's the ammonium nitrate that's granular!

Corn, cotton, wheat, pastureland — whatever your crop, Hi-D® is the nitrogen fertilizer to use. You'll find it better than any ammonium nitrate you ever used before.

Hi-D always flows freely! Hi-D's special granules are unusually high in density and super dry, have much less tendency to pick up moisture prior to application. You will find it most satisfactory out in the field, even under humid conditions. Hi-D doesn't gum-up, won't clog, cake or bridge in your spreader.

Hi-D has a guaranteed analysis of 33.5% nitrogen. Half of this is nitrate nitrogen for vigorous early growth. The other half is ammonia nitrogen for sustained follow-up feeding. Your crops get the two types of nitrogen they do best on!

Let Hi-D keep your crops on the grow. It's sound management. But remember, first test your soil, lime if necessary and follow with the mixed fertilizer your dealer recommends. Then add the supplementary boost of Hi-D. Ask your dealer for it by name. Hi-D—best in the land!

Nothing like this setting in North La. for sure.

500 FEET located on Bayou DeSiard where fishing is fine. 40 ft. pier. Lovely 6 room residence, 5 room apt. Only 42¢ per sq. ft. Includes 1 Extra room apt. with 1/2 bath on lower level, formerly used as office space with over 1240 sq. ft. in this section. Also 2 story 4 apt. building on property with revenue. Constructed with fine quality concrete, blocks, aluminum, windows, luulated, gutter spouts. Full of lovely trees. St. Augustine lawn, camellias, azaleas, etc. Here is your opportunity to let the world know you are here from 5 a.m. and use the basement for your business. There's an extra 350 ft. on the water that you could use for additional revenue by reselling or leasing. As I suggested, you can make a big business, etc. This sounds like a lot of money but it's not. You can assume the owners local loan of approximately $200,000 at 6 percent, pay equity or make a new loan. This is the shell of the proposition. No time, effort, and money going from your office to your home. Live here in all privacy, operate your business in part of the building and enjoy the freedom of the water. You will actually pay out

by CHIC YOUNG

I'D LIKE TO DO SOMETHING EXCITING FOR MY THIRTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY THIS WEEK.

WHY DON'T YOU AND CORA HAVE A SECOND WEDDING, BOSS?

WOULDN'T THAT BE THRILLING? RICE AND OLD SHOES AND ALL THAT ROMANTIC STUFF ALL OVER AGAIN.

WONDERFUL-- I'LL BRING BACK GOLDEN MEMORIES.

DAGWOOD, YOU'RE A GENIUS.

BLONDIE--THE BOSS AND CORA ARE GOING TO HAVE A SECOND WEDDING AT OUR HOUSE.

WE'LL TRANSFORM THE LIVING ROOM INTO A ROMANTIC LITTLE CHAPEL.

OH, I'M SO THRILLED-- I JUST LOVE WEDDINGS.

LOOK AT ALL THE FLOWERS FOR DECORATIONS.

I RENTED THESE CHAIRS FROM THE UNDERTAKER.

OKAY--THE BEST MAN IS READY.

AND THE MAID OF HONOR AND THE FLOWER GIRL.

LOOK AT THE BUFFET I HAD THE CATERERS PREPARE.

WON'T MR. DITHERS AND HIS WIFE BE EXCITED WHEN THEY SEE ALL THIS?

IS THIS WHERE THE WEDDING IS TO TAKE PLACE?

YES--THE GUESTS HAVE ALL ARRIVED AND WE'RE JUST WAITING FOR THE BRIDE AND GROOM.

DAGWOOD--CORA AND I JUST HAD A LITTLE MISUNDERSTANDING-- THE WEDDING IS OFF.

WE'LL BELIEVE ME, AFTER ALL THE TROUBLE WE'VE GONE TO, WE'RE GOING TO HAVE A WEDDING HERE TODAY.

AND, DAGWOOD, DO YOU TAKE BLONDIE FOR YOUR WIFE?

YES, HE DOES.

WHERE ARE WE GOING ON YOUR HONEYMOON, DADDY?

I DON'T KNOW YET.

DICK TRACY

WE WANT TO TALK TO YOU, HAKU.

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

WHEN LEAVING YOUR PLACE OF EMPLOYMENT LATE AT NIGHT, STAY IN A GROUP WHILE WAITING FOR YOUR BUS.

LOOK, HAKU KOU, WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE RICHEST AND MOST POWERFUL MAN IN HAWAII?

NOT THE WAY YOU DO THINGS. I WOULDN'T. YOU FELLOWS ARE BAD. GO AWAY.

LOOK, HAKU. WE'LL SET YOU UP, PROBABLY IN HONOLULU, AND START YOU OFF WITH $50,000.

YOU'RE A NATIONAL HERO. YOU KNOW EVERYBODY. WE'D SPLIT 50-50.

IT WOULD NOT WORK! THE HONOLULU POLICE CAN SMELL A GANGSTER FIVE THOUSAND MILES AWAY. THEY DO NOT LET HIM LAND.

THAT IS HAKU KOU'S VOICE.

DO YOU THINK I'M CRAZY? DO YOU THINK I WOULD ALLOW MYSELF TO BE USED TO INTRODUCE ORGANIZED CRIME INTO HAWAII?

OH, DON'T GET HIGH AND MIGHTY, HAKU! LOOK, THINK IT OVER. WE'LL BE BACK.

YOU'VE HEARD ONLY THE BEGINNING OF THE TAPE, BUT NEXT I WANT TO DRAW YOUR ATTENTION TO WHAT IS UNDOUBTEDLY THE WORLD'S SMALLEST TAPE RECORDER.

BATTERY-POWERED--THE IDOL'S MOUTH IS THE SPEAKER, AND THE EYES ARE TINY MICROPHONES.

THIS RING THAT HOLDS THE TWO TOGETHER IS ALSO THE SWITCH.

WHAT DO YOU MAKE OF IT ALL, BOYS?

EITHER HAKU KOU WAS RECORDING EVIDENCE FOR SOMEONE--OR HE'S BEEN CONDUCTING A LITTLE BLACKMAIL.

MEANWHILE--

I MEAN ABOUT HAKU KOU?

ALL I KNOW I READ IN THE PAPERS.

FIGHT TOOTH DECAY WITH COLGATE

Stop Bad Breath All Day!

TOOTH DECAY

COLGATE WITH GARDOL FORMS AN INVISIBLE DEFENSE TO HELP FIGHT TOOTH DECAY!

In two-year clinical tests, young adults who brushed with Colgate Dental Cream averaged 46% fewer new cavities than those who used a plain toothpaste.

Of course, nothing completely stops decay. But, if you'd like to have fewer cavities, start brushing regularly with Colgate Dental Cream. Because Colgate contains Gardol to form an invisible defense to help fight tooth decay. You can't see it—you can't feel it on your teeth—but it's there to help fight tooth decay.

I love that COLGATE flavor!
